WIRELESS RESCUE.

Distress Signal Is Answered.

Steamer Kentucky's Crew Is Saved from Watery Grave.

Liner Alamo Hears Flash for Help and Lends Assistance.

Navy Department Responds Promptly When It Gets Message.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Thanks again to the wireless, and the international distress signal, "S.O.S.," Capt. Moore and his crew of forty-six men are safe on board the Mallory liner Alamo, bound for Key West tonight, while their vessel, the steamer Kentucky, is at the bottom of the sea, off Cape Hatteras.

It is another case of a disaster averted by wireless, and told to the world by the same medium. The Kentucky, a wooden vessel of 896 gross tons and 203 feet long, was bound from New York to the Pacific to carry passengers between Seattle and Alaskan ports for the Alaska-Pacific Steamship Company.

The first news of the Kentucky's distress was received at the United Wireless Company station at Cape Hatteras at 11:30 this morning. There the operator heard the "S.O.S." quickly followed by this message:

"We are sinking. Our latitude is 32.16, longitude 76.30."

Almost simultaneously the operator heard the steamship Alamo respond to the Kentucky's call for help, informing Capt. Moore that the Alamo was making all speed to the sinking vessel's assistance.

Thereafter no message was received from the Kentucky, indicating that water had interfered with the power, putting her wireless apparatus out of commission.

NAVY DEPARTMENT ACTIVE.

The Navy Department at Washington in the meantime flashed wireless messages along the Atlantic Coast, dispatching the battleship Louisiana and two revenue cutters to the scene, but at 5 o'clock word came from the Alamo that she had arrived first and had taken off all hands in safety.

This is the message as received in New York by the United Wireless Company from its Cape Hatteras station:

"Latitude 32.46, longitude 76.22.—Steamship Alamo has just taken Capt. Moore and crew of forty-six men from sinking steamer Kentucky. Water had already reached fireroom, and steamer will sink before midnight. The Alamo is now proceeding to Key West."

Bad luck was the Kentucky's lot almost immediately after she left New York for her 14,000-mile journey on January 22. Good luck was her lot when the wireless instruments were the last things installed before she departed.

One hundred and fifty miles off Sandy Hook the vessel began leaking badly, but by working the pumps valiantly, Capt. Moore was able to reach Newport News with sixteen inches of Capt. "Bertie" Paget of the Horse Guards Flees to Cabin When Asked About Report That He Is Suitor for Hand of Mrs. William B. Leeds, Wealthy American Widow.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Duke and Duchess of Manchester arrived on the Mauretania today for a visit. The Duchess is the daughter of Eugene Zimmerman, the wealthy Cincinnatian, and this is her first visit to her native country since her marriage several years ago. They will return to England in about three months.

Capt. "Bertie" Paget of the Horse Guards, rumored as suitor for the hand of Mrs. William B. Leeds, arrived with his mother, Lady Paget, and her relative, Lady Lister Kaye.

Capt. "Bertie" is a member of the King's household and if Mrs. Leeds married him she could enter England's exclusive society. The captain was shocked when the subject was broached and fled to his cabin. Neither Lady Paget nor Lady Lister Kaye would be interviewed.

William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., came straight from the Paris flood. He had been in Paris for about three months.

"Oh, it was not so bad," he said. "I really suffered very little inconvenience. My hotel, the Elysee Palace, was scarcely affected at all. In the suburbs, of course, the suffering and damage to property was serious, but from my observation I gathered that the reports of damage in the central part of the city were exaggerated."

CHEATS DEATH.

HEROISM OF OPERATOR SAVES LIVES OF CREW.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAVANNAH (Ga.) Feb. 4.—One hundred miles off the South Carolina coast, the steamer Kentucky, her seams open and the sea pouring into her, awaits one of two fates.

Either she will plunge to the bottom from the weight of water that grows heavier as the minutes pass, or she will be destroyed by the revenue cutter Yamacraw that is rushing toward her, bent on sinking the steamer and so ridding the sea of a dangerous menace.

Standing on the deck of the Alamo, Capt. Moore of the Kentucky looked back at his laboring vessel and said: "She will go to the bottom before midnight."

The foundering vessel, when the Alamo reached her at 3:50 p.m., was in Latitude 32.46 and Longitude 76.42, according to a wireless message received from the rescuing steamer as she came alongside the Kentucky.

Then, bit by bit, out of the air came electric flashes to the station of the United Wireless Company at Savannah, telling of the rescue in small boats of Capt. Moore and his men.

S. O. S. IS HEARD.

First word of the plight of the Kentucky was received here at 1 o'clock this morning. The sharp call "S. O. S.," which has taken the place of the famous "C. Q. D." as the insistent call of a ship in distress, was received, and immediately the Savannah operator repeated the call. The bombardment of the call reached the Mallory liner Alamo, New York for Galveston. The Alamo put she began to send thick, black smoke from her funnels to give heart to the crew of the disabled vessel, and warning of the approach of the Alamo.

In the wireless room of the Kentucky sat Operator W. D. McGinnis, hammering away on the call for aid, and receiving the assurance that help was coming as fast as the engines of a liner and two revenue cutters could drive them. It is an evidence of his heroism that Capt. Moore, when on the Alamo, publicly thanked the operator for his work, and the rescued crew then cheered him.

The operator sat at his instrument until water, rushing in, drowned out the dynamo that enabled him to send out his signals. Then the wireless was choked and the Kentucky's crew could only wait until the vessel was found. Just as the electricity failed the first sign of smoke of the Alamo's fires was seen.

CREW IS RESCUED.

The work of transferring the crew was attended with little danger, and no one was injured. Capt. McIntosh of the Alamo learned the U.S.S. Yamacraw was rushing toward the Kentucky, and left to her the task of seeking the end of the sinking steamer.

The Kentucky, this morning, began leaking badly and Capt. Moore saw it would be useless to attempt to navigate the ship further. Then the call for aid began to go out in every direction.

Strangely enough, the Kentucky was equipped with wireless not more than two weeks ago and was on her first voyage after being equipped when the apparatus served to save the lives of all on board.

Marshall of Indiana Is the Man.

Editorial Association Urges Him as Democratic Standard Bearer.

Says Party Will Steer Clear of Liquor Legislation Entanglements.

Governor Grows Steadily in Popularity and no Rival in Sight.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Indiana Democratic Editorial Association would have the campaign of 1912 made upon the record of Gov. Marshall, and not upon the liquor question, according to the resolution adopted by the association in executive session today.

After reciting the incidents of "the firmness with which he has met every trying situation," the resolution concludes:

"He is such a man as merits the encomiums of good men of all parties, an official who is worthy of public confidence, and he would, in our judgment, be a safe and victorious leader for the Democratic party in the next Presidential campaign."

During the past few weeks there has been a trend of Democratic sentiment throughout the country in favor of Gov. Marshall as standard-bearer for the Democratic party in the next Presidential campaign, and today's action by the Indiana editors is another link in the chain being woven for his nomination.

As yet no rival has appeared in the field. Leaders of the party from various sections of the country have approved the movement by active participation and have written and telegraphed their appreciation of the sentiment favoring Indiana's favorite son.

EDITOR REVIEWS ISSUES.

Clay W. Metsker, the new president of the Indiana Democratic Editorial Association, expressed his views on the issues and the platform of the campaign as follows:

"The Democratic party, in my judgment, should stand upon the record of our splendid Governor. His record is a platform upon which every Democrat can stand. There is no necessity for our party to dig up issues that provoked bitter contentions during past campaigns, especially those issues which the Legislature has passed upon and settled.

"I realize that there are those who seek to use the Democratic party, who would make it an auxiliary to a particular interest, but these persons will find that the Democratic party will deal with all questions as they affect the public weal.

"I believe that the Supreme Court will, before another year, reverse itself upon the county local option decision, and in this conviction I see no reason for the Democratic party to take any chances by referring to liquor legislation in any way."

COMMEND CONGRESSMEN.

The resolutions adopted by the editors commend the services of Senator Shively and the Indiana Democratic members of the House of Representatives. The resolutions follow:

"As supporters of Thomas R. Marshall in his race for Governor in 1908, it is with more than ordinary pleasure we note the success of his first year's administration of the executive functions of the State. We admire the ability with which he has solved perplexing questions, the firmness with which he has met every trying situation, the honesty that has characterized the administration of public affairs and the simplicity and straightforwardness that has characterized his services as a public servant.

"He has commanded obedience to law by respectful methods. He has refused to interfere with affairs outside of the executive department of the State government. He has made the Constitution his guide in administering the affairs of the State. He has set a high standard of devotion to duty and has sought to exact from every public servant a like standard of excellence.

"His record both as a private citizen and as a public official has been wholesome and thoroughly Democratic. He is such a man as merits the encomiums of good men of all parties, an official that is worthy of public confidence, and would, in our judgment, be a safe and victorious leader for the Democratic party in the next Presidential campaign."

SAYS LETTERS PROVE HER VILENESS.

ARRAIGNS MRS. FORD AS "HUMAN VULTURE."

Prosecutor Flays Woman Whom Convict Warriner Accuses of Ruining Him—No Defense Offered Save Vicious Attack on Her Accusers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CINCINNATI, Feb. 4.—With the probable close of the trial of Mrs. Jeanette Stewart Ford for blackmail tomorrow, the curtain will fall on the second act in the drama of the gigantic defalcation of Charles L. Warriner, former local treasurer of the Big Four Railroad.

The State today concluded its case with a terrible indictment of the woman as a human vulture, whose life had been spent in preying upon men.

In the teeth of overwhelming evidence, the defense has been unable to attempt a vindication of Mrs. Ford's moral character, and contented itself with a bitter attack upon Charles L. Warriner and Edgar S. Cooke, two other principal figures in the extraordinary story of the $643,000 shortage.

The defendant's attorneys will conclude their plea tomorrow and probably the case will go to the jury late in the day. Only two witnesses were examined today by the State and not one by the defense. They had summoned four railroad officials, but only two, General Counsel L. J. Hackney and former Auditor P. A. Hewitt, were subpoenaed. None of the four appeared, and the defense waived its right to obtain writs of attachment for them.

After the court had refused the admission of certain letters of Mrs. Ford, the State rested and the defense, when the names of their four witnesses had been called and remained unanswered, also rested.

In his argument to the jury, Prosecutor Cash reviewed details of the woman's career. He called the attention of the jury to the mass of letters written by Mrs. Ford and by Cooke. The letters, he declared, were of so vile a character as to prohibit reading them in public.

Asserting that ruined homes and shattered lives had followed the woman wherever she went, he demanded that the jury convict her so that the community might be spared the evil influence which she wielded.

Attorney Thorndyke, in his argument for the defense, did not attempt to defend the morality of his client's life, but contented himself with a bitter attack upon Warriner and Cooke. He claimed that the only evidence against his client was the unsupported word of Warriner, and that the witness was unworthy of credence.

TEMPERANCE PEOPLE COMPLY WITH ELECTION LAW.

Petition Bearing 75,000 Signatures and Weighing Forty-seven Pounds Is Filed With Commission—Means Submission of Prohibition to Vote. Anti-Saloonists Wild With Joy.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The foes of liquor won the right to have the saloon question voted on at the next spring election in Chicago. A huge petition, with 75,000 signatures and weighing forty-seven pounds, was filed with the Election Commissioners late tonight.

The allied temperance interests in the city collected 18,000 signatures today, and, as the total number of signatures is 14,000 in excess of the required 61,000, opponents of the movement admit there is little chance of eliminating enough names because of errors and repetitions to defeat the petition.

The anti-liquor interests in Chicago and Cook county are intensely jubilant. Never in the history of the prohibition movement has a position considered of such importance been won before, and leaders predict that the spring election will drive the saloons out of [illegible] election, for the purpose of urging citizens to vote for the eradication of the saloon.

When it was announced at a meeting in Willard Hall tonight that the required number of signers had more than been secured, a cheer went up from 2000 throats. On every hand there were expressions of profound surprise that so many signatures should have been obtained during the day and that the grand total reached the figure it did.

VILLAGE FEARS POISON FIEND.

Child Dies from Eating Candy Found on Doorstep and Residents Get Threatening Letters.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OCONTO (Wis.) Feb. 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] That the village of Suring is destined to be wiped out by poison is now the fear of every person in that little lumbering town in the northwest part of Iris county, where yesterday the three-year-old daughter of Nels Nelson, died after eating poisoned candy, left on the doorstep. The younger son of Nelson will recover but the villagers are no wafraid that the poisoners will take some other methods to attack other families.

The work is supposed to be that of a demented woman but the woman suspected has not been shown as yet to have had any hand in the murder of the child yesterday. The poisoning follows the sending out to the best known people of the village a series of letters in which it was promised that the writer would poison every person in the place.

One such letter was signed by the local butcher, who said he would poison the meat but he easily proved he did not write the letter. Other letters in the same handwriting have been re-

JOHN D.'S CASH IN BEEF TRUST.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY SAID TO HOLD INTEREST.

Rockefeller's Millions Are Declared to Have Entered the Packing-house Business When Swift and Company Needed Financial Assistance During Panic of 1893.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John D. Rockefeller's millions dominate the "beef trust;" the power of the Standard Oil controls both Armour & Co. and Swift & Co.

A high official of the monopoly is authority for this statement.

For the first time in seventeen years the mystery surrounding the vast financial power that has been behind L. A. Carton, treasurer of Swift & Co., is dispelled and the sudden rise of Samuel McRoberts from treasurer of Armour & Co. to vice-president of the National City Bank, which is practically controlled by the Standard Oil Company, is made plain.

The story of how the Standard Oil Company secretly entered the beef trust dates back to the panic of 1893. Swift & Co. at that time was hard up for money, Gustavus E. Swift, founder of the business, which was incorporated in 1886 with $300,000, tried to borrow from Chicago bankers and failed. L. A. Carton, who was then a private banker in Chicago, went to Swift and said:

"I can get that money for you from Rockefeller. Let me try."

Carton succeeded in raising $5,000,000. The capital of Swift & Co. was increased from $7,500,000 to $12,000,000. Just how much of this stock was taken up by Rockefeller at that time is not known; but at the present time it is known that a large portion of the $5,000,000 bonds of Swift & Co. are held by Standard Oil interests.

As his reward, Carton became treasurer of Swift & Co., and ever since Swift & Co. has expanded faster than any other packing-house in the world.

Swift & Co. and Armour & Co. together own 77 per cent. of the stock of the $15,000,000 National Packing Company. The latter, the Federal grand jury in Chicago has proved, has control of twenty-two packing and provision companies, operating plants and agencies all over the United States, in England and in South America. Morris & Co. own the remaining 23 per cent. of the National stock. The gross business of the four companies above named amounted last year to $800,000,000.

McRoberts, like Carton, was practically unheard of before he was raised to the treasureship of Armour & Co.

BROKAW'S DEFENSE COSTLY.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—W. Gould Brokaw's defense of his wife's separation suit is estimated to have cost him $75,000, while the court's decision filed yesterday will compel him to pay the former Mary Blair $1250 a month allmony. His lawyers are understood to be preparing an appeal. According to James Blair, her father, Mrs. Brokaw will shortly go abroad with her mother and sister.

The New Butchers' Association, it is said, was formed for the purpose of fighting the so-called beef trust, so that when Chicago interests sought to enter New York much opposition was met. A stock-buying campaign is said to have followed, the New York Butchers' Association coming within the grasp of the Chicagoans.

With former officers and books of the New York Butchers' Association before the grand jury, Federal lawyers expect to show that the same few men who dominate it also dominate the National Packing Company, its subsidiary concerns, and the Armour company, Swift & Co., Morris & Co., and practically every other packing concern in the country. Upon this groundwork, the prosecution will then attempt to prove the existence of a price-fixing combination in restraint of trade.

William E. Weber, general auditor of the National Packing Company, and George E. Gillespie of Springfield testified before the grand jury today. This was Mr. Weber's fourth appearance, and he was closeted in the jury-room nearly three hours. W. D. Miles,

BOGUS COUNT TELLS STORY.

He Admits "Marrying" About Twenty Women.

Makes Escape from Two New York Detectives.

Tries to Start Flirtation in a Pullman.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The story of Emil Karl von Mueller, the man of nineteen wives, who has posed variously as Count, Baron and doctor, so amazed the county and city officials at Hoboken when they heard it in detail today from the detectives who brought him from Los Angeles, that they could hardly credit it. Even before he had got off the train the prisoner had prepared his defense. Confronted by Regina Velhelmann of New York, whom he had married more than a year ago in Hoboken, he insisted she was not his legal wife.

"How many wives did you have?" he was asked.

"Oh, there were nineteen just like her, maybe twenty; sometimes I think thirty," he answered. "None of them has more of a claim on me than this woman."

"We had quite a time with this fellow on the train," said Detective Weithal today. "He was the nerviest fellow in the world. Do you know he actually tried to get up a flirtation on the train with a richly-dressed and jeweled woman who occupied the same Pullman. His attempts were so annoying that she had to move her seat to another part of the car.

"He was so easily handled that we did not put handcuffs on him, but watched him in turns. That is, we did till we got to Omaha. While the train was waiting in the station he asked to go to the washroom.

"We let him go and he spent a lot of time there. Then we went to investigate. There was no Von Mueller, and the window was open. It looked bad for us. But we rushed to the door, jumped out and hurried about the station. There was our man running for dear life.

"It did not take us long to overhaul him and get him back to the train. He took it all easily, but we did not. After that the handcuffs went on him, and night and day he was chained either to Detective McDonald or myself."

The bigamist was still calm when he was seen in the Hudson County Jail today. He was willing to talk and he had this to say:

"My marriage to Miss Velhelmann is not legal. I came to Hoboken two or three days before and tried to get married by Pastor Rudolph. At that time he would not marry us. Then I went back to New York and met a friend of mine who lives in Jersey. He patted me on the back and said that will be an easy matter to overcome. We came back three days later and went to the same pastor's house, where the Velhelmann woman gave the address of No. 111 First street, Hoboken.

"The pastor knew that this was the City Hall, and that he had no right to marry us, and so I am confident that I shall have no trouble beating the case in the State of New Jersey.

"I lived with this woman after the so-called marriage just as I did with twenty or thirty others. The people in Los Angeles, where I lived, mortgaged their house to try to stop my extradition, and as soon as I am free I am going straight back to Los Angeles."

SUPPRESSION.

PRESS OF INDIA MUST BE GOOD.

IMPERIAL COUNCIL TO STOP OBJECTIONABLE ITEMS.

Officials of Government Declare That Indian Newspapers Incite Anarchy, Attack Army and Navy and Print Articles That Cause Trouble. Bill Introduced to Punish Them.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CALCUTTA, Feb. 4.—The new press bill, designed to suppress the dissemination of anarchistic literature, which was foreshadowed in the speech with which Lord Minto opened the Imperial Council, was introduced at today's session of the Council by Sir Herbert Hope-Risley, Secretary of the Home Department, British government of India.

The measure does not create a censorship, but provides for the control of all newspaper and job presses, the proprietors of which are obliged to deposit from $100 to $1000, which is to be forfeited upon conviction of the party of an attempt to incite to murder or anarchial outrages, to tamper with the loyalty of the army and navy, excite racial, class or religious animosity, contempt of the government or native prince, or the intimidation of public servants, etc.

"We see a widely-read portion of the Indian press occupied in rendering the government odious in the sight of the Indian people," said Sir Herbert.

"The government is represented as a foreign one, and, therefore, selfish and tyrannical. The press openly proclaims the only cure for the ills of India is freedom from foreign rule.

"We are confronted with a murderous conspiracy," concluded the Secretary, who appealed for the prompt and unanimous passage of the bill.

WOMEN CAUSE MANY SUICIDES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Woman is largely to blame for the considerable increase in recent years of suicides and insane persons, in the opinion of Prof. Max G. Sciapp, who is delivering a series of lectures on public health before the New York Academy of Medicine.

"There are nearly twice as many cases of suicide and insanity at present as there were a generation ago. And the chief cause for these conditions is the steady invasion of women into different sorts of industries, helped by the tension of the times in which we are living."

JOINS BOOZE UNION TO LEARN.

PASTOR-BARTENDER DECLARES PROHIBITION UNCHRISTIAN.

Kansas City Preacher Says It Is Case of a Minority Trying to Rule the Majority—Anti-Saloon League Is Denounced as Political Grafting Machine—The "Dry" States Are Provocation to Law-Breaking.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Rev. Wallace M. Short, pastor of the Beacon Hill Congregational Church of Kansas City and member of the Bartenders' Union, denounced prohibition as unkind, unlawful and unchristian in an address before the National License League convention here today.

Dr. Short told the defenders of the liquor cause that he joined the Bartenders' Union to study the whisky question from the inside. He said he also visited many saloons in different cities to get an exact idea of what is going on. He said the Prohibitionists ought to find a retreat for meditation and retire to it long enough to get some real light on the liquor question.

The pastor-bartender divided the people into three classes—total abstainers, temperate and intemperate. He said 20 per cent. of the people were total abstainers, 75 per cent. temperate and 5 per cent. intemperate, but that a small proportion of the total abstainers sought to suppress the liquor traffic entirely by the use of the police power.

He quoted from a letter from Dr. Charles W. Eliot, former president of Harvard University, denying that he was a Prohibitionist and total abstainer, as represented by the Anti-Saloon Leaguers.

WANTS LAW'S PROTECTION.

Resolutions demanding the enactment of laws to protect the liquor dealers as long as they obey them were adopted. The resolutions also demand that no additional licenses for saloons shall be issued in the future in excess of one to each 500 inhabitants, that a saloon man convicted of violation of the laws shall have his license suspended thirty days for the first offense and revoked for the second, and that no discretion shall be lodged in any officer to minimise these penalties.

The Anti-Saloon League is denounced in the resolutions as not a true reform organization, but a political movement, undertaking to use the churches to enable it to control politics in several States and levy tribute amounting to millions of dollars upon the American people.

Judge William A. Babcock of Cleveland said prohibition has always been and always will be a dismal failure.

"It is inherent in civilization," he said, "through all the ages, to use intoxicating beverages and it is useless to attempt to stamp it out now. In three Prohibition States there is one saloon for each 428 inhabitants and in fifteen wet States there is one saloon for each 611 people. In two years the number of crimes in Alabama has increased from 12,000 to 22,000.

"Prohibition tends to make us a nation of lawbreakers. Outside of Russia and Turkey, there is no nation as lawless as the United States. We had 10,000 murders last year.

"An experience of thirty-five years teaches me that prohibition is wrong."

That 90 per cent. of the politicians are cowards seeking votes wherever they can get them, was the declaration of Timothy I. McDonough, president of the National Liquor League. McDonough stated that the brewers and liquor dealers in Ohio had been forced into politics by the anti-saloon agitation.

The convention adjourned today.

"TONGUES OF FIRE" FLASH AND PLAIN ENGLISH STARTS RIOT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Instead of conversing in the language of roosters, quadrupeds or spirits, as is a custom, members of the sect known as "Tongues of Fire" restricted themselves to the ordinary vernacular in a meeting held last night at Ash street and Union avenue.

"They did not seem to lose any fire of tongue when epithets of unvarnished Saxon were hurled between them," declared H. E. Nichols, a real estate man, who attended the meeting.

"Brother L. S. Winters said to Brother Frank Smith, 'You owe three debs that you won't pay.'

"'You are a liar, black as hell, and you stole this mission,' retorted Smith.

"'You are another,' some one shrieked from the back of the room. "Forthwith pandemonium raged. Seventy-five excited people rolled on the floor and bruised each other's countenances.

"'Hasn't the devil gotten into you?' I asked of a woman who was bending above another and pulling the prostrate one's hair in large quantities from her head.

"'It's all coming out my fingers,' she gasped, going on with the hair subtraction process.

"The place got too pent up for their passions, and they fought out onto the street. There wasn't a policeman in sight, and, of course, there wern't any arrests. Their shrieks could be heard blocks away."

L. S. Winters, the leader, is nearly 80 years old.

Tonight he appeared again in the meeting with both eyes blackened and his nose badly skinned.

COURT DIVESTS DEBTOR OF VALUABLE RINGS.

Playwright Bruguiere, Defending Himself from Judgment, Inadvertently Wore Expensive Jewelry, Which a Cruel Judge Forthwith Orders Confiscated for Payment.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Prithee, lead me in and take an invent'ry of all I have—nay, 'tis the king's. My robe and my integrity to heaven are all I dare to call mine own."

So said Wolsey, you will remember, if you have not forgotten your Shakespeare. And so said, in effect, Emil Bruguiere when he was summoned before Justice Lawson to explain why he did not liquidate the judgment of $225 obtained against him a few weeks ago by the San Francisco Commercial Union.

Bruguiere, being a playwright, of course had not forgotten his Shakespeare; and if he did not use the exact words of the bard, it was only because he had more emphatic language of his own with which to describe his indigent condition.

"I haven't a cent," was the prosaic way he chose to put it.

But even that was interpreted by Attorney M. R. Carey, representing the claimants, as an expression which took poetic license with the truth.

"What is that on your finger?" demanded Carey.

"That is a ring—which has not left my finger for ten years," said Bruguiere.

The lawyer suggested that it was about time that it had, and he signified a desire to get possession of a second ring which was noticed flashing in the sunlight when attention was directed to it.

"Haven't you a watch?" asked Carey, who seemed loath to take part in such a pound-of-flesh proceeding when Judge Lawson had ruled that the rings must be sacrificed.

Bruguiere disclaimed ownership in any timepiece, and the long, carefully manicured fingers of the unfortunate bon vivant were ravished of their ornaments. One ring proved to be a handsome diamond and the other a no less valuable seal. They will be sold at auction.

COUNT'S MARRIAGE SECRET.

TRUTH LEARNED AFTER A YEAR.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—An examination of the county records at San José yesterday disclosed the fact that Mrs. Laura Emily Hardy, divorced wife of Carlos S. Hardy, a prominent lawyer and politician of Chicago, was married to Count William Leoni von Hardenberg, on February 19, 1909. The wedding was performed by a magistrate, who states that he promised to aid the couple in keeping the marriage a secret, which it transpires was successfully done for nearly a year.

To the magistrate, Von Hardenberg gave his address as Seattle, and that of Mrs. Hardy as New Orleans.

Hardenberg, it is said, claims to be the grandson of the Prince von Hardenberg, and that he was a captain of Gefman cr

"UNCLE JOE" GETS GAVEL.

CALIFORNIA SENDS PRESENTS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—It remained for Julius S. Jacobs, familiarly referred to in Sacramento county as "Mayor of Folsom," to bring from "Uncle Joe" Cannon the recognition that at last a suitable gavel for the Speaker of the House has been found.

Some time ago Jacobs shipped to Speaker Cannon an ice mallet, which had seen forty-seven years of service in Folsom, and a box of the official's brand of cigars.

Yesterday Jacobs received the following letter:

"My dear sir; I have received by express, with your compliments, a gavel of generous proportions and weight, which seems to have seen considerable service. I also received the cigars. Please accept by thanks for both. I shall be glad to keep the gavel as an interesting souvenir. Again thanking you, I am, with respect, etc.,

"Yours truly,

"J. G. CANNON."

FINDS MEAT SUBSTITUTE.

RECOMMENDS SKIMMED MILK.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—Apropos of the present meat boycott, Prof. M. F. Jaffa, head of the State laboratory at the University of California, and State pure food expert, recommends the use of skimmed milk as a substitute for meat.

Two quarts and a half of skimmed milk, he says, contain as much protein as a pound of beefsteak. Ordinances prohibiting the sale of skimmed milk are attacked by Prof. Jaffa as inhumane.

TO BUILD NEW ORPHEUM.

COPIES ANGELENO THEATER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SALT LAKE, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Salt Lake is to have an Orpheum theater which will be almost a replica of Los Angeles' handsome Orpheum, except as to seating capacity. Following a [illegible] with announced today the decision of the Orpheum management to rebuild. The cost will be $300,000 and the site will be on State street, less than a stone's throw from the present theater, the seven-year lease on which will be abandoned.

The invasion of this city by the Morris syndicate is held to be responsible for the decision of the Orpheum management to rebuild. The merger of the affiliated vaudeville interests, says Morris, means much to Salt Lake.

The Orpheum circuit has always been distinctly western in scope, with no houses east of Chicago. Now there will be an interchange of attractions for Salt Lake and the stagings in New York houses may be seen here. The price will remain the same.

J. H. GAYLEY SEEKS DIVORCE.

Vice-President of United States Steel Corporation Charges Wife With Desertion.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James H. Gayley, vice-president of the United States Steel Corporation, regarded as the foremost authority on iron and steel production, filed suit for divorce today against his wife, Julia Gardner Gayley, on the allegations of desertion.

The complaint is one of the briefest and simplest ever filed here, setting forth that the couple married in St. Louis, in February, 1884, and that on July 1, 1908, his wife left him and went to live with her relatives. It declares that there are three children, Mary, Agnes and Florence, whom he is willing to leave in the custody of the mother, it is understood. It sets forth that there is no community property involved, and that his wife now resides at No. 20 Washington Square, New York.

Gayley has resided quietly here for more than a year, few knowing of his presence, so obscure has been his life here. He has resorted to every means to prevent his presence being known, living with his private secretary and wife, H. C. Strawbridge, and housekeeper, in a modest cottage, the home being known under the latter's name. Gayley has just returned from New York, where he has been during the last two months, settling up property rights, it is said, with his wife to prevent her anticipated contest of the suit.

HERMANN SUFFERS BAD DAY.

Letters Refute Some Testimony and Witness Tells of Trip With Oil Men in California.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 4.—The three days' cross-examination of former Congressman Binger Hermann, who is on trial charged with conspiracy to defraud the government of public land, ended today.

The prosecution scored twice during the session. The first instance was after Hermann had made the assertion that his acquaintance with B. F. Allen, superintendent of the California forest reserves, was purely official. Heney introduced a number of letters which Hermann admitted he had written to Allen, and which indicated an apparent intimacy between them.

The second occasion was Hermann's admission that he had toured the California oil fields in the private car of a party of oil men as their guest. This event occurred some time after it had come to his knowledge that there had been "scripping" going on in the California oil districts.

Under his own counsel's questioning Hermann testified that he had never known F. P. Mays and Willard N. Jones to cast a vote for him. The prosecution claims that Hermann joined Mays and Jones, both of which were members of the Legislature, in the Blue Mountain conspiracy in order to secure their political support in his ambition to become Senator.

FIRST AID TO INJURED.

PLAY HOCKEY TOO HARD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

YOSEMITE, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Without a known physician nearer than Merced, ninety-five miles distant, several persons suffering broken heads, skinned shins and minor injuries resulting from reckless playing of ice hockey, were up against it for medical attention today until one of the midwinter visitors to the valley, Dr. F. M. Gedney of Truckee, came to the rescue. The doctor, with his beautiful young wife, were on their honeymoon trip, having been at the Sentinel Hotel several days, and while it was well known the couple were newly wed, the profession of the bridegroom was not general knowledge until today's accidents, when he promptly rolled up his sleeves and patched up the injured.

RELEASED FROM ASYLUM.

RESTORES FORTUNE ALSO.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—The release of Mrs. C. S. Tilton from the Napa insane asylum, where she had been confined for six years, was ordered today by Superior Judge Coffey, who also gave her the privilege of naming some one to aid her in caring for the $40,000 estate left by her husband, the late Charles S. Tilton, former City and County Surveyor of San Francisco. Mrs. Ida Killer, who has acted as guardian of the estate, was removed.

FEARS FOR FARALLON.

ALASKAN BOAT STILL MISSING.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SEATTLE, Feb. 4.—Fear for the safety of the Alaska Steamship Company's steamer Farallon is increasing. Four weeks ago the Farallon left Port Graham, Alaska, for ports to the westward, and has not been heard from since. The Farallon has a crew of twenty-seven officers and men, and carried a few passengers.

HEALTH BOARD STILL ON JOB.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—Though deposed by Mayor McCarthy and ordered to turn over their office to their successors, the Board of Health appointed by former Mayor Taylor today transacted business as usual. The ousted board during the afternoon obtained a temporary injunction restraining the McCarthy board from acting pending consideration of the legality of the act of the Mayor in deposing the board.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Request Experiment Farm.

ALTURAS, Feb. 4.—A large petition is being prepared to be forwarded to Washington, asking that the government establish on the Fort Bidwell Indian School reservation, at the head of Surprise Valley, Sisson county, an experiment farm as an aid to those who would develop the country by farming its broad wastes. The government owns land and water sites adequate for the purpose.

Workman Has Odd Fall.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—After falling from the third story of a building here today and breaking a 2x4 scantling, on his way down, John Persall, a cornice worker, landed on his feet, and was not seriously injured.

Chinese Boycott Angell.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—Because of alleged unfair treatment of orientals at the new immigrant station at Angell Station, a boycott has been declared against the port of San Francisco by the [illegible]

Chinese yesterday, cablegrams were sent to China instructing all Chinese to avoid this as a port of entry and to come by northern ports until changes are made here.

Students Try Meatless Diet.

SEATTLE, Feb. 4.—A diet without meat will be tried at the two dormitories of the University of Washington for one week, and if the experiment is successful, meat will be dropped permanently or the quantity greatly reduced. The 200 students will eat their first vegetarian dinner tonight. The domestic science department of the university is assisting in preparing the new menu.

SEIZES MOONSHINE BRANDY.

JACKSON, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Eight barrels of "moonshine" brandy were seized last night by J. S. Linney, deputy internal revenue collector of Sacramento, on the property of Mrs. Simon E. Molfino, who has a truck garden and a small farm near this city. The barrels contain 400 gallons of "jackass" brandy, on which the license is $1.10 a gallon.

Linney and his deputy stayed all night in the vicinity of the suspected cache. They spotted the place and when they seized the stuff, no one was about. It was buried beneath the surface of the ground in some tall timber within half a mile of Mrs. Molfino's house.

She stoutly declares she knows nothing of the moonshine, but the revenue officers suspected the stuff was made at her distillery, which she conducts by paying the required license for a certain amount of goods.

STOCK BRINGS BIG SUM.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The price received by the Southern Pacific for its Wells Fargo Express stock holdings is reported to have been in excess of $9,600,000. Announcement of the sale followed close after the awarding of Union Pacific's Express business to the American Express Company.

Interests continued in control of the Wells Fargo Company. For many years the Southern Pacific held in its treasury $1,530,000 of Wells Fargo stock. It was received in consideration for exclusive express business on Southern Pacific lines.

Three hundred per cent. dividend payable February 10, on Wells Fargo shares carried the right to subscribe to two additional shares for each one held, so that the Southern Pacific's holding would be expanded to $4,590,000. In addition there would be cash payment equal to the face value of the original amount of stock.

Principal in Chicago Robbery and Gun Fight Is Sent to House of Correction.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Harry Melton, who says his home is in Sacramento, was yesterday sentenced to one year in the House of Correction and fined $25 and costs, in a trial lasting less than twenty-five minutes.

Melton was one of the principals in a sensational gun fight on the crowded streets yesterday. With two companions, he robbed A. B. Kinniard of Louisville, Ky., of $75 on a street car. During a melee on the car, Melton and his companions escaped, but policemen pursued them, shooting at Melton. One of the bullets deflected from the stone pavement and shot a lawyer in the knee. Another whizzed through the hat of Melton, and he surrendered. Today he made no defense whatever. A bartender, supposed to be one of Melton's companions, conferred with him in court today, but slipped out when the incident was noticed, and has not been found.

WOMAN HALTS STUDENT'S KNIFE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 4.—"Stop! That is my father's body!" This command startled students of the St. Louis College of Physicians and Surgeons today as they were preparing to dissect the body of Frank Roth. Turning from their task, they were confronted by Mrs. Rosa Huelfmann, who had learned after a long delay where the body had been taken. She had climbed a fire escape to a third story window and stepped into the operating room. Mrs. Huelfman had no difficulty in proving her claim, and the college surrendered the body. Roth died in the City Hospital. His daughter read in a newspaper of his death and went to the hospital and asked for the body. It was not there and it was eight hours before she succeeded in locating it. Roth lost a $38,000 estate in Germany because relatives had heard he died shortly after coming here fifty years ago.

THIS CHURCH UP TO DATE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 4.—The pretty little cards once used to attract children toward regular attendance at Sunday-school have been supplemented in the Union Methodist Church, one of the largest in the city, by tickets to a moving-picture show. Commencing next Sunday each child at Sunday-school will get a ticket entitling him to attend a show the following Sunday afternoon in the church basement. A regular nickelodeon equipment has been purchased for the weekly entertainment. The church has a staff of six attorneys who spend each Sunday evening in the church giving legal advice free to members of the congregation. A gymnasium and swimming pool, with a physical director, will be added to the church equipment February 1.

CONTAMINATED OYSTERS SEIZED

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Seizure of twenty barrels of oysters on the complaint that they had been contaminated by sewage created consternation among local dealers yesterday. The seizure was made by a deputy United States marshal and a Federal food inspector who came from Washington to look up cases in Chicago. The oysters seized were said to have been shipped from South Norwalk, Ct. The custom of "floating" oysters taken from salt water bays in river water to "swell" them before they are shipped is said to be the cause of the contamination of the oysters seized.

LIQUOR ENEMIES HUNT SIGNERS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Chicago will vote on the saloon question at the April election, provided the petition to be filed before midnight tonight can withstand the legal attacks planned by liquor organizations. This became practically certain last night when all petitions circulated by the 2000 local option workers were delivered at a mass meeting at Willard Hall, and the names counted. The total number of signatures proved to be approximately 58,000. The petition must contain 51,000 to bring the question to a vote and the remaining 3000 must be obtained today, as 12 o'clock tonight is the last moment at which the document can be filed.

COPS MUST PAY DEBTS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Chief of Police Steward has declared war on policemen who are "dead beats." His position with reference to members of the department who fail to pay their debts is set forth in an order issued last night. It reads as follows: "Members of this department are admonished to so arrange their personal matters that complaints as to debts shall not come before the department. Drastic action necessarily will have to be taken when officers are negligent in this regard."

ABSOLUTELY DEFENSELESS NOW.

PACIFIC COAST STRIVING FOR FLEET OF FIFTY SUBMARINES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4. — Fifty submarines are wanted by the Pacific Coast States and they propose that this fleet shall be built for the navy at the rate of ten boats a year for the next five years.

The delegation from California, Oregon and Washington, including all members of both the Senate and the House, have made a definite programme which will be presented to the House Committee on Naval Affairs today.

Representatives Hayes of California, Ellis of Oregon and Humphrey of Washington were appointed to lay their plans before the naval committee. The principal argument was made today by Mr. Hayes. He strengthened his position by quotins from the report of the naval board of strategy and other government documents.

If the western delegations should succeed in their campaign in the House the chances for the building of a strong submarine fleet for the Pacific Coast defense is believed to be excellent.

The Senate Naval Committee, of which Mr. Perkins of California is chairman, is predisposed toward strengthening the defenses on the western coast.

"The Pacific Coast is in a defenseless condition," declared Representative Hayes.

"In San Francisco Bay the current is so strong that it is next to impossible to protect the entrance to the harbor with mines.

"We have no battleship fleet on the Coast and we need protection. Monterey Bay, Half Moon Bay and the southern ports of the Coast are now practically defenseless."

Representative Humphrey said it would be possible for a foreign warship to enter Puget Sound in a fog without watchers on shore seeing it.

"If we had a fleet of submarines they could always be on the lookout for the vessels of an enemy and frustrate an attack which, as we are now situated, we would be virtually powerless to resist."

DELAYS INQUIRY.

BALLINGER'S COUNSEL GIVEN OPPORTUNITY TO STUDY CASE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—In order to permit the arrival in the city of counsel for Secretary Ballinger and to allow counsel to become familiar with the case, the Ballinger-Pinchot investigating committee adjourned its hearings today until next Friday, February 11.

John J. Vertress of Nashville and Carl Rasch, formerly United States District Attorney for Montana, have been selected to represent Secretary Ballinger, Land Commissioner Dennett and Field Agent Schwartz in the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy.

Louis R. Glavis, the star witness for the "prosecution," is to stay in the city until full opportunity for cross-examination is given. Members of the committee have questioned him in desultory fashion, but owing to a lack of familiarity with the subject, they have been considerably limited in their quest, other than what Glavis has given voluntarily in response to questions framed by counsel representing himself and his backers.

Glavis has concluded all of his original testimony.

SUGGESTS EMPLOYING COUNSEL.

It developed at the brief public session of the committee today that under date of February 2, Senator Nelson, chairman of the committee, wrote to Secretary Ballinger, saying he had been directed by the members to suggst to him the importance of being represented by counsel to examine and cross-examine witnesses and to present to the committee in orderly fashion such evidence as would be material to "the other side."

Replying to this letter under date of February 3, Mr. Ballinger said he had followed the suggestion of the committee, but that it would require several days for the attorney to reach Washington and some additional time to familiarize himself with the case. Mr. Ballinger said he had been of the opinion that by not having counsel he had been assisting the committee, or at least would not be hampering it in making a full inquiry of its own.

In view of the suggestion by the committee. He asked that the further hearings be postponed until Monday, February 14.

Following an executive session which lasted nearly an hour the letters were read to the public and the adjournment until February 11 ordered.

DELAY IS OPPOSED.

It was said there had been a pretty lively discussion in the executive session over the question of a postponement, some of the members of the committee strenuously opposing any delay at this time.

Attorney Brandeis, representing Glavis, made a somewhat heated complaint to the committee over the delay of the Interior Department in furnishing the committee with documentary evidence called for by the "prosecution."

Mr. Ballinger might have "good and sufficient reasons" for withholding these from examination by counsel representing Mr. Glavis, but in view of his statements that he wanted a full investigation, he thought it incumbent upon him to furnish the evidence in installments as fast as it could be collected.

Chairman Nelson said it had been decided at the executive session to request Secretary Ballinger to furnish the evidence in installments and that he would write him a letter to that effect and send it by special messenger today. Paul Sloman, an attorney of this city, has been appointed secretary of the Investigation Committee.

PRESIDENT SHOWS INTEREST.

The President has shown his active interest in the controversy. He has insisted on the retention of counsel to represent the administration officers, Secretary Ballinger, Land Commissioner Dennett and Chief Field Agent Schwartz.

Today Secretary Dickinson brought to the White House Attorney Vertress. They talked with the President for half an hour and then Secretary Ballinger joined the conference, which lasted for another hour.

At its conclusion Secretary Ballinger, accompanied by Mr. Vertrees, left the White House, although the Cabinet was just about to assemble, and proceeded to the Interior Department to confer with Messrs. Dennett and SIXTY-FIRST CONGRESS.

HEYBURN HITS POSTAL BILL.

Senator Criticises Measure as "Utterly Vicious."

Loosely Drawn and But Bare Skeleton of a Law.

Carter Expects a Vote by Next Thursday.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Senator Heyburn today completed his criticism of the postal savings bank bill in the Senate, but aside from his speech, little progress was made in consideration of the measure.

It will be before the Senate again tomorrow and Senator Carter, in charge of the measure, expects a vote not later than next Thursday.

Mr. Heyburn declared the bill had been drawn so loosely that if enacted it must inevitably result in scandal. It should, he said, be safeguarded more carefully than some past legislation, and he instanced the corporation tax law, which, he said, already had been proven unsatisfactory.

Declaring his objections to the bill, he said there was no provision for securing deposits, that in providing for secrecy regarding deposits, the bill would prove a shield to dishonesty, and that in the end it would be found to be impossible to find investment for the postal savings fund.

He contended that it was the duty of the Committee on Postoffices to bring in a safe and proper bill, and said he would not support the bill as long as it placed the government in the banking business, as he contended the bill did.

BILL ONLY A SKELETON.

He declared the bill to be a mere skeleton, and he advised the committee to take it back and put some "sinews and flesh upon it."

Mr. Huyburn spoke at length regarding the possible abuses that might grow out of the secret methods provided in connection with deposits.

Mr. Carter protested against this line of reasoning, saying that no legislation proceeded upon the theory that the average man was a "crook."

"Would the Senator have the names of all depositors publicly announced?" he asked.

"I want an open and candid conduct of the business," Mr. Heyburn responded.

"Would you advise the posting of the names of the depositors?" asked Mr. Carter.

The Idaho Senator responded that he had not reached that point, and Mr. Carter said:

"You soon will reach it if you keep on."

Another interesting colloquy between the western Senators ran as follows:

Mr. Heyburn: Out of what fund would the interest be paid?

Mr. Carter: The bill contemplates the turning over of all surplus earnings for that purpose.

Mr. Heyburn: Suppose there are none?

Mr. Carter: Then it will devolve upon the board of trustees to devise means.

Mr. Heyburn: The bill devolves too many things upon the uncertainties of the future.

In conclusion Mr. Heyburn pronounced the bill to be utterly vicious and predicted that in the end it would be necessary to pay the deposits by appropriation out of the national treasury.

In the discussion Mr. Smith of Michigan made the prediction that if the bill became a law it would become a football of politics, and the rate of interest would become a fruitful source for unscrupulous office-seekers.

Mr. Carter made no formal reply to the criticisms, merely asking to have the bill printed in "the Congressional Record, which is the best possible refutation of the representations made by its enemies."

NAMES TEA EXPERTS.

TO FIX STANDARD OF PURITY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Secretary MacVeagh has announced the members of the board of tea experts, whose duty it is to establish a standard of purity governing the importations of that article of merchandise during the calendar year 1910. They are George Hewlett, New York; Charles Atwood, Chicago; Edward B. Brandenstein, San Francisco; Frederick Hellliner, Chicago; A. B. Irwin, Philadelphia; George H. Machy, New York and Herbert G. Woodworth, Boston.

Tea is on the free list but a standard governing importations is made to keep out inferior and adulterated grades.

CLEVELAND (O.) Feb. 4.—H. R. Newcomb, one of the best known bankers in this city, died today, aged 68.

Rev. Dr. Lewis David Howell.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The Rev. Dr Lewis David Howell, known as the richest preacher in the United States, is dead at his home here. He was 58 years old. Dr. Howell was the son of A. Allen Howell of Wheeling, W. Va., and a nephew of the late Admiral Howell. For many years an active Episcopal clergyman, he had, since 1900, devoted himself to philanthropic work. He inherited a large fortune, which he increased many times by investments in real estate.

Mark Smith.

STOCKTON, Feb. 4.—Mark Smith, Deputy Sheriff, one of the best-known officers in the inetrior, died on the table at St. Joseph's Hospital, while being operated upon for strangulation of the intestines. He had always been very healthy, and was not taken to the hospital until today.

John A Spinetti.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—John A. Spinetti, a well-known attorney of this city, died suddenly following a heart attack at his home here early yesterday morning.

William C. Lovering.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Representative Lovering of Massachusetts died at his residence in this city at 9:20 o'clock this morning, aged 75. Mr. Lovering was serving his seventh consecutive term in Congress. He had been in feeble health for several months, having suffered a breakdown during the tariff discussion of last summer, when the heat in Washington was intense. The House ordered the appointment of a committee of fifteen members to attend the funeral of Mr. Lovering, and at 12:30 o'clock adjourned until Monday.

In the pourparlers in progress concerning Greece and Crete, France is inclined to favor the reoccupation of Crete by the powers as the most effective means of preventing complications.

ecutive Staff Is Said to Be Crippled.

ention E. G. Warfield for Vice-President.

chison Unable to Keep Its Traffic Manager.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EW YORK, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Since the segregation of the Rock Island and Frisco properties, all sorts of rumors have been circulated concerning possible new acquisitions to the executive staff of the Rock Island, which is known to be severely crippled in this department by the separation of the officers of the two companies.

G. Warfield, now freight traffic manager of the Mallory Steamship company, has been mentioned as a possible new vice-president of the Rock Island. Mr. Warfield is a close personal friend of J. E. Gorman, former assistant traffic manager of the Atchison, but now first vice-president of the Rock Island.

Gorman was close to E. P. Ripley of the Atchison and is reputed to be one of the best traffic men in the country. For this reason Mr. Ripley was loath to let him go, but the Rock Island had to have him.

It is said on good authority that Mr. Gorman's salary with the Atchison was $25,000 a year. The Rock Island offered him $30,000, which the Atchison again raised to $35,000, which the Atchison again topped. The Rock Island then made an offer of $40,000 a year and a bonus of $10,000 if a contract were signed within fifteen minutes. Mr. Gorman signed.

PLANS WHARF AT HOOD.

NEW TOWN WILL BE BUILT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Plans are being made by the Southern Pacific Company to build a wharf 250 feet long at Hood, on the Sacramento River, to be used as a shipping point for the delta regions of the San Joaquin and Sacramento rivers. The station is on the line of the Sacramento and Southern, part of the Harriman system, and well situated for the purpose. It will save long hauls by steamer to either this city or San Francisco. The boats can receive the fruit crops along the lower river and ship at Hood for eastern points. With the establishment of a shipping point, a town will be built. Plans are being made for a townsite. Canneries will be erected with deep water front. The channel at Hood is twenty feet at low water.

BONES BEAT TELEGRAPH.

BLIZZARDS ARE SEVERE TEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The recent blizzards throughout the West and also east of Chicago have demonstrated to the satisfaction of railroad managers the superiority of the telephone over the telegraph in dispatching of trains. It is said that had it not been for the telephone the railroads would have been completely tied up during several periods. The Rochester and Syracuse on the New York Central, for example, were not a single telegraph wire working for days. The telephone line in each case was crossed in several places by horse wires, and was further interfered with by a breakdown in the Niagara Power Company's high-tension transmission line. On the Chicago division of the Pennsylvania not a single through line was working for days, and although there were breaks in the telephone lines, which circuits and grounds on the wires, the dispatchers were able to keep the entire length of the division. The wires of the principal roads in this country are now using the telephone on nearly 15,000 miles of track. The Great Northern is preparing to install the use of the telephone over its entire main line, from Minneapolis to Seattle, 2100 miles.

WOMEN GET LOW STEPS.

ON THE CHICAGO STREET CARS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Chicago women have won their fight for lower street car steps. Fifty new cars for the City Railway Company, now being built in Philadelphia, it was announced yesterday, will be constructed so the steps will be at least an inch and a half lower than the present platforms.

All cars which are being reconstructed will be made to meet the new specifications, and all old cars will have their platforms lowered as they go to the shops for repairs.

Under the new specifications, Chicago street car steps will be lower than in any other large city in the world, where the standard set by the American Association of Street and Interurban Railways prevails.

DOCTORS AFTER AUTOMOBILES.

Declare Smoke Causes Naso-Motor-Rhinitis and Flooding Cylinders With Oil Spreads Disease.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In an effort to stamp out an automobile nuisance the National Highways Protective Society has forwarded to President Lederle of the Board of Health a petition requesting him to put a stop to automobiles emitting blue smoke in the streets. A copy of the petition was sent to Mayor Gaynor. It bore the signatures of twenty of the leading physicians in the city.

"This smoke in the streets is a nuisance," said Dr. Holbrook, one of the signers tonight. "It causes naso-motor-rhinitis, which is similar to a cold arising from a shock, and is hay fever. It effects membranes of the nose and throat, causing inflammation that is especially irritating to asthmatics and consumptives, and it is likely to do great injury to invalids. Then it also affects the stomachs."

To carelessness in flooding cylinders with oil is attributed the trouble. When the car is started oil is set on fire, and the disease-breeding smoke is set free.

The Fifth Avenue Association and the Woman's Municipal League has promised to help stop the nuisance.

ADDS TO SWOPE COMPLICATIONS.

CORONER ISSUES SUBPOENAS FOR TEN WITNESSES.

Inquest Jury Will Inquire Into Cause of Deaths of Millionaire and Son, Making Three Sets of Legal Actions—Lull Follows in Civil and Criminal Actions.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Coroner added another complication to the Swope mystery this morning, when subpoenas were issued for ten witnesses to appear in Independence Monday morning and tell an inquest jury what they know of the case. This makes the fourth set of subpoenas issued in the last three days.

These subpoenas were prepared by J. E. Trogdon, deputy, upon advice by B. F. Swart, County Coroner. This afternoon Dr. Swart and Mr. Trogdon are holding a conference with Virgil Conkling, the county Prosecuting Attorney, to decide whether any more subpoenas will be necessary. Immediately after this conference Mr. Trogdon will begin to serve Coroner's subpoenas.

The list of witnesses includes the members of the Swope family and the nurses at the Swope home, Miss Keiler, Miss Churchill, Miss Gordon and Miss Houlohan, who attended Chrisman Swope in his last illness.

Who the other witnesses are will be decided at a conference tomorrow morning, but the list possibly will include Dr. B. C. Hyde, Dr. T. G. Twyman, John G. Paxton, Dr. Frank Hall, Frank Mitchell and Dr. Ludwig Hektoen, the Chicago pathologist.

After the exciting legal clash of yesterday there was a decided lull today in the offices of the opposing lawyers. The assistants in both offices still were busy serving notices and subpoenas, but the attorneys were only laying new powder mines to be exploded tomorrow, when the contest opens again before Circuit Judge Brumback.

Both the offices of Mr. Atwood and those of Mr. Walsh, attorneys on both sides of the case, today received many anonymous letters and mysterious telephone calls from persons who said they could give valuable information relating to the case, but who would not reveal their names.

KILL MILLION BIRDS YEARLY.

Japanese Poachers on Hawaiian Islands Reservation Have About Cleared Place.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

HONOLULU, via San Francisco, Feb. 4.—A million birds have been slaughtered each year for several years past, in the Hawaiian Island bird reservation by Japanese, according to Capt. Walker of the U. S. Thetis, which effected a recent capture of Japanese on Midway Island. That island and all others of the group, with the exception of Laysan, are said to have lost practically all of their once teeming bird population.

There is no evidence of any marketing of bird skins and feathers in Honolulu, the poachers' spoils, it is said, being sold by Osaka merchants in London, Paris and New York. The bird poaching, it is believed, is handled directly from Japan. Japanese schooners, ostensibly in the shark fishing business, are frequent callers in the bird island group, which stretches northwest from Hawaii.

Capt. Walker says the birds were so tame on all the islands that they could be caught by hand. The poachers, he states, seized them, cut off their wings and left the helpless creatures to die a slow death.

SYMPATHY IN SUPREME COURT.

Justice Holmes Would Help Woman Protect Burial Grounds, But Finds no Justification.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—Justice Holmes came near disproving the assertion that in the eyes of the law there is no tear, when yesterday there was filed in the archives of the Supreme Court of the United States the opinion of the court in the suit of the Wyandotte Indian woman, Lydia Conley, to prevent the white man disturbing the Indian burial ground in Kansas City, Kan., where the bodies of her ancestors lie.

"For every reason we have examined the facts with anxiety," says he in the opinion, "to give full weight to any argument by which the plaintiff's wishes might be carried out."

The court was unable to find any such justification, and was "driven" to the conclusion that none existed.

"We are of opinion," he concluded, "that in view of the circumstances, it is just that the bill should be dismissed without costs."

The opinion is said to be in the most sympathetic terms of any handed down by the court in years.

One of the features of the new Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, to be built in New York this year, will be a roof garden. No announcement has been made as to the use for which the roof garden is intended. It is said, however, of the idea, that it is suggested [illegible]

LIFE'S SEAMY SIDE.

MOVE GOHL TO ESCAPE A MOB.

Officers Fear for Safety of Murder Suspect.

Think Finding of Body Would Excite People.

Police Expect to Get Trace of Other Victims.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ABERDEEN (Wash.) Feb. 4.—Late today the Aberdeen police deemed it wise to remove William Gohl from the jail here to the County Jail at Montesano. Feeling against Gohl, who is charged with the murder of Charles Hatberg, is high, and it was feared that, should the body of the missing John Hoffman be found, the people could not be controlled.

Gohl, agent for the Sailors' Union, who was arrested yesterday, passed a miserable night. He was not so clamorous today for an immediate hearing, though still maintaining his innocence.

Sentiment here is strong against Gohl. Indignant groups of men gathered on the street and in public places to discuss the mystery, and last night there was some talk of mob violence. This is believed to be more or less responsible for Gohl's changed demeanor.

The search for the body of Hoffman, who disappeared about the same time that Hatberg was missed by his friends, continued today. The authorities are convinced that the body of Hoffman will be found close to the point where Hatberg's body was discovered Wednesday.

While prosecuting the search for Hoffman's body the police are also endeavoring to find the bodies of other men who have mysteriously disappeared during the past few years. They entertain a theory that a number of bodies will be found near an old fish-trap in Indian Creek.

During the water-front strike in 1905 Gohl was charged with "assembling men under arms" and led in an attack upon the schooner Fearless, anchored in the lower harbor. For this he was fined $1250, which fine was sustained in an appeal to the Supreme Court.

One by one former intimates of Gohl are coming forward with stories of his alleged confession of crimes and the police learned today that Gohl killed his mining partner in Alaska. Gohl himself admits this affair and said the killing was done in self-defense.

Wilson Buttner, attorney, who was engaged by Gohl to defend him on the charge of slaying Halberg, withdrew from the case today.

GIRL DIES A SUICIDE.

BROODS OVER LOVER'S DEATH.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—"Well, I have done it," was the exclamation today of Miss Jessie Spiller, daughter of a wealthy retired Brooklyn manufacturer, as she returned to the parlor after a moment's absence and fell unconscious at the feet of a caller in her father's home. Within an hour she was dead from poison. Miss Spiller was despondent over the death of the man she loved.

Farmer Slays Family.

FERGUS FALLS (Minn.) Feb. 4.—William Ruckheim, a farmer aged 35 years, murdered his wife and four children and shot himself last night at Parkers Prairie. He was found dying when his son went to the farm today. Ruckheim is believed to have been temporarily insane.

Mexicans' Victim Dies.

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Feb. 4.—Ernest Kuykendal, the second of the two men attacked by two Mexicans at a woodcutters' camp in the Swiss Mountains Tuesday, died last night. The Mexicans, after the tragedy, were traced to this city and thence to the Mexican border. The slaying of the two Americans revives a feeling in favor of the restoration of the Arizona rangers.

HONOR LINCOLN'S SUBSTITUTE.

Congress Asked to Erect Statue to Memory of Veteran Who Fought for President.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 4.—The soldier who fought through the Civil War as the personal substitute of Abraham Lincoln, may have a statue erected in commemoration of his services. A bill appropriating $20,000 for the purpose was introduced in the House yesterday, by Mr. Palmer, Democrat, of Pennsylvania.

The name of this almost unknown hero is J. Summerfield Staples of Stroudsburg, Pa. He died there ten years ago, and it is at Stroudsburg that it is now proposed to erect the statue.

In 1863, when the fortunes of the Union cause were at their lowest ebb, it was decided by President Lincoln and his Cabinet that they should send personal substitutes to the front as an example to the country.

Staples, then 18 years old, was selected as the President's substitute. He enlisted in the Second District of Columbia Volunteers, and served until the close of the war.

Missionary Says Introduction of Christianity Into Japan Has Fatal Effect on Thinkers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 4.—The introduction of Christianity into Japan at first caused many suicides, the Rev. Dr. J. L. Dearing, a missionary told the delegates to the laymen's missionary movement today.

"The transfer of the seal of moral authority from Confucius to the individual conscience as taught by Christianity was so sudden that many a man has been killed by the shock," said Dr. Dearing.

"The moral unrest existing among thinking men in Japan today is illustrated by the fact that the Asahi Shimbun, a newspaper, has a bureau of con[illegible]

The Unearned Increment

An advertiser can tell in advance how much white space his money will buy in a given publication, and he can know approximately the circulation he will get (in a few magazines, at least). But he cannot know exactly what the features of interest surrounding his advertisement in any one issue will be. Nor can he tell exactly what may transpire between the placing of his order and the issue of the magazine to make his space additionally valuable.

The Editorial Department of THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL is constantly forwarding new ideas and new features. The Circulation Department is constantly strengthening the grasp of our circulation. The publication itself is steadily increasing its "market."

ASTRONOMER ACCOUNTS FOR RECENT PHENOMENA.

University Professor Theorizes That Reported Exploding Aerolites Are from Sky Tramp—Are Gaseous and Hence the Loud Noise When They Strike Solid Earth.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Father McHugh, professor of astronomy at De Pauw University, said that details of last night's explosion tended to confirm his theory that this meteor and those recently reported from Connecticut are fire balls that became detached from Comet A when it passed through the solar system and have been traveling toward the earth ever since. All of them exploded on striking the earth, and little solid matter has been found where they struck, indicating that they were composed mostly of gaseous matter, such as that of which comets are supposed to be made.

Comet A's balance of gravity possibly became disturbed as it came close to the rival pulls of gravity from the various bodies in the solar system, and it began to disintegrate, according to Father McHugh's theory. This caused the splitting and diminishing of the tail noted by various astronomers, and several fragments got into the sphere of the earth's attraction.

It is supposed to have been a meteor, but may have been caused by the explosion of dynamite in a mine.

SUGAR FRAUD CASES TANGLED.

Counsel for Charles R. Heike, Who Gave Evidence Before Grand Jury, in Odd Position.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The tangle in the sugar-weighing-fraud cases was further complicated, if anything, by the hearing in the United States Circuit Court here today.

Counsel for Charles R. Heike, secretary of the American Sugar Refining Company, while anxious to press the claim of immunity for his client on the ground that he had testified to material matters before the grand jury, did not wish to imperil his case by risking a defeat in a trial of the facts, and then finding his way to a motion to quash the indictment barred.

AIDING SCIENCE.

ROOSEVELT HUNTERS SECURE MORE VALUABLE SPECIMENS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

UMULE (Uganda Protectorate) Feb. 4.—The Smithsonian African scientific expedition arrived here today on schedule time. All the members are in excellent health. Before leaving Hino camp, in Belgian Congo, the hunters shot three more white rhinoceros, a bull buffalo and other game not before reported. Kermit Roosevelt obtained some splendid photographs of a living rhinoceros. All were delighted with their visit in the Congo.

It is expected that no more game will be shot until Gondokoro is reached. The distance to that place from here, over what is known as the upper road, is about 108 miles.

Col. Roosevelt's mail has brought him a number of requests to speak in European cities, but he will be unable to arrange for addresses other than those already promised. He expects to speak in Paris April 15, at the University of Berlin May 1, and soon afterward before the Nobel Prize Committee at Christiania. Col. Roosevelt was the recipient of the Nobel Prize of 1906.

Col. Roosevelt will arrive in England May 15 and soon afterward will deliver an address at Oxford University. He plans to return to New York about the middle of June.

The expedition probably will get under way again tomorrow. The objective point is Gondokoro, where a launch will be in waiting to take the party down the Bar-el-Jebel, the most southern tributary of the Nile, en route to Khartoum. The members expect to arrive at Gondokoro on February 17.

Theodore Kaufmann, Dry Goods Magnate of Pittsburgh, Accused by Pretty Wife of Stable Boss of Luring Her Into Private Office and Making Violent Advances.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch. Theodore Kaufmann, multi-millionaire merchant prince of Pittsburgh, the wealthiest member of the immense dry goods firm of Kaufmann Brothers, was arrested in his place of business on January 21, last, after information had been lodged against him by Mrs. James Montgomery, a handsome brunette of No. 151 Fremont street, this city.

In her information, Mrs. Montgomery alleges Kaufmann attacked her with the intention of committing an even more serious offense. Owing to the prominence of Kaufmann, all news of his arrest and the alleged assault has been suppressed until now.

According to the story told by Mrs. Montgomery, who is the wife of a stable boss, she went on a shopping expedition to "The Big Store" on the afternoon of January 19. She was roaming around the store when Theodore Kaufmann beckoned to her and she walked over to him, and he asked her if she had been treated well and gotten everything she wanted. Knowing that he was one of the members of the firm, she answered that she had been well treated, whereupon he asked her to step into his private office, so that he might show her some goods he was thinking of purchasing.

soon as I had entered, and began to make love to me in his fiendish way.

"'My, but what a clean, pretty woman you are,' Kaufmann remarked. 'You look awfully sweet.'

"I arose immediately," continued Mrs. Montgomery, "when Kaufmann grabbed me around the waist, pressed his face to my bosom and acted like a crazy man. I screamed and he apparently became frightened and let me go."

Kaufmann gave bail for $1000.

His experience at the Madison Square Garden show is counting for much, and he has become one of Manager Conwell's chief advisers. The Show Committee is holding meetings every day and daily discussions of the plans are in order.

Money is being expended lavishly. The entire show is on a gigantic scale. Every night there is to be special entertainment, and the cars are to be exhibited in the most pleasing manner. The lighting effect is to be particularly attractive.

Spaces in this show will be large. Numbers of the exhibitors have chosen 2000 feet and more. Some will show as high as a dozen cars. The show is to open February 19.

TO SAFEGUARD HIGHWAYS.

BOSTON, Feb. 4.—Emphasizing the need of more careful and considerate use of the highways of the State by automobiles, the Safe Roads Automobile Association has issued a statement in which it is shown that 46 per cent. more automobile accidents of all sorts occurred in Massachusetts in 1909 than in 1908. The figures show 296 serious accidents and 54 deaths in 1909, compared with 624 serious injuries and 33 deaths in 1908.

FLYERS AT FRESNO.

FRESNO, Feb. 4.—With flights by both Hamilton and Willard, Fresno's aviation meet was started today. About 5000 persons were in attendance. So far the only sensational feature was the beating of the world's record for speed by Hamilton, when he made a mile in 1m. 37s. The previous mile record was made by Curtiss in Rheims, with the same machine, in 2m. 12s.

TRACK SQUADS IN DUAL MEET.

OPENING FIELD CONTESTS AT U.S.C. OVAL TODAY.

Keen Competition Is Expected to Develop in the Sprints Between Rubio and Geissler for Preps and Throop and Martin for University. Outcome in Doubt.

Interesting competition in the sprint events will probably be developed this afternoon in the first dual meet of the season when the Los Angeles High School athletes work out against the University of Southern California team on Bovard Field.

The half-mile, century and furlong will probably prove the most exciting feature of the meet, and the races should furnish as good sport as any of the later competitions in which the different athletes will enter.

In the half Capt. McClure of the hilltop team will meet Harry Gower of the university, who captured the 1909 conference half in 2:04. McClure made exactly the same time in the dual meet against Pomona College last spring. Gower is not yet in very good track condition, so that the preparatory school boy seems ti have a little the better of today's chances.

In the 100 and 220-yard dashes Rubio and Geissler of the High School will meet their old antagonist Throop, who ran last year for Polytechnic High School, and who is now registered as a freshman in the university. All three are on an almost equal footing, each one of the trio having forged to the front in one or more of the different races in which all have taken part. Today the competition will be augmented by the presence of Martin, the 'varsity century man of last year's U.S.C. team. Martin will have to do his best work to pull ahead of the younger athletes.

In the quarter the star trio of the High School, McClure, Simpson and Ward Dawson, has all the best of the dope, as all three of the men have run the distance inside of 54s. in practice this season. Coach Cromwell of U.S.C. is optimistic concerning his crack freshman from Hollywood, Hill. Cromwell asserted last night that he expected to see Hill hold his own against the fast preparatory school quartermilers.

Aside from the running events, and possibly the broad jump, the competition will probably not be as keen as in later meets. In both hurdles Capt. Lennox of the U.S.C. team should get away from the field, although in Harrigan and Dawson he may find unexpected speed. Harrigan has a bad habit of wading through the barriers in the high hurdles, which, under this year's rules, may keep him out of the scoring. Don Dawson is new at the event, but has gone the 120-yard distance in fast time for a beginner so early in the season.

Walberg of U.S.C. should find little difficulty in capturing the high jump, and Gibbs will fight for first place in the broad against Geissler. The High lot a car around the circular course in 52 seconds; Ben Kerscher, the little German, who cleaned up the Coast stars recently and drove mile after mile under 54 seconds; Lee Lynch, the daredevil who set the tongues of the experts wagging at the great meet at Indianapolis, and others.

The programme will open with the twenty-mile stock chassis contest for cars with a piston displacement of 301 to 450 cubic inches. The Oakland, two Jacksons and a Buick are entered for this race, and four star drivers will be at the wheels.

Then will follow the ten-mile event for amateur drivers for the Mabel McCane trophy, and the ten-mile handicap, free to all kinds and classes of cars. The latter event will bring together the biggest field of the afternoon, ten entries having been received.

Many experts believe that George Robertson and his new 100-horse-power Simplex is faster than all the others.

And then there is the possibility of

LITTLE RIDERS START ROW AT OAKLAND TRACK.

Martin Is Set Down for Ten Days While Taplin Gets a Fine of Fifty Dollars—Bit of Fortune Surprises the Gamblers and Bookies by Winning the Third Event.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

OAKLAND, Feb. 4.—Following the running of the Martinez Handicap at Emeryville today, Jockeys E. Martin and Eddie Taplin engaged in a fight in the paddock.

Martin won the race on Binocular by a narrow margin from Raleigh P. D., ridden by Taplin. In the stretch Martin was hit with the whip by Taplin. The latter rider made a claim of foul, as Martin had him in close quarters. The boys argued the matter on the way to the jockeys' room, and when the paddock was reached, Martin stepped up behind Taplin and struck him. The latter then hit his assailant and dislocated two of his own fingers.

The matter was promptly reported to the stewards, who suspended Martin for ten racing days, with the exception of the Schreiber stable mounts, and fined Taplin $50. Taplin was unable to ride out his engagements.

Bit of Fortune led all the way in the third.

SERVE BALL.

DOUBLES STARS TO PLAY TODAY.

ATHLETIC CLUBS TEAMS TO DECIDE HONORS.

Maguire and Hampton, Olympic Winners, Are to Tackle Whelan and Reynolds, Local Favorite, in Opening Match of Interclub Handball Tournament.

The opening match in the inter-club handball tournament between picked teams of the Olympic Club of San Francisco and the Los Angeles Athletic Club is to be played at the locals' court this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. "Midge" McGuire and Al C. Hampton will meet Gordo Whelan and W. P. Reynolds in the doubles contest, winner to take two out of three games.

The singles matches are to be decided tomorrow morning, starting at 11 o'clock. The drawings for the two matches have not been announced, although in all probability Whelan and Maguire, the respective singles champions of the two clubs, will play against each other, while Reynolds will be pitted against Hampton. The winner in each match must take two out of the three games.

The locals' court is shorter than the Olympic Club court, and is a trifle broader. The back wall is within easy service distance of the front, and is played a great deal in all the matches both on service and return. This feature, however, is not expected to bother either Maguire or Hampton, as they are both good performers in taking the ball off the back rack.

The contest with the northerners will be played with the regular black rubber ball, known as the "semi-hard" ball. Although this is not the same ball used by the Olympic players the northern stars have practiced with the black bounder, and should not be handicapped to any extent. All four of the contestants practiced on the court yesterday, and the exhibitions gave evidence that tomorrow's match will be the best ever held in the south.

Maguire and Hampton are said to be the two classiest players among the Olympic Club handball enthusiasts, and as a team they will be mighty hard to beat, according to northern reports. Although Hampton is older and heavier than Maguire, he is a lively man in the court, and his long experience has taught him all the tricks of the game. In the recent elimination tournament he showed excellent form.

"Midge" Maguire who holds the Olympic singles championship which he won by defeating Hampton, is the idol of the northern handball players, and is the classiest player seen on the northern courts in a long time. He is fast, clever, and knows all the fine points of the game. In addition he has youth and strength. In Maguire and Hampton the Olympics send their strongest team, which should give a good account of itself.

TALE OF A TURTLE.

Chicago Club Man Works Hours to Land Monster Shell-back on Rod and Line.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—Word reached here last night from Palm Beach, Fla., that James L. Stack, member of the Union League Club and Chicago Golf Club, made a fishing record there by landing a 500-pound loggerhead turtle with rod and line. He reached shore with his prize only after a desperate fight with a heavy sea that had risen during the two hours necessary to land the turtle.

Unable to make a landing at the pier, Stack beached his boat, but was so exhausted that he would have fallen a victim to the undertow had not two swimmers carried him from the water.

VERY COSTLY.

KAISER OWNS GREAT STABLES.

Finest Horse Palace Belongs to German Ruler.

More Than Three Hundred Nags of All Kinds.

Big Building Finely Finished and Steam Heated.

Lovers of the horse, who in these days of automobiles, flying machines and monorail cars fear that "man's best friend" may be losing prestige, will read with interest the description of Emperor William's stables at Berlin, which are the largest and best-appointed stables in the world. There is no danger of dispute over this statement, for there is no other horse home that can be compared with that of the Kaiser. William Skeels, of California, who is touring Europe, includes the description of this royal horse haven in an interesting letter to O. D. Shank, manager of the Wanamaker horse-goods store of Philadelphia. Mr. Skeels writes:

"Lay aside your orders for horse goods and listen to a description of my visit to the Kaiser's stables. I want to tell you about them. Now there is a horseman for you—350 horses, 400 coaches and wagons, 250 men to look after and care for them—all housed in the great granite building opposite the Schloss.

"The building is five stories high, 300 feet wide and 575 feet long. It is adorned with sculptures by Otto Lessing. On the cornice are horse tamers, and figures of ancient and modern warriors, while at each end of the main door is a fountain inserted in the wall. That to the left with Prometheus and Oceanidae, that to the right with Perseus and Andromeda.

"On entering the first floor of the building, there is a hallway 500 feet long lined on either side with brass-trimmed stalls, the center finished in tiling with heavy matting to walk upon. The horses on this floor are all black and of royal pedigree, and every one is a superb animal.

"On the second floor, the horses are all bay in color, and are for coach, carriage, road and saddle use, and among these horses, are also hunting and show horses for military pageants, etc.

"The stalls are all incredibly clean. The food is measured and carefully handled before being given to the horses, which is done automatically. The flashing eyes and glossy coats tell of the good care received.

"This vast building is beautifully finished and steam-heated. The coaches are 'infinite in their vanity' and beauty. The golden carnation coach rests in a rotunda with fifty feet of space above it. There are vehicles for all uses, including the kitchen and stove wagons used in the late war with France, and now used for the annual army maneuvers. The Kaiser's favorite every-day coach is a coupé with dark blue satin trimmings and half-inch strips of silver on the wheels, and a crown on the lamps and on the doors.

"The harness for the 350 horses is shown in glass cases. For the most part, the harness is black and covered with a mass of beautiful wrought silver buckles, snaps and bands. These harness are really worth looking at, but the carnation harness for eight horses in red leather with six-inch strappings, heavy stitched and padded and inlaid with black patent leather, all with buckles, 'as large as a pie plate' and other metal parts of fine gold, each piece a triumph of artistic metal working.

"Space forbids my telling you all about the hunting and riding equipments, the carriages and saddles for princesses, the collection of sleighs, also the historical vehicles belonging to the beloved departed Queen Louise and Frederick the Great.

"There is also seen here the sledge on which the great Elector pursued the Swedes across the Kurische Haff in 1679; the white charger which Frederick the Great bestrode at the battle of Mollivitz; Soldowa, a favorite horse of William I; and state carriages and sledges of the times of the first kings.

"In the center of the stable is a large riding ring, where the Kaiser and his family in inclement weather, enjoy horseback riding, and here the children of the Kaiser's family have been taught to ride.

"A fine set of harness presented by the Czar of Russia occupies one of the cases where the harnesses are kept, also a set of harness of fine form and finish presented by the King of England.

"The trotting horse has attracted the attention of the Emperor, and there is no question that the imperial stables will, before long, house some of these famous horses.

"One thing impressed me very much in passing through the stables, and that was the quietness of the entire building. No one is allowed to swear, abuse or hurt the horses in any way whatever. Don't you think that would be a good idea for the horse owners in America to practice?

"The Emperor has no mules or automobiles in his stables. The horse is good enough for him."

WILLIAMS WINS CUP.

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] E. R. Williams today defeated Terry Barker in the finals of the Coronado Country Club golf tournament, thereby winning the club's silver cup, which, for the last year has been in possession of the Annandale Club of Pasadena. The winner of 1909 was T. P. Mumford.

TRACK AT OCCIDENTAL.

The track men at Occidental College are getting into shape for the first practice meet with Los Angeles High School on February 12. The task of winning the meet will rest very largely on the shoulders of Capt. Thomson, and the big athlete is working out several hours every night.

MAYOR STOPS FIGHT PLANS.

Threatens to Haul Out the Whole Police Force.

Alameda Does Not Want the Doubtful Notoriety.

Hester Hopes Against Hope to Secure Permit.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Save that the scene of the controversy has shifted from San Mateo county to Alameda, the uncertainty that has been surrounding the Gleason-Nelson championship fight is still existing. As was published today, the Alameda Councilmen are opposed to the granting of a permit for a forty-five-round fight, and are prepared to block the deal.

Mayor Noy of Alameda made it even more emphatic today when he asserted that not only would he veto a resolution allowing such a fight, but in the event of it being passed over his head he would call upon the police to prevent it.

In the face of this decided stand, Promoter Hester still argued that he has a chance in Alameda, but adds that if the worst comes to the worst, he can take his fight to Oceanview, also in Alameda county, but on the other side of Berkeley, where Jack Gleason has talked of holding the Jeffries-Johnson match.

It is generally the opinion that Hester has absolutely no chance of getting a permit in the city of Alameda, and that Oceanview is open to him he will still be obliged to abandon his plans.

That the promoter made a grave mistake in announcing Alameda as the scene of the fight before first ascertaining what the city authorities thought on the subject, is admitted. It is possible that in so doing he annoyed certain of the Councilmen who might otherwise have been willing to grant the request. Gleason has nothing more than a permit in Oceanview, and if Hester is to use that site he will take some tall hustling to have the arena ready for occupancy by February 22.

I have had a talk with Councilman Baker, chairman of the Police Committee," said Hester tonight, "and I think that we can hold the fight there. The city ordinance does not prohibit a fight of forty-five rounds. It simply says there must be a limit on the number of rounds."

Right in the face of all this, comes the following statement officially issued by Mayor Noy:

"The Nelson-Wolgast fight will not be held in Alameda. I can assure you that. If it is necessary I will take my policeman in Alameda and put a stop to it. You can say for me that I will not let the fight, while no doubt it would give the city a great deal of advertising, would not be for its best interests, and—well, there is not going to be any fight here."

It is said there are five of the Councilmen who favor the permit, against four on the other side.

The sporting interests figured that Councilman Krumb would stand with Baker and pass the permit over the head of the Mayor, but Krumb declares that he will stand by the Mayor.

In the face of all this, Hester is reported unconcerned. He contents himself with the statement that he will fight, and that if he is forced to do so, he may take it to Oceanview. There has been some talk that Hester accept the proposition of the people to pull the fight off here, but that statement is entirely contradictable.

TO BOX SATURDAY NIGHT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS (La.) Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] If Jimmy Austin of Los Angeles does not make good in a bout with Kid Greaves Saturday night at least three boxers now here will miss their guess.

Austin has been praised bountifully by Dick Hyland, Johnny Coulon and Willard Lauder, all of whom have been him box on the Coast.

Both Johnny Coulon and his father claim that he is as good as any bantam in the country at his weight.

Hyland, for whose bouts Austin refereed preliminaries and semi-finals, gives the Los Angeles kid a 2 to 1 rating. He says there is none better anywhere in the country. Leonard-Lauder is the only one of the three who has seen both Austin and Greaves. He thinks that Austin will win, saying that he is cleverer and harder than Greaves.

Austin was seen in his first workout yesterday. He is a tall, lanky boy for his weight. He claims that he can do 108 pounds without any trouble, but he is taller than Greaves, is compactly built and carries most of his weight in his shoulders. Austin is a decided favorite in the betting.

BOX TO DRAW.

CLABBY AND SULLIVAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Before a crowd that filled the big auditorium the fight bill was pulled in Milwaukee tonight. The feature of the card was the ten-round bout between Mike (Twin) Sullivan and Jimmy Clabby. Under the Wisconsin laws no decisions are allowed, but it was the verdict of the newspapermen present that a draw was the logical verdict.

The fans were under the impression that Clabby had a shade on the Twin but the newspaper men agree that the Milwaukee boy did not do enough better work than the Twin to give him the verdict. There was some fierce fighting in the early rounds and very little clinching, but near the end of the bout both boys were feeling the effects of the fast milling. There were no knockdown during the fight.

Jack Dougherty was given a bad call by Billy Moorehead in the final. The fight went eight rounds. Steve Kinney outpointed Izzo, while Walter Weber and Kid Briak in the second JOHNSON IS BAD.

CASE FOR SUPREME COURT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Another cloud has come over the Jeffries-Johnson match, so it appearing certain that the champion would not be able to subject himself to the severe trial for the Finder of the date set for the fight next month. Johnson, it is understood, will be transferred from the Court of General Sessions to the Supreme Court, where the calendar is less clogged. This will insure a speedy trial and Johnson's case may now be reached within a month.

RICKARD DENIES.

GLEASON HAS PIPE DREAMS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ELY (Nev.) Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Another pipe dream," said Tex Rickard tonight when shown the telegram from San Francisco which stated that Jack Gleason, in an interview telegraphed from Missoula, Mont., where the Jeffries athletic combination is showing, had said that Rickard had given his permission to the handling of the Jeffries-Johnson fight, and that the bout would positively take place in San Francisco on the afternoon of the Fourth of July.

"Somebody's pipe is going," added the fight promoter, "and the brand is bad. I haven't heard from Gleason and Gleason has not heard from me. I don't know where Gleason is, and I guess Gleason don't know where he is, either.

"That is another of those ghost stories that has emanated from the ghost sports of San Francisco.

"San Francisco hasn't a chance for the fight. It if has I can't see where it is. There seems to have been a good deal of conversation going on with me in San Francisco, without me having been a party to it. They had it all fixed to have the fight without me at one time, but I guess they have got over that spasm and they are trying a new stunt. But their duodenum is out of whack, and if they have the fight in San Francisco they'll have it without Jeffries and Johnson.

"I am leaving for Salt Lake in the morning in response to a wire I received today, and my convictions are that the thing is all fixed up for the City by the Lake. I am wanted for a conference tomorrow night, after which I can tell more than I know at present. I have said all along that the fight will take place in Salt Lake, and Salt Lake goes."

In Ely there is an impression among the sports that there is something in the wind with a regard to the fight which the astute Rickard is keeping under his hat.

It is known here that Butte, Mont., is now to enter the field, but whether Rickard has been in negotiations there is a matter which none but Tex knows, as far as Ely is concerned. Jeffries is due in the Copper City tomorrow night, and it is understood that Gleason is on his trail. What Jack may be trying to do to Jeff is unknown to his wealthy partner here. Tex was a guest at a dinner given him tonight at the Steptoe Hotel in East Ely by a number of prominent citizens of the district. When he leaves tomorrow for Salt Lake he is expected to make a long stay away from home.

COFFROTH COMING FAST.

MAY WIN BIG WAGER.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—So far, James W. Coffroth, the San Francisco fight promoter, has an ample margin of safety on his rush trip to San Francisco to win a bet of $1000. Before leaving England on the Mauretania, Coffroth bet Eugene Cori of the National Sporting Club that he would be in San Francisco on February 8. The Mauretania reached here this morning and Coffroth boarded the Twentieth Century Limited this afternoon for Chicago.

The promoter's schedule calls for his reaching Chicago tomorrow and leaving a few hours later on the Overland Limited, which, if on time, would bring him to San Francisco at 7:28 o'clock p.m. next Tuesday, February 8, or more than four and a half hours before the expiration of the time limit.

Jim Barry Arrives.

Jim Barry, the heavyweight fighter, arrived here yesterday evening from Chicago and intends to stay on the Coast a month or six weeks. He says he will go to Venice and begin light training so as to get into shape for anything that may come along in the fight line. His hands are in pretty fair shape and he believes that in ten days or two weeks he will be ready to go into the ring again. He would not mind a match with Jack Burns or Flynn, if these two men perform creditably next week in their respective matches with Gunboat Smith and Langford.

Capelle Beats Cleveland.

The San Pedro Athletic Club furnished a good card last night at Peck's pavilion at Point Firmin, the main event being fifteen rounds between Billy Capelle and Kid Cleveland of this city, Capelle getting the decision at the end of the fight. In a six-round prelim between Sailor Hanson and Joe Silver, Hanson knocked out his man in the last round. Young Pico and Frank Hagura fought a four-round draw. About 400 sports were present and the card proved very interesting.

Piet Again Beaten.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Henry Piet met with another defeat tonight at the Nonpariel A. C. This time it was Tommy Langdon, who beat the Frenchman. Langdon rocked Piet several times with hard rights to the head and body.

IT TAKES TEN INNINGS.

Hoppe Defeats Morningstar by Grand Run While His Opponent Has Poor Luck.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 4. — Willie Hoppe tonight won his 1500 point match at 18.2 balk-line billiards with Ora Morningstar, by the grand total score of 1500 to 1032. Hoppe's victory in running out his last block of 500 points, tonight, was the most decisive of any of the three nights' play. He did it in ten innings, while Morningstar had only 225.

Hoppe's average for the three nights' play was 30, while Morningstar's was 21 45-47.

Hoppe's marvelous playing was the feature of the final play. He started off with a tally of 128, clicked off a 136 count in his fifth inning, and finished his string in ten innings for an average of 50 flat for the night.

Morningstar, in nine innings, totaled 225 for an average of 25. In the fifth inning the outcome of the match was really decided, when Hoppe ran off a brilliant 186 score, the highest of the match. Score:

Hoppe—128, 27, 0, 25, 186, 1, 34, 12, 0, 24, 40—500; average, 50; high runs, 186, 128; grand total, 1500; grand average, 30.

AT PHOENIX.

THREE CURTISS FLYERS READY.

TERRITORIAL AVIATION MEET IS PROGRESSING FINELY.

Curtiss, Willard and Hamilton Each Wire That They Will Be on Hand for Big Exhibitions Next Week—With Larger Machines New Records May Be Established.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Feb. 3.—Curtiss, Willard and Hamilton have each wired that they will be here by February 9, in readiness for the aviation meeting on February 10, 11 and 12. Hamilton's aeroplane arrived by express yesterday, the first of the machines on the ground.

Curtiss has advised the local committee that he will have new machines from which much better results are expected than with the old type. This latest machine he calls the 'Dawn of Sunset." It has much greater surface area and much greater lifting power than those used at Los Angeles, and will be capable of carrying two passengers with ease.

Reports from the East are that the inventor proposes to go after every aerial navigation record that he has not annexed already. It is probable that all conditions of wind movement and temperature will be ideal in Phoenix, and that the sky pilots will not have any weather handicaps in trying after records.

Section Observer L. N. Jesunofsky of the Weather Bureau has wired to Washington for special meteorological instruments, with which he will record special natural phenomena considered of value in connection with the flights. One apparatus is a kite meteograph, with which to record conditions in the upper atmosphere, comprising an aneroid barometer, and self-registering thermometer and hygrometer. Several local civil engineers have been engaged to take altitude observations.

For a couple of years there have been indications that the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce would make an excursion to Phoenix, and the Salt River Valley, though the nearest points reached were the Laguna dam and Yuma, at the time of the dedication of the Colorado River irrigation project. H. I. Latham of the local Aviation Committee has been in Los Angeles for several days, and yesterday wired that he thought all preliminary arrangements had been made for a popular excursion to Phoenix during Aviation Week. While the excursion is to be handled by the Chamber of Commerce, and while it may be called a business men's excursion, there is belief that a very large number of Californians will take advantage of the special rates offered, and will join with the Arizonans in the local festival.

The local committee now states that accommodations are assured for all who may come, as thousands of rooms have been secured in private houses. In addition to the facilities possessed by the city for caring for crowds at any time.

Superintendent C. C. Mallard of the Bowie-Globe branch of the Southern Pacific, has invented a new type of aeroplane, based upon deep study of aeronautics at the Los Angeles meet. He believes that the weakest part of the present system of man flying is the comparative difficulty experienced in getting off the ground. So, in an improvement he has sketched out, there will be legs under the machine, that will be light and not at all in the way, but which will serve to give an elevation from which the flight can be started with little trouble and with comparative security from damage to the machine.

HAMILTON'S FINE FLIGHT.

Wonderful Showing in Cross-Country Flight in Which He Loses His Way en Route.

FRESNO (Cal.) Feb. 4.—Ten thousand persons at the Fair Grounds today witnessed the flights at the first of Fresno's three-day aviation meet. Charles K. Hamilton carried off the honors of the day, making several spectacular air journeys.

In a long-distance flight over the vineyards to the southeast, he passed beyond the range of vision. On the return he lost his bearings and alighted in an alfalfa field. With the aid of a farmer he started off again and flew back to the fair grounds. Two indecisive mile races between Hamilton and an automobile proved interesting features. Charles F. Willard injured his biplane on his first flight.

Y.M.C.A. BASKETBALL.

Spiders and Thistles and Wasps and Spartans to Meet Tonight in Season Series.

Spiders are to meet Thistles and Wasps are to do battle against Spartans in the Y.M.C.A. basketball games of the heavyweight series scheduled for this evening in the association gymnasium.

Both the Thistle and Wasp fives have been strengthened since the first league games, and close competition tonight is anticipated. With their new men coming up to expectations, the Thistles hope to break through the hoodoo that has hung over them so far and the string of ciphers with which they have been credited. The Spiders will work hard for a win, in order to keep within fighting distance of the veteran Spartans, who head the league. To date the Spartans have won three straight games, the Spiders have won two and lost one, the Wasps have lost two and won one, and the Thistles have lost all three.

Tuesday night has been set for a practice night for the regular five that will represent the Los Angeles association in outside games. The first practice will be held this week, and regular work-outs each week thereafter. From the way the material has showed up so far, there is every indication that the representative team will be the best in the history of the Los Angeles Y.M.C.A.

A meeting of the candidates for the lightweight league teams has been called for next Wednesday night, at which plans for the schedule of league games will be completed. The first games in the lightweight division will probably be played on Wednesday, February 9.

DOYLE NEW LEADER.

Larry Is Mentioned as Captain of Giant Team—McGraw Has Claim Against Philadelphia.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Larry Doyle, second baseman of the New York National League, who sent in his signed contract for the next season today, has been mentioned as the team's captain. President Brush reengaged Arlie Latham today as coach.

The reconvening meeting of the National League will be held in New York February 17.

Before the session of the National League there will be a meeting of the board of directors to consider the claim of the New York club against Philadelphia for forfeiting a game at the Polo grounds on the last day of the season.

President Lynch of the National League today announced the following contracts:

END IN SIGHT.

LOOKS DARK FOR WEST CLAIMANT.

JUDGE'S REMARK INDICATES ADVERSE VERDICT.

Famous Sackville-West Peerage Controversy Will Probably End in Defeat for Son of Spanish Dancer. Court Rejects Offer of Contender to Bring More Witnesses.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The defense rested today in the case of Ernest Henri Baptiste West, who seeks to establish himself as the legitimate son and heir of the late Lord Lionel Sackville-West.

Adjournment was taken until Tuesday, at which time the judge asked Sir Robert Finley to be prepared "to pull this complicated story together."

The claimant asked Sir John Bigham, president of the Probate Court, for an adjournment, explaining that he wished to bring the whole Oliva family from Spain to swear that Antonio Oliva never married Josefa Duran, who, the petitioner alleges, was the lawful wife of his father. Sir John thought it would be useless to introduce the Oliva family, adding:

"I have formed very clear views regarding this case."

This was taken as an intimation that a judgment adverse to the petitioner would be rendered.

Today's witnesses included a detective and a lawyer, both of whom swore they had seen the church record of Antonio de la Oliva and Josefa Duran de Ostegia in 1897 and that then there were no traces of the erasures which were discovered in 1901.

Col. Cornwallis West, who visited the late Lord Sackville-West at Washington, said the belief was entertained there that the Minister's children were illegitimate.

Lord Weardale and Lord Saumarez, diplomatic colleagues of Lord Sackville-West in Paris, declared they had never heard it suggested that he was married to the Spanish dancer, and thought the intrigue was a matter of common knowledge.

EXPRESS INQUIRY BEGINS.

Interstate Commerce Commission Takes Testimony to Learn If Companies Are Competitive.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—In an effort to find out whether the four principal express companies of the country are really competitive or if there is a working agreement to maintain rates, Examiner Lyons of the Interstate Commerce Commission began hearings today.

The investigation is on complaint of State Senator Sundberg of Kennedy, Minn., who alleges that the American, the Adams, the United States and the Wells-Fargo companies are not competitive, but that their rates have been raised to and maintained at an exorbitant level as the result of an agreement.

Edward T. Platt, treasurer and director of the United States Express Company, testified that Francis Lynde Stetson did not represent the American Express Company interests in the United States Express directorate.

Mr. Stetson was elected at the same time as Levi C. Weir, Mr. Platt stated. The United States Express directorate was not increased to admit them, Gen. Alger and one other resigning to make way for them. The witness said he could not remember the other resignation.

ARMY SUPPLY DEPOT DAMAGED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The New York Medical Supply Depot of the United States army at Vesey and West streets, a seven-story structure, caught fire today and the destruction of the building and $500,000 worth of army medical supplies it contained was threatened. The fire started in the passenger elevator shaft.

Maj. Edwin P. Wolfe, in charge of the depot, and two veteran army clerks were taken from the fourth floor windows by means of ladders. Maj. Wolfe was slightly burned. Several explosions occurred on the fourth flor, where Maj. Wolfe said $10,000 worth of medical supplies ready for immediate shipment to the Canal Zone were stacked. These, it is believed, were destroyed.

NEW HUMANE OFFICER.

Capt. Gray Succeeds Reynolds, Who Will Work in Another Field Hereafter.

Yesterday the resignation of Humane Officer Robert W. Reynolds, handed in a month ago, was accepted by the trustees of the society, and Capt. Edward Gray chosen as his successor. The work is to be carried on just as heretofore, according to Capt. Gray. The new humane officer has lived in Los Angeles thirty-four years, and in Southern California nearly twice that long, he being nearly 70 years of age.

Reynolds will work in another field. During the two and three-fourths years he was humane officer, the society accomplished the following:

Complaints investigated, 1588; calls made on old and new cases, 9234; children involved, 9080; children relieved, 1658; warnings given to parents or children, 740; placed in institutions, 194; placed in private homes, 230; taken through the Juvenile Court, 179; prosecutions, court cases, 380; convictions or favorable settlements, 345.

PLANT EXPERT WANTED.

Value of Decorations on Porch of Purchased Home Is Point at Issue in Court.

A half-dozen species of shrubs and flowers, which had been "things of beauty," as viewed by the prospective purchasers of the house which they adorned, were the subject of a suit in Justice Ling's court yesterday.

Mrs. Fannie S. Teed, wife of Col. Freeman J. Teed, was the complainant. She and her husband went house hunting several months ago. They bought one advertised by the Hollingsworth real estate firm, because the greenery on the front porch delighted them.

When the tenant moved away to give them possession, he left the porch bare. The colonel said he had replaced the plants at a cost of $19.50. Suit was brought against the realty concern for that amount.

The magistrate refused to take the price paid as the market value, and insisted that an expert gardener be produced. Teed started to qualify, but was compelled to admit that there were many things he had failed to learn about plants. The case was put over for a week to give the plaintiffs an opportunity to find a gardener who can quote market values.

SAFE IS BLOWN OPEN.

San Fernando Postoffice Robbed, Horse and Buggy Stolen—Till of Store at Arcadia Tapped.

When the postoffice at San Fernando was opened yesterday morning it was discovered that the safe had been blown open and a small amount of money and stamps carried away. The cracksmen escaped by stealing a horse and buggy belonging to L. A. Stahl of No. 359 East Second street of this city, from a near-by barn.

Deputy Sheriff Wright was out all day yesterday attempting to locate the rig. He was surprised that the robbers did not abandon it at a terminus of one of the electric lines. The longer they use it as a conveyance, the better are the chances of the thieves being located.

Arcadia was also stirred up by a robbery Thursday night. R. F. Scheckel, proprietor of a general store, stepped out for a few minutes, about 9 o'clock, leaving his establishment unlocked. During his absence $200 was taken from the till.

TWINS TRAVEL IN TRUNK.

Tiny Babies Brought from Redlands to a Local Hospital, and Their Lives Saved.

After the untiring efforts of the nurses and physicians of the Sisters' Hospital to save the lives of twins born to the wife of Robert D. Milholland, four weeks ago, there was great rejoicing at that institution yesterday when it was announced that the babies will live.

The children were brought to the hospital from Redlands a week ago. Redlands is the home of the Milhollands, where the children came into the world.

It was said by the sisters at the hospital yesterday that it was remarkable that the infants survived the long ride on the train, as they had traveled in a trunk as an improvised incubator. And what was still more remarkable they say, the children were so weak at the time of starting for this city that their lives were practically despaired of.

Dr. R. G. Whitlock, a visiting surgeon to the hospital, has been attending the children since their arrival.

The twins, whose names are John and James, weighed three and three and one-half pounds, respectively.

SHAKESPEARE NOT OBSCURE.

Frederick Warde in Address Shows Rare Insight Into Motifs of Great Play Writer.

Assuming more than a dozen roles in depicting the wit and wisdom of Shakespeare's court jesters and fools, Frederick Warde, Shakespearean actor, brought out the quaint humor of these characters before a large audience at Simpson Auditorium last night. Then, taking up the more serious characters, he gave a pleasing and instructive talk about them.

"Don't let any one convince you that a person of ordinary mentality cannot understand Shakespeare," declared the speaker. "Shakespeare is not obscure, Shakespeare was an actor. He wrote plays to be acted by intelligent men and women and to be witnessed by intelligent audiences. He was a man of the people, and his plays were for the people. He was a man who knew the people, and he knew how to please them. He was a man who knew how to please himself, and he knew how to please others. He was a man who knew how to please himself, and he knew how to please others. He was a man who knew how to please himself, and he knew how to please others.

late Henry Irving and looking not unlike the famous English actor, Warde, himself an Englishman, went through almost the whole of Shakespeare's works, picking a character here and there and displaying a rare knowledge of the author.

For many years Warde appeared in Shakespearean roles upon the American stage, and this, together with years of study, has given him a rare insight into the motifs of the author. His audience was given a Shakespeare lecture than was different from the ordinary and one that set a new standard for such addresses here.

AT THE Y.W.C.A.

Miss Louise A. Williams, a talented young woman of Georgia, appeared in the auditorium of the Y.M.C.A. building yesterday evening in her monologue, "Dixie Land in Song and Story." She portrayed in a delightful manner the humor and pathos to be found on the southern plantations. Her dialect renditions were perfect. Mrs. C. Fletcher Quillian, wife of the assistant general secretary of the association, who is a native of Alabama, assisted Miss Williams, singing several southern melodies. The Y.M.C.A. Quartette rounded out the programme with two or three selections.

SOME APPETITE.

EPICURUS NOT HEAD OF CLASS.

NEW YORK GOURMAND HAS AN UNUSUAL MENU.

Former Foreman of Laborers Who Loses Job, Eats Ice Cream to Digest Champagne and Drinks the Bubble Water to Aid Assimilation of the Congealed Lacteal Mixture.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John A. Dooner, formerly Superintendent of Buildings under the Van Wyck administration, has been dismissed by Bridge Commissioner Martin from the position of foreman of laborers, which he has held at $2000 a year in the bridge department since 1905. The reason given for the dismissal is lack of work.

Mr. Dooner is more or less famous as a gourmet or perhaps gourmand. As an eater he had any one in the old Croker crowd in the prodigested class. A true epicurean, however, he does not believe in overloading the stomach with food any more than he would overbalance the head with wine. Thus it is that he boasted of never allowing himself more than four quarts of wine a day, and over his own signature once printed the following menu, beyond which he seldom allowed himself to go at a single sitting:

Three dozen large oysters.
Eight brook trout (boiled.)
Two portions of picked crab meat.
One sirloin steak.
Three portions of cold asparagus.
Five baked potatoes.
One whole hot mince pie.
One quart and a pint of champagne.

For breakfast he eats usually ice cream, which, he says, he finds an excellent aid to digestion after the champagne of the preceding evening. At noon he lunches on a quart of a certain brand of champagne, "than which," he has explained, "there is nothing better for the digestion after ice cream." Between time he limits himself to a very few quarts of that same certain wine.

WILL TRY AGAIN.

MRS. RUTH EVERSZ WILL REMARRY.

PACKER'S DAUGHTER ENGAGED TO NEW YORKER.

Betrothal Occurs Just One Year After Divorce Decree Became Public—Bride-elect Now Living With Mother at Santa Barbara, Cal. Brother Promotes Match.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The engagement of Mrs. Ruth Swift Everss, daughter of Mrs. Gustavus F. Swift, No. 4545 Ellis avenue, to J. D. McGuire of New York City, is to be announced tomorrow, just one year from the day that the separation of Mrs. Everss from her former husband, Ernest Hammond Everss, became public.

Mrs. Everss is now in Santa Barbara, Cal., with her mother, but the rumor was confirmed today by her brother, Harold Swift.

Mr. Swift, in fact, has played a part in the romance of his sister. The devotion of the brothers to Mrs. Everss, who is an only sister, long has been a matter of comment among the friends of the family. She has been an idolized member of the household and when she found it necessary to separate from her husband they rallied about her.

Shortly after her divorce from Mr. Everss had been granted, on February 9, of last year, Harold Swift persuaded her to go with him to New York, taking with them the small daughter, Barbara, sole custody of whom had been granted to the mother.

The journey was taken at the time to spare Mrs. Everss the publicity attendant upon a divorce.

While they were on this New York visit, an acquaintance introduced Mrs. Everss and Mr. McGuire at a reception given at the Waldorf-Astoria, with the result that Mr. McGuire has made numerous runs to Chicago since.

Mr. McGuire, who is an official in the American Steam Pump Company in New York, expects to go to California in six weeks to join his fiancé and her mother, and to return with them at that time to Chicago, when the date for the wedding will be arranged.

MEAT TEN MONTHS OLD.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The inquiry was pushed further in the cold-storage system matter in metropolitan territory today. The reported discovery of meat ten months old in one of the plants across the Hudson has stimulated the interest of the inquisitors, and today's session of the Hudson county grand jury, which is investigating the Jersey City warehouses, promises interesting developments.

Prosecutor Garvan made it evident that he was looking for evidence of a conspiracy in an effort to manipulate the food products market by use of the storage system.

Railroad officials were asked to produce before the grand jury way bills and bills of landing showing the amount of stuff received and shipped by the various concerns over their lines in the last year. These will be compared with the books of the cold-storage companies.

In all metropolitan territory eggs seem to be the only staple food product to show a downward tendency. Meat prices today showed, if anything, a tendency to advance. Consumption

WAGE CONFERENCE ADJOURNS WITHOUT MAKING AGREEMENT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TOLEDO (O.) Feb. 4.—Unable to effect an organization because of the deadlock on the admission of miners' delegates from Illinois, the joint wage conference of the bituminous coal operators and miners of Ohio, Indiana and Western Pennsylvania, adjourned tonight sine die.

No provision was made for another meeting. The adjournment, it is declared, does not mean necessarily a suspension of work at the expiration of the present contract, April 1. This would affect all bituminous districts controlled by the United Mine Workers, as they decreed at their Indianapolis convention that no district should sign a wage scale until the scales for all districts were negotiated. Both sides have declared, however, that they will not recede on the Illinois proposition.

Some plan may be worked out to get the miners and operators together again before April 1. It may be a call for another convention or the selection of a representative Scale Committee.

A meeting of the executive board of the miners was called for tomorrow morning.

The night session lasted only a short time. As no one had anything to say, the futility of continuing the session was expressed by President Lewis. His suggestion for dividing the responsibility for adjournment was followed.

A delegate from the miners moved to adjourn and one from the operators seconded it. A call by States resulted in the only unanimous vote recorded in the meeting today.

The deadlock was brought about by a division on all points between the miners and operators, voting by States. The miners refused to agree to seating delegates from other States unless the Illinois miners were included. The rules require a unanimous vote on each proposition. The operators stood firm on the ground that the Illinois operators had notified both parties that they would not be bound by any agreement reached here.

Lease of Millinery Store Subject of Litigation at Ontario—Student Body Elects Officers.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

ONTARIO, Feb. 4.—Judge Crane of Upland, sitting in Justice Pollock's court, this city, has decided a suit brought by E. R. Slater against Mrs. Grace R. Gribbin in favor of the latter. Slater is the owner of the room at No. 127 North Euclid avenue which Mrs. Gribbin occupies with her millinery store. He gave a lease of the premises to R. Van Buren, a jeweler. Mrs. Gribbin refused to vacate. Slater threatened to carry the case to a higher court, but Mrs. Gribbin said she would vacate as soon as the room she has arranged for in the new Akey block is ready, so a compromise was arranged on that basis.

Mrs. I. C. Baxter gave a reception at her home, "Carnelia," on North Euclid avenue, last evening in honor of Mrs. Robert Gray.

The student body of the High School has elected these officers for the second semester: President, A. Mitchell; vice-president, Miss Garnett Smith; secretary and treasurer, Earnest Lee.

A good track team is in sight at the High School for the first time since 1902. There is plenty of good material for the sprints and the heavier events. A practice meet has been scheduled with the Pomona College preps for the 26th inst. The big meet of the Citrus Belt League will be held at Riverside March 26.

The University of California demonstration train of nine coaches will stop in this city next Friday afternoon from 1:30 to 2 o'clock. The cars of agricultural and horticultural exhibits are in charge of a body of fifteen instructors, who will explain their contents to visitors. Last year a similar train stopped here and attracted a large number of interested agriculturalists.

FREIGHT CARS SMASHED.

Fireman and Engineer Escape Serious Injury by Jumping in Accident Near Riverside.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A Santa Fé caboose and two merchandise cars were splintered to fragments this afternoon in a somewhat spectacular wreck at the Pachappa station. The demolished cars were part of the freight train of fifteen cars standing partially on the siding and partially on the main line near the National Orange Company's packing-house.

The rear car was struck by a freight train which was "kicking" cars on the siding. It was in charge of W. L. Stewart, with R. J. Milliken as engineer.

The standing train was driven ahead six car lengths by the shock, one empty car crashing on the platform of the Riverside Navel Orange Company's packing-house. The engineer and fireman jumped, while the car was going at almost full speed.

Milliken suffered some lacerations, but his companion was not injured.

VENICE CLUB REVIVED.

Will Take Active Part in Athletic Sports and Social Affairs—Coo- Goes Elect.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VENICE, Feb. 4.—The Venice Country Club has reorganized, preliminary to incorporation. It will take an active part in athletic sports and social affairs during the summer. R. A. Phillips is president and M. T. Whittaker, secretary. The quarters are being improved and there will be accommodations for automobile parties and automobiles.

The Good Government League has completed its organization for the approaching campaign. F. McCarver is president; H. C. Breeden and J. R. Felter, vice-presidents; W. A. Rennie, secretary, and E. B. Browne, treasurer. A Campaign Committee was named, consisting of R. A. Phillips, J. Bumiller and D. Braunberger. An Executive Committee of fifteen has A. S. Lee as chairman.

The Supervisors are to be asked to see that no delay occurs in placing the boulevard between the beach and Los Angeles in good condition for

BOND ISSUE SUGGESTED.

Santa Monica Property Owners to Be Asked to Vote to Supply Funds for Storm Drains.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 4.—The property owners of eastern Oregon avenue met tonight for the purpose of discussing with the City Council the proposal to build a storm drain to carry away the waters that drain from a large watershed onto that street. They were not in favor of paying for the improvement by a frontage assessment nor by the levying of an assessment on a special district. Nearly all thought the people at large should bear the expense. As a result of the conference a committee is to be named to engineer a straw vote in order to learn if the people would authorize the issuance of bonds for storm drains throughout the city at needed points. The total of the bond issue would be about $150,000. Bernard Sues was chairman of the meeting.

An invitation has been received to put in a bid for the location of the annual encampment of the Southern California Veteran Association, to be held during the latter part of August or early in September.

The pupils of the German and English classes of the High School have been assigned the parts for two class plays which are to be presented at an early date.

An examination of candidates who seek positions as Federal census enumerators will be held tomorrow at the Jefferson school at 1 p.m.

GLENDORA.

GLENDORA, Feb. 4.—The first regular pool made by the Glendora Citrus Association closes with light shipments, owing to the growers holding their oranges until the market is cleared of damaged and inferior fruit. It is expected that shipments will go forward more freely in the next pool, as prices are more satisfactory now that poor fruit is disappearing.

GLENDALE.

GLENDALE, Feb. 4.—Fire destroyed the house owned and occupied by Ralph Wolfe on Ivy street in the Vineyard tract, West Glendale, at 10 a.m. It was caused by an oil stove exploding. The house was burned to the ground and but little of the furniture was saved. The loss is partially covered by insurance.

A premature desire to go West to convert Indians is believed to account for the disappearance since Tuesday of Joseph F. Hubbard, a fourteen-year-old Dorchester, Mass., boy. Hubbard has several times declared his intention of becoming a missionary among the Indians, and his parents think he has started for a Montana reservation by way of Buffalo and Chicago.

Classified Liners.

Times Classified Rates: The rate for inserting want ads in The Daily Times is 10c per word for each insertion; in the Sunday issue 15c per word each insertion; minimum charge, 25c; except under the following classifications, where the rate for each is 10c per line, minimum charge 1 cent: "Society Meetings," "Personals," "Special Notices," "Church Notices," "Miscellaneous" and "Baths And Massage."

"Liner" (classified) advertisements for insertion received over the counter or by telephone after 11:30 o'clock Saturday nights will be inserted under heading "Too Late to Classify."

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 10:30 o'clock Saturday night. Rates 1½c per word.

The Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 77,000 copies, and more "liners" are regularly printed in its columns than of the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

Telephone your want advertisements, or up "The Times" any time of day or night and secure prompt and careful attention.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

THE TIMES will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times in payment for "liners," no mistakes can be rectified without same.

SPECIAL NOTICES—

SUNDAY REAL ESTATE LINERS—Advertisements for insertion in THE SUNDAY TIMES must be in the office not later than 10:30 o'clock Saturday nights. Other want advertisements for Sunday insertion will be taken over the counter until 11:30 p.m.

The great volumes of linens printed in The Times Cooking Competition, numbering regularly over 1000 separate announcements, makes this regulation absolutely necessary in order to get the Sunday issue out on time.

THE COOK BOOK NO. 2, NEW EDITION, for sale. Largest, most elaborate and comprehensive cook book of the series issued by The Times.

Recipes for hot Spanish and Mexican dishes and the hygienic department are big features of the publication. The recipes, three of the best prize winners in the contest, are generally from Southern California wives and noted chefs. Price, 50c, by mail or to additional. Address THE TIMES, Los Angeles.

STOCKHOLDERS OF THE GRAHAM STEAMSHIP, COAL & LUMBER COMPANY: Notice is hereby given that the regular annual meeting of the Graham Steamship, Coal & Lumber Company will be held at the office of Eugene S. Ives, Attorney at Law, in the City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California, on the second day of March, 1910, at the hour of two o'clock p.m.

LIFE START.

WINTER CLASS IS GRADUATED.

Los Angeles High School Is Scene of Exercises.

Essays and Orations Show Painstaking Work.

About Eighty Students Earn Their Diplomas.

The stage decorated with the many championship banners captured by their school; every girl dressed in white and holding a bouquet of flowers, and the boys all in black suits, was the charming picture presented to the many who gathered last evening in the auditorium at the Los Angeles High School, to witness the graduation exercises of the winter class.

A number of musical selections were furnished by the High School Orchestra, and nearly every seat in the auditorium was taken by the parents and friends of the graduates.

The essays and orations of the students showed much work and thought in preparation, and such questions as were touched on were treated in a manner indicating the research which had been given them.

"The High School, Its Past and Its Present," was the subject of an essay by Era Van Loan. The young lady traced the growth of the High School from its birth to the present day of its perfection. She asserted that the American high school is the best on earth, and that it is as yet not so old to have reached its highest degree of perfection, and not so young as not to have taken its place among the leaders of the world.

INTERESTING TOPIC.

This was followed with an oration by Paul Davies on "The Relation of the Panama Canal to the Pacific Coast," the speaker giving particular attention to the benefits that California would obtain from the canal. He told how the cutting of a canal through the Isthmus of Panama had been the dream of ages with all nations, and that France had spent $60,000,000 in an effort without bringing the project into the realm of probability.

"Now that the United States has taken hold, it is assured that in a few years at the utmost ocean liners will pass from the Atlantic to the Pacific by way of the canal," he said. "The advantages will be many, but one of the strongest points will be the establishing of a much lower freight rate than is at present prevalent. It will be possible for vessels to carry goods from the Atlantic Coast by way of the canal at such a rate that the transcontinental railroad lines will be forced to make a considerable cut in their freight rates, or be hopelessly out of the trade altogether.

"Special advantages will be gained by Southern California as the timber resources of the East are rapidly being used up, and once the canal is through it will be possible to ship Oregon timber to the East at a freight rate that will make competition with Atlantic timber a possibility."

HER PET SUBJECT.

One of the excellent essays offered was a carefully-prepared study of "Child Labor Regulation in Los Angeles," by Inez Dunham. The young lady must have spent much time in looking up her subject, as she showed knowledge of it that could have been obtained in no other way. She also pointed out the conditions of child labor existing in the eastern manufacturing centers and southern cotton districts. These conditions, she asserted, were due mainly to a lack of strong public sentiment against child labor in their parts.

"Los Angeles there is strong public sentiment against child labor," she said, "and such feeling makes it possible for the enforcement of the laws regarding such matters.

"It was the work of a few women who had brought about such a condition of things here, and it was womanhood that had the law requiring any child between the ages of 8 and 14 to attend what is compulsory education," she said.

To have the finest child labor laws in the world, Los Angeles that are in force at any place in the United States. During the vacation months it is possible for a child over 12 years old to obtain a permit to work. And not only is that done, but in cases where it is absolutely necessary for the child to work, there are provided continuation schools where they may work and at the same time obtain an education. There are at present six night schools in the city, and, although it is not compulsory for a child to attend after passing the sixth grade, thirty children graduated from these night schools last year and entered the high schools.

TRADE SCHOOL SYSTEM.

She then went on to tell of the plans that are being made to start a system of trade schools here, patterned after those in Germany.

"We have even gone so far as to say that one of these schools already," she continued, "is here, a trade school for girls where cooking, dressmaking and millinery are taught, and the girls' school is shortly to be built."

The city superintendent delivered an address to the class, telling the members how they could succeed in life, and Joseph Scott, president of the Board of Education, presented the diplomas, prefacing his climax of the occasion with a characteristic address.

He held up as an example of true art and successful manhood William Mulholland, the genius of the Los Angeles aqueduct, and fired shafts of wit in every direction.

The remainder of the programme was made up of several selections by the high school orchestra, a piano solo, "Theme and Variations," by Lester Donahue; "Night has a Thousand Eyes," by the Los Angeles High School Girls' Glee Club; the presentation of the class by W. H. Housh, principal of the High School, and the granting of the diplomas.

THE KIRMESS.

ANOTHER LARGE HOUSE SWELLS FUND FOR ORPHANS.

Production Grows Smoother With Each Performance—Enthusiasm Increases—Irish Dancers Win the Votes Again—Added Features Are Promised for Today's Matinee.

One might have thought last night the opening one of the Kirmess, the glorious entertainment that society folk of Los Angeles are giving for the sake of sweet charity, for the house was just as full as on the first night, and the applause just as heartwhole and enthusiastic.

Indeed, the Kirmess is improving as a production with every presentation. Not the slightest symptom of that embarrassing ailment known as "stage fright" was evident at last night's performance. The young women and the young men went through the most intricate drills and difficult steps with a delightful precision and perfect ensemble which were delightful. From the grand tableau, the initial number, to the closing Marsovian dance, lithe forms swayed, dainty ankles twinkled and snow-white arms were swung with rhythmic cadence. It was hard to believe that these young performers were comparative strangers to the glare of the footlights.

And when it was all over—after the dainty Scotch lassies had clasped their rounded arms about the waists of no less charming little squaws; when Italian peasant girls were chumming with daughters of the Moor, and Fluffy Ruffles were exchanging congratulations with Irish girlies, and the whole bewildering array of beauty and grace presented a kaleidoscopic array of color and artistic effect, Joseph Scott, the official "spieler," was so indiscreet as to ask the audience which dance it had liked best.

To make a selection of the marvelous scenes on the stage of the Auditorium last night would have been impossible. But this choice was not merely for the matter of gratification, not simply a compliment to the dancers. It was a voting contest, a neat little scheme to help swell the revenue of the Kirmess that the little beneficiaries, the orphans, might profit the more. And so, the audience voted, and it voted as long as there was a chance to vote.

The Irish dance was voted the favorite, the second time that the Shamrock crew wins out in this contest. But, indeed, the other dancers are not to see in this any cause for discouragement. To be sure, the Irish set danced as airily as could be expected of as many days' treading the meadows of the Emerald Isle, but there were other dancers there just as clever. The Marsovian set won second place in the voting, and all the others made good showings. But after all, what is the use of trying to down the Irish? There's magic in the name. No audience can resist the charm of Ireland's dances and songs.

At the matinee, this afternoon, two new numbers will be introduced with the assurance that they will make two of the biggest hits of the week. French dolls and Teddy Bears, and the Yama Yama girl will be seen for the first time, and as they are to be impersonated by the little orphans for whom all this brilliant entertainment is being given, it is easy to guess that the capacity of the house will be taxed to the utmost.

Considerable extra money is being raised by the voting contests, the votes costing 10 cents each. At the close of last night's performance, the total votes cast for the leading features were given out as follows: Marspanish, 2605; Fluffy Ruffles, 3020; Inovians, 3240; Irish, 7463; Scotch, 6310; dians, 1040; Seasons, 720; Tarantella, 200; The King, 109.

ADDS TO HAPPINESS.

Opening of Williams Hall at Barlow Sanatorium for Benefit of Tuberculosis Convalescents.

With an informal reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Williams of South Pasadena, donors of the building, Williams Hall was opened yesterday as an important addition to the Barlow Sanatorium, where such excellent results are being obtained in the treatment of tuberculosis patients.

The new building is one for recreation, designed for the use of convalescents and contains an auditorium and stage, card rooms and a sun parlor. It is 60x70 feet and cost $3000. All of the twenty cottages which form a part of the sanatorium quarters are in close proximity and it will prove an exceedingly useful adjunct to the institution.

Among those present at the formal opening yesterday were Bishop Conaty of the Catholic diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles, Bishop Johnson of the Episcopal diocese of Southern California, James Slauson, president of the Barlow Sanatorium Association; Capt. and Mrs. Randolph H. Miner, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Williams of South Pasadena, the guests of honor; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Poindexter, Mrs. Wade of Santa Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Batcheldor, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Milbank, Dr. Milbank Johnson, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Beckett, Dr. and Mrs. Moseley of New York, Dr. J. H. Parkinson of Sacramento, president of the State Medical Society; Dr. Mathews of Kentucky, former president of the American Medical Association; Mrs. Norman Bridge of Pasadena, and others.

The visitors were all greatly impressed with, not only the new recreation building, but with the new laundry, which is a recent donation by a member of the board of directors at a cost of $2000. The cottages also shone in new paint and the cleanliness and order was an indication of the work being accomplished.

A new advisory board of fifteen prominent men and women who are taking an interest in this work for the poor who are victims of the "white plague," elected last week, consists of Bishops Johnson and Conaty, Mrs. E. J. Marshall, Mrs. Isaac Milbank, Dr. Milbank Johnson, Mrs. E. T. Earl, William G. Kerckhoff, J. S. Torrance, Miss E. Thomas, Mrs. R. W. Poindexter, Mrs. Randolph Miner, Mrs. C. Conner, Mrs. Bandini.

GREWSOME WORK.

EXCITEMENT FOLLOWS FINDING OF VICTIM OF CHERRY MINE.

Seal of Black Tomb Is Broken and One Body Is Brought to the Surface, Which Causes Weeping Women to Clamor for News of Loved Ones Who Met Death in the Ill-Fated Pit.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHERRY (Ill.) Feb. 4.—The St. Paul mine today yielded the first of its dead since last November, when the shafts were sealed to extinguish the fire that killed nearly 300 miners. As a result, Cherry is all excitement over the prospects of recovering other bodies. The body was that of Maestro Illrio, 25 years old. He was identified by a wage receipt found in his coat. Illrio was unmarried, and his relatives are at Cardiff, Ill.

The body was in good condition, in spite of its three months' entombment in the gaseous chambers of the mine, 350 feet below the surface.

As news of the removal of the body spread through Cherry, women filled the streets crying and talking excitedly, but the outburst was shortlived.

The prospect for the recovery of other bodies in none too promising. To get at the thirty-two bodies said to be in the bottom level, two million gallons of water must be pumped out, and to reach the 135 bodies in the east part of the second level, a new passageway must be cut through solid coal for at least 150 feet.

Pumping and tunneling will begin tomorrow. It is said the fire is now shut up safely in the east side of the mine.

RESCUERS FAIL TO FIND MORE BODIES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PRIMERO (Colo.) Feb. 4.—No more bodies have been added to the total of fifty-one recovered from the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company's mine, although large rescuing parties worked all day. Tonight it is said that a body has been found, but that a passage has not been sufficiently cleared to permit bringing it out.

Twelve bodies were buried at Trinidad today, five being placed in a grave marked "unknown." Five other bodies are in the Trinidad morgue. One has not been identified. They will be buried tomorrow.

State Mine Inspector Jones said tonight that all efforts are being concentrated in repairing stopes and forcing air into remote chambers. He is looking for the point where the explosion occurred, to determine, if possible, what caused the disaster.

LAST VICTIMS TAKEN FROM BROWDER MINE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DRAKESBORO (Ky.) Feb. 4.—After fifty-two hours' search the body of the last victim of the explosion in the Browder mine, which cost 34 lives on Tuesday, was found last night. This victim was Peter Kelly, mine boss, who had often described to his family how he would save himself in just such a catastrophe as that on Tuesday.

MEXICO MINE GIVES UP SEVENTY BODIES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Feb. 4.—A special to the Herald from Eagle Pass says:

Seventy bodies have been taken from the Paulau mine in Mexico This represents the total list of the dead. However, some of the twenty injured who are now in the hospital may die. The gas is all out of the mine and the exploration has been thorough. Not an American was hurt.

DEALS LABOR TYRANNY HEAVY BLOW.

DANBURY HAT FIRM GIVEN BIG DAMAGES FROM UNIONS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HARTFORD (Ct.) Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A jury in the United States Circuit Court in the Danbury Hatters' boycotting case, in which D. E. Loewe & Co., Danbury, Ct., hat manufacturers, asked $240,000 from Martin Lawler and 240 others, all members of the Danbury, Norwalk and Bethel unions, alleging conspiracy and restraint of trade under the Sherman anti-trust law, this afternoon brought in a verdict of $74,000 for plaintiffs.

Under the Sherman act, damages awarded in such cases may be trebled, and the court multiplied the jury's award by three, so that the actual amount awarded plaintiffs is $222,000.

Counsel for the defense held a conference and practically decided to at once appeal the case to the Federal Circuit Court of Appeals and then, if necessary to the United States Supreme Court.

If the higher courts sustain the verdict, the use of the boycott by organized labor will have been given a most severe blow. Judge James P. Platt in charging the jury, directed that a verdict be returned for plaintiffs and said the only question the jury would have to consider would be the amount of damages.

The actual loss of Loewe & Co.'s business on account of the boycott has been placed at $80,000 in the complaint and judgment for three times that amount was asked.

PROTECTION

SELL FARM FOR COST OF LIVING.

PARENTS MAKE A NOVEL BARGAIN WITH SON.

They Deed Him a $6800 Country Place for $40 Cash and Enough Provisions, Regardless of Market Price, to Last Them the Remainder of Their Lives.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Protection against the high cost of living is contained in a deed filed today in the Recorder's office, whereby Otto Meyer and his wife transfer thirty acres of land to their son, Fritz H. Meyer, for a consideration of $6800. The land is located west of the village of Riverview.

The $6800, however, is not all to be paid in money. A good portion of the actual payment is to consist of provisions from the farm, to be given to the parents regardless of the market price. In fact, only $40 in cash is to be paid each year.

Here are some of the things the son will have to part with each year during the lifetime of his father and mother:

Six fat ducks, six fat roosters (dressed,) one hog (300 pounds,) one forequarter of beef, three barrels of wheat flour, and twenty bushels of good potatoes.

After stating that the grantors shall have the use of one of the buildings for a residence and the use of a small garden near-by as long as they live, the deed says, among other things:

"The grantee shall give to the grantors two pounds of fresh butter, one dozen fresh eggs each week, one quart of fresh milk each day (except Saturday, one-half gallon,) and a sufficient supply of fuel, wood and coal; to furnish on demand a single buggy team ready for use, and to provide, free of charge, a competent person to do house work, such as washing and general house work, and take proper care of grantors in case of sickness.

"If grantee should die before grantors herein, and a disagreement shall arise therefrom, then the legal representatives shall pay to grantor or grantors the sum of $3000, and upon such payment as aforesaid, the grantors agree to release said premises from all said gifts and covenants and money payments in said deed specified."

Woman Arrested at Porterville Hints That Scandal Will Follow Development of Case.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 4.—Following charges made before the City Council against police, of protecting vice, Ethel Franklin, a resident of Grevilla avenue, was arrested this morning, on a complaint of N. C. White, a member of the Good Government League, charged with conducting a disorderly house. She intends to fight the case, and says that when brought to trial there will be interesting developments. It is said a number of prominent citizens will be involved in a scandal as day, asked for a continuance, and deposited cash bail of $100.

Bakersfield lawyer has been retained for the defense and the City Attorney will prosecute.

Comton Bros. of Pixley have just completed setting 6000 acres to eucalypts, most of the stock being fifteen months old. On two other tracts planting has been practically completed, about 11,000 acres in all being set to these trees.

EXORBITANT DEMANDS.

Residents of the Alpaugh section met officials of the Santa Fé yesterday to settle the question of rights of way for the branch to Angiola. Some ranchers made exorbitant demands, and the officials said that if the residents did not meet the company half way no road will be built. It is believed that as a result of the meeting no further difficulty will be experienced in securing the necessary land.

Daniel Walker, a laborer employed by Seiler & Co., was buried under a cave-in of the new sewer line at Oak and Fourth streets, yesterday afternoon, and was rescued by fellow-workmen when at the point of suffocation.

VALENCIA CROP.

An inspection of the orange orchards of the district has resulted in a report being sent out by the associations of growers here that the Valencia crop is as nearly perfect as any for the past ten years. Absolutely unharmed by the last cold weather, there is every indication that the yield will be a record breaker.

It is estimated that the pack from the Porterville district this year will be about 250 cars, an increase of about 40 per cent. over last season.

MATCHMAKING COACH HAS BILL

Woman Who Conducted Nobleman's Matrimonial Affair Will Present Itemized Statement.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An itemized bill will be filed by Mrs. William Ernest of No. 5493 Greenwood avenue, in her suit against Count Santa Eulalia for $10,000 for services rendered during the nobleman's suit for the hand of Countess Santa Eulalia, formerly Mrs. John B. Stetson, widow of the millionaire hatter.

Mrs. Ernest admitted such to be the plan today, after she had reiterated her denial that the case had been settled during the stay of the Countess in Chicago. She added that unless an early settlement is made the case will be prosecuted in Philadelphia. The itemized bill may be as follows:

Writing 100 love letters at $5 each	$ 500
Writing proposal (extra)	100
Sum due if Count is accepted	400
Introducing Count to wealthy widow	1,000
Schooling Count in courtship	500
Aiding him secure title	1,000
Money cabled to Count	1,000
Sums advanced to Count to attend King Alfonso's wedding	500
Money advanced for wearing apparel	100
Introducing Count to society	1,000
Schooling Count in conversation and conduct	1,000
Sums advanced	2,900
Total	$10,000

ANT POISON FATAL.

Infant Ate It for Candy and Died After Much Suffering, Yesterday Afternoon.

Ant poison eaten Tuesday by William Schreiner, a two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Schreiner, No. 1111 South Union avenue, resulted in his death yesterday afternoon. The child was playing about the house when he discovered something which looked like candy. He tried it and was taken sick. After suffering until yesterday he succumbed.

The body is at Bresee Bros.' undertaking parlor pending funeral arrangements.

TRAGEDY.

HEAVY BLOWS END IN DEATH.

REAL ESTATE MAN SUCCUMBS TO INJURIES TO HEAD.

Detectives Trying to Locate Man With Whom Phillip Moore Had a Fight Last Monday—Dies from Basal Fracture of Skull, Say Physicians—Inquest Today.

Blows received Monday in a fight resulting from a dispute over some property rights, caused the death of Phillip Moore, a real estate man, who lived at No. 569 South Glass street. He succumbed to his injuries at 10 o'clock last night.

The fight occurred when Moore encountered a man whom he spoke of as Bennett and with whom he frequently had trouble in regard to property near First and San Pedro streets. Bennett is alleged to have tried to drive teams over Moore's property at No. 110 and 120 North San Pedro, while carting building material to a lot which he owned. Because of previous ill-feeling, which was caused by a clash over the paving of a street, Moore refused to allow Bennett to pass over his property.

Statements made by the widow, who questioned her husband prior to his death, indicate that Bennett, who was much stronger and heavier than his foe, struck the latter with such force as to knock him onto a brick pile and when the smaller man tried to rise, he was repeatedly knocked down until exhausted. As soon as he could escape from his vindictive foe he went to a telephone and called up his girl wife, who is just 18 years old. Accompanied by her mother she went to the scene of the fight and took her husband home.

Mrs. Moore says that when she and her mother helped the injured man on the car, Bennett was also a passenger and laughed and jeered at the pitiful condition of his adversary.

Moore made light of his injuries when first taken home and talked freely with his wife and mother-in-law. He assured them that although he is not a fighting man he would soon be able to be around and get revenge. Thursday night he lapsed into a state of coma and continued to grow weaker until last night when he died.

Dr. Clair W. Murphy, who has offices in the Lissner building, and Dr. R. O. Hay, No. 1883 East First street, were in attendance on Moore and they are said to attribute his death to a basal fracture of the skull.

One year ago the eccentric capitalist married Miss Florence Shannon, daughter of Mrs. W. S. Shannon. The groom was 25 years old when he died and his widow is barely 18. Moore inherited his money from his mother, who died recently. She left him more than $100,000 in property and securities. The mother was formerly Mrs. William J. Moore, wife of a well-known pioneer and capitalist.

Detectives Murray and McCann went out to locate Bennett last night, but up to an early hour this morning they had not returned with him. The Coroner will hold an inquest this morning at the Boyle Heights Undertaking Company's rooms.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

STOCKTON, Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Alice Barton, a twenty-year-old girl of Oakland, and Frankie Adams, 21 years old, and recently from Iowa, were locked up in jail today for complicity in the murder of Sam Kee, a wealthy Lodi Chinaman. Ah Suey, who has always been considered a close friend of the deceased, was also jailed.

The quartette were carousing together Wednesday night, and yesterday, Sam Kee's body was found in Villinger's Grove, with a bullet hole in the head and over two dozen hatchet wounds about the head and face. The girls had been consorting with the two Chinamen for two days, and officers are of the opinion Suey became jealous of Kee, after quarreling with the Adams girl, who asked Kee to bring her to Stockton in a buggy, and killed him. Just how the body was removed to the grove, which is some distance from the main portion of Lodi, has not been determined. First robbery was supposed to be the motive, but this was soon disproved.

Kee was well off, and has been in business in Lodi for years. He was a sport, and white girls bled him for large sums.

TEACHER SEEKS DEATH.

SPOKANE (Wash.) Feb. 4.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Driven to the verge of nervous collapse by overwork and sleeplessness, Miss Belle Rogers, for the last year a teacher in Waverly, Wash., ended her life last night in the river, a little way from her school. She had spent the evening with friends and was heard leaving the house at an early hour in the morning. Her footprints in the snow led to the water's edge and early today her body was found. She left an affectionate note of farewell to her widowed mother, with whom she was living.

The worries of school work had brought on insomnia. She retired at 11 o'clock Thursday night after entertaining friends who had called.

A member of the household was awakened by a noise at 2 o'clock and an hour later the young teacher was missed and tracked to the water's edge

On the basis of an equal distribution of the money in circulation in the United States on February 1, a person would have 18 cents less than a year ago. The circulation per capita on the first instant was $34.62; a year ago it was $35. Both population and money in circulation have increased during the year. February 1, 1909, the circulation aggregated $3,091,313,546; three days ago it amounted to $3,135,884,720.

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BU-REAU, Los Angeles, Feb. 4.—[Reported by A. Wiskker, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock the barometer registered 30.32; at 5 p.m., the barometer for the corresponding hours Thermometer for the corresponding hours ed 49 deg. and 62 deg. Relative humidity, 5 p.m., 32 per cent.; 5 p.m., 25 per cent. Wind, m., northeast, velocity 12 miles; 5 p.m., northeast, velocity 4 miles. Maximum tem-perature, 62 deg.; minimum, 44 deg. Rainfall since July 1, 1909, 21.75 inches; rainfall last season to this date, 10.8 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

Weather Conditions.—The western high has increased in magnitude and now cov-ers all of the United States except New Eng-land, where the eastern storm is central this morning. This distribution of pressure has caused fair weather west of the Mississippi River, and general precipitation on the At-lantic seaboard. There has been a slight mod-ification in temperature over the Southwest in the last twenty-four hours, but the weather continues unusually cold in Southern Californ-ia, and light to heavy frost is again reported scattered localities in this section. The in-dications are for fair weather, with some increase and slowly rising temperature in Arizona and vicinity tonight and Saturday.

Forecasts.—Local forecast for Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair, with some cloudiness and slowly rising temperature Friday night and Saturday; variable winds, mostly northerly.

Forecasts: Fair, with some cloudiness and slowly rising temperature Friday night and Saturday, Riverside, Redlands and San Ber-nardino; Fair, with some cloudiness and slowly rising temperature Friday night and Saturday, in California south of the Tehachapi: Fair to-night; Saturday fair, with heavy frost in the morning.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 4.—Forecast: San Francisco and vicinity: Cloudy Satur-day; light northeast wind, changing to west. Northern California: Cloudy Saturday; light to fresh wind, changing to south; light frost in the morning in exposed places.

Nevada: Fair Saturday and Sunday.

Recovered Bear Interests Offer ge for Early Recovery of Prices. nks Expect Big Reserves Soon, hich Will Tend to Liven Shares. ellers Driven Down.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—Speculative sentiment showed much unsettled today as an after-math of the violent declines effected in yes-terday's market. There was no resumption of the heavy liquidation which broke the market Thursday and this left the way open to some recovery. The bear interests left uncovered to such a space as occurred this week to-day, a potential demand for stocks sufficient to carry prices away from to-day level. The course of these movements proved disconcert-ing to all but the most highly speculative cli-ents in the market and the recovery elimin-ated the enthusiastic buying which was per-haps the more impressive in the copper group when any signs of that sort ap-peared and made fresh attacks. Those at-tacks were most effective in the copper group and especially American Smelting. The possi-bility of the proposed merger as well as the consummation of annual earnings of the United States assigned as reasons for its probability. The course of speculative senti-ment was kept shifting throughout the day by preliminary estimates of the week's cur-rency reported to another notable increase in the surplus reserve of the banks. The last influence in checking the liquida-tion of the past week would be the prospect that the City Court is likely before long in finding a basis for their suspended funds. One of the upward movements was in progress at the closing, which was strong, with net gains of 1 to 3 points, and sales were irregular, par value $1,600,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

New York Curb Stocks.

(Private wire to ... F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange. No. 112 West Third street.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—The curb market opened with a much better feeling among the brokers and more confidence on the part of the speculators. A considerable rally took place which lasted for about an hour, when liquidation set in which carried prices in most cases down to about last night's close.

There seems to be a feeling of unrest hanging over the market, and until it disappears conditions are likely to continue about as they were today.

Boston Copper Market.

BOSTON, Feb. 4.—The market in copper stocks was a little steadier today and gave evidence of fair support and some investment buying. We may see a further rally from the low prices of yesterday, but we still advise caution in purchasing stocks, as we believe the market has not yet seen its lowest point. There are too many stocks still ready to come out on the hard spots. Following were closing quotations on the Boston Stock Exchange:

London Wool Market.

LONDON, Feb. 4.—The wool auction sales closed today with offerings of 8172 bales. The small miscellaneous selection met with a stiffened demand. The series started unchanged for Merinos and 5 to 10 per cent. higher for cross-breds. As the auction proceeded, competition increased with America paying increased attention to coarse and bright cross-breds, which had gained 5 per cent., while support from Germany caused a similar advance for fine Merinos. Compared with the December sale, Merinos closed par to 5 per cent.; cross-breds, 5 to 10 per cent.; and Cape of Good Hope and Natal, par to 5 per cent. higher. The home trade bought 2,000 bales, the continent 3000, and America, 12,000 bales. About 5000 bales were held over for the next sale.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, Feb. 4.—The Commercial Bulletin will say of the wool market Saturday: Business continues comparatively limited as the large consumers have not re-entered the market. The outlook is for renewed activity within a few weeks at the most. Prices are firm as dealers believe that available wool will be wanted for consumption. Scoured domestics and fine-grade cross-breds are in moderate demand with prices on the latter becoming stronger. The shipments of wool from Boston to February 3, inclusive, were 22,386,253 pounds, against 24,002,904 pounds last year. The receipts of wool to February 4, inclusive, were 20,177,123 pounds, against 25,863,073 pounds last year.

DOMESTIC SNARL.

SKELETONS OF FAMILY SHOWN.

TWIN SISTERS WED BROTHERS; TROUBLES MULTIPLY.

Wives Charge Husbands With Failing to Provide for Minor Children—One Spouse Discharged and the Other Promises Some Sensations Before Examination Closes.

A domestic tangle in the families of Jason and Eugene Woodyard occupied the attention of Justice Summerfield yesterday afternoon, and entertained fifty auditors, who appeared eager for every detail.

More than ten years ago, the brothers courted the twin daughters of George Robinson, back in Nebraska. The marriages were thought to be very romantic, but they threaten to end in bitterness.

The two couples have not lived together for a considerable time. Recently the brothers filed suits for divorce. The twins arranged to defend the actions, and incidentally swore to complaints charging their spouses with having failed to provide for their minor children. Jason was discharged after a trial in the Superior Court. Eugene was up for examination yesterday.

Only one side of the story was told, as time for adjournment came before the attorneys had finished wrangling over a motion for the dismissal of the defendant, after the prosecution had submitted its evidence. The case will be taken up again on the 10th inst.

Eugene, who is a carpenter, brought his family to Los Angeles about eight years ago. Their last place of domicile was on Avenue 32, near Pasadena avenue. Domestic trouble became acute on November 12, 1908. For several weeks before that time he had given the grocer notice that he would pay no bills unless they bore his O.K. This served to further widen the breach which had been growing between man and wife.

On the evening of that date in November, Mrs. Woodyard testified that her husband told her to get out of his house or that he would "kick her out." She said she left, taking her 8-year-old daughter, the only child, with her. The next day she went back for a short time, and then took the little girl to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Robinson of Pomona.

On the 17th of the same month she returned to the residence, and found that there were padlocks on all of the doors. She desired clothing for herself and child, and instituted replevin proceedings. Woodyard gave up the keys to the house to a deputy constable and paid the costs.

Mrs. Woodyard admitted she had never asked him for any money, but said she had gone to work as a waitress and paid her mother $5 a month to take care of the child.

Woodyard's attorney sought to have the case thrown out of court on the ground that it was not incumbent on the father to provide for the child when there was no demand made on him for money. The magistrate took a different view of the case.

Attorney Frank Allender, who was retained to assist the prosecution, bitterly arraigned the defendant. When the hearing is resumed on the 10th inst, there will be twenty witnesses for the defense in attendance.

The defendant's attorney promises to bring out family skeletons which will create a sensation.

SCHOOLMASTER LOSES.

Appellate Court Decides Monrovia Trustees Have Power to Discharge Servant for Incompetency.

The Second District Court of Appeal yesterday affirmed the judgment of the lower court in the case of Edward E. Taylor against Mrs. F. W. Marshall, M. R. Williams and Fred S. Whitcomb, school trustees of Monrovia. Taylor, who was discharged from his dual office of principal of the High School and supervising principal of the grammar school, for alleged incompetency, petitioned the Superior Court for a writ of mandate to compel the trustees to reinstate him. This the court refused, and Taylor appealed.

He was first employed in July, 1906, and the agreed term of office was for one year. Becoming dissatisfied with his work, the trustees instructed the teacher to do better upon pain of dismissal. He did not improve, the trustees alleged, so he was discharged, March, 1907. He asked for a hearing by the County Superintendent of Schools. The Superintendent sustained the action of the school trustees.

In rendering its opinion the appellate court says that Monrovia is governed by the general school law affecting cities not having a Board of Education, and that the trustees have ample authority to discharge a servant for alleged incompetency or misconduct. It is intimated that Taylor can sue for an alleged breach of contract if he wants to follow the case up.

NOSE-TWISTING CHARGED.

Information charging "John Doe" Krohn, No. 4700 Brooklyn avenue, with threats to kill George J. Driver, an employé of the William H. Hoegee Company, was filed in Justice Summerfield's court yesterday. Driver alleges that Krohn's boys threw stones at his wife and he told them to go home. He declares this irritated their father, and he twisted Driver's nose and thumb and made dire threats yesterday.

Welfare on the Quiet.

The conference between the Public Welfare Committee of the Council and the Police Commission was held behind closed doors last night. Chairman Plant of the Welfare Committee said out for a public meeting, but the others soon suppressed his democratic ideas. The meeting was to discuss the policy of the administration with reference to revision of the liquor laws. Nothing of the discussion was divulged.

MODERN CLASSIC.

A COMPANION-PIECE OF THE AUDITORIUM.

Beautiful Hotel Building to Cost One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars Will Be Reared at Fifth and Olive Streets.

A LEASE already drawn up and accepted, and which will receive all necessary signatures at 9 o'clock this morning, insures the erection of a magnificent six-story reinforced concrete and brick hotel building, to cost $150,000, which will be commenced at once by the Althus Land Company at the northwest corner of Fifth and Olive streets. The lessees are Bernard Frank Green, a veteran hotel man of Columbus, O., and his mother, Mrs. Mary Sells Green. The negotiations necessary to this important project were conducted by E. M. Whilton, with the H. Jerome Toy Company, a concern which has acted as agents in the leasing and construction of a large number of the leading hotels and apartments in the city.

The hostelry, which has been named by R. D. Wade, president of the building company, the New Auditorium Hotel, was designed by Architects Otto H. Neher and C. F. Skilling. The imposing structure will occupy a site having a frontage of 60 feet on Olive by 162 feet on Fifth. The sky line of the building will be very similar to that of the Auditorium, directly across the street. The style of architecture is to be modern classic. The exterior will be faced with light-colored granite. Two light courts facing the south will give all rooms direct sunlight and ventilation.

The hotel will have both basement and sub-basement. The former will contain a large café and kitchen covering almost the entire lot, and will have sidewalk lights on both streets and alley. This is to be known as the Auditorium Café. Boiler and engine-rooms will occupy the sub-basement.

The lobby on the first floor and occupying the center of the building will be ornately treated in marble and mahogany, the floors being in mosaic tile. The entrance on Fifth street will be protected by a wrought-iron marquis suspended by chains from the front of the building. Space for a number of storerooms has been reserved on the ground floor. These will have elaborate tile entrances and plate-glass fronts.

The upper stories of the hotel will contain 150 rooms for guests, together with about seventy-five baths. The walls and ceilings will be beautifully decorated throughout. All doors and woodwork in the upper corridors will be of birch. Every modern hotel convenience, including the most up-to-date elevator service, will be installed.

Mr. Green and his mother have taken a lease on the hotel part of the building for a period of ten years at an annual rental of $15,000. Mr. Green for a number of years conducted the Lenox and Monroe hotels of the Ohio capital. He disposed of these interests last year, and has since been touring the West and Northwest, seeking an ideal hotel city in which to settle down for the rest of his business life. Portland, Tacoma, Seattle, Denver and San Francisco he "passed up" for Los Angeles, after thoroughly studying each as a possibility for his chosen field. The hotel man is enthusiastic in his appraisal of Los Angeles as the coming city of the Pacific Coast.

Mrs. Green is a woman of wealthy family, being a sister to the Sells brothers, proprietors of the show of that name. She is a woman of exceptional business acumen. She and her son will make this city their future home.

R. D. Wade is president, L. A. Stahl, vice-president and Charles T. Bicknell secretary of the Althus Land Company. Wade bought the site of the proposed hotel from the local Elks' Lodge four years ago, paying $90,000 for it. He now holds the lot at $150,000. Mr. Wade is quite generally known as the "father of the Union League," having been the purchaser of the site recently vacated by that organization in preparation for the erection of its fine new home at Hill and Second. He has been for many years closely identified with leading oil interests in this section.

The fruition of the big project is said to be very largely due to the efforts of Mr. Whilton and the H. Jerome Company in successfully bringing the contracting parties to an agreement. Among the notable buildings in Los Angeles which have been erected as a result of the work of this hotel brokerage concern in arranging leases are the Cambria-Union, Burlington, Ponet Square, Percival and New Maryton apartments.

LULL BEFOR THE STORM.

Complaints Pending Against Many Merchants for Violations of New Pure Food Law.

Merchants who have remarked on the fact that there have been few prosecutions recently under the McCartney pure food law have merely experienced a lull before a terrible storm. Senator McCartney, father of the statute, will let loose thunder today in the way for complaints against forty dealers.

Business men who have successfully panned off cold-storage eggs for fresh ranch hen fruit will probably be compelled to pay all of the profits of such deception into the city and county treasuries in the way of fines. There have been several persons who have been guilty of such violations, according to the evidence, which has been furnished the Senator.

Mislabeled provisions of various kinds will also come in for a rub. The "pure" tomato catsup, "uncolored," will be included in the exhibits against the defendants.

The majority of the persons charged are small dealers. With the exception of about half a dozen, they are doing business within the city limits.

OPPOSE DISCHARGE.

Several creditors opposed the motion of D. M. Linnard's attorneys for his discharge from bankruptcy in the United States District Court yesterday. The case was continued until the 15th inst. Linnard's estimated liabilities at the time of the bankruptcy proceedings were $337,539.43, and assets, $97,800.

LITTLE OF EITHER.

SEEKS LADY WITH MONEY.

Man Asks Goo-Goo Police Department to Send Him Booklet on How to Proceed.

A cruel joke was perpetrated upon the police department, yesterday, by a man signing the name of R. Ford, and giving his address as general delivery.

This humorous person evidently imagined that a Goo-Goo police department would make a better matrimonial agency than institution of criminal investigation.

His tender epistle was addressed to the acting Chief. He wrote: "Dear Sir: Please send me your booklet letting me know how I can secure a refined young lady with money. One that will make a good wife. Thanking you in advance, I remain, R. FORD."

The acting Chief has not yet decided what to do with the letter.

APPROVED.

GOOD STREETS COST MILLION.

CITY WILL GO AHEAD AND IMPROVE MANY.

Plan Is to Have Better Municipal Arteries Connecting With County System Made Possible by the Bond Issue of Three and a Half Millions.

The Board of Public Works has approved the plan submitted by City Engineer Hamlin, December 3, for the improvement in a systematic manner of many of the great arteries of the city so that they will connect with the county's scheme of highway improvement made possible through the good roads bond issue of $3,500,000.

After two months spent in considering it the board gave its unqualified approval yesterday, and directed the Engineer to prepare the ordinances of intention and the plans.

The scheme will cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000, which will be assessed to the frontage and districts benefited in the usual manner provided by the Vrooman Act. The streets are from eighty to one hundred feet wide. Those included in the plan are:

Slauson avenue, from Vermont to the city limits.

Vermont avenue, from Santa Monica to Slauson.

VICTIM.

AS FUGITIVE IS ARRESTED.

Prominent Oil Operator Held on Check Charge.

Accused by Telegraph With Overdrawing Account.

Some Hitch in Transfer of Funds, He Says.

C. A. Sarber, a mining and oil expert of some prominence, with offices in the Delta building, was arrested yesterday morning upon a fugitive warrant from Washington, D. C., by Detective Home.

Several days ago the police received a telegram asking that Sarber be taken into custody upon a fugitive warrant. Yesterday a second telegram was received, stating that Sarber was charged with passing a worthless check for $213.26.

The check was drawn upon the Commercial National Bank of Steubenville, O., and was given a resident of Washington, D. C.

Sarber has been interested with prominent Los Angeles people in the Coalinga oil fields.

A telegram was sent to Senator Culberson, Washington, D. C., last night in Sarber's behalf, in which it was stated that Sarber holds a release in full from Amos H. Evans, an attorney of the Trinity building, New York.

It is stated that Sarber freely acknowledges the check episode, but insists that at the time the checks were issued he was in New York City and was unaware that his funds in the Steubenville bank were at a low ebb.

Upon his return to Steubenville he received notice that his checks had gone to protest and had been dishonored. He states that he has in his possession, and can produce, the receipts for the transfer of money through the Western Union Telegraph Company to cover the check in question, and a receipt in full for the amount from Attorney Amos H. Evans.

The wire to Senator Culberson also says: "It is evident that this attorney has imposed upon and deceived Sarber and has failed to pay over this money."

The wire requests Senator Culberson to ask Richard Sylvester, major superintendent, to arrange with the City Asks Pay.

The Domestic Gas Company, whose petition for the vacation of a portion of Eleventh street, between Santa Fé avenue and the Santa Fé tracks was referred to the Board of Public Works, was astonished yesterday when the board declined to consent to the surrender of the city's rights without the payment of $2172.50 by the company. The board is adhering to its rule that the rights the city possesses in streets are not to be surrendered for the asking or for any nominal sum, and the price fixed is regarded as safely within the value of the land asked for. S. M. Haskins and Manager Berkeley of the company, took the announcement of the board under advisement.

WILL PETITION TO ADOPT TRIO.

FAILING TO GET QUADRUPLETS, WANT TRIPLETS.

Wilsons Are Anxious to Keep Three Children Wife Palmed on Husband as His Own for Years, and Ask Court's Permission. Grand Jury Keeps Up Investigation.

A petition will be filed in the Superior Court this morning on the part of William W. Wilson and his wife, C. V. M. Wilson, asking that they be allowed to adopt as their own the three children who have been in their possession for several years. The instrument does not apply to the quadruplets that have been the subject of newspaper comment for several weeks, but those that have made their home with the Wilsons ever since they were babies.

There is nothing out of the ordinary in the petition. It merely recites that on November 26, 1900, an infant child, to be hereafter known as Vivian Lucinna Wilson, was born of an unmarried female; that on the same date, an infant child, to be known as Vivine Lucille Wilson, was born of an unmarried female; and that on November 2, 1905, an infant boy, to be known as Loren Basil Wilson, was born of an unmarried female.

It is further set out that after the birth of these children they were deserted and abandoned by all of their parents, and that they have ever since been in the custody of the petitioners without any agreement or provision for their care and support. The petitioners say they desire to adopt them; that they have loved and cared for them affectionately and faithfully from the time of their birth; that they are deeply attached to them, and desire to rear and educate them.

The prayer of the petition is that all persons concerned be heard when the case is set for investigation, and that they may be decreed the care and custody of the children.

With the document is the consent of both of the Wilsons for the adoption of the trio, but that of the District Attorney has not been secured so far.

The witnesses before the grand jury yesterday forenoon in the interest of the pending investigation, were Dr. Paul Bressie, Miss Hilda Lindquist, the alleged mother of one of the four children, and George Brown. It is said that Brown helped take the the quadruplets from Mrs. Catherine Smith's to the Wilsons, but that neither of them got anything for it. It is asserted in behalf of Brown that his wife and himself did it on account of the friendship they had for Mrs. Smith's daughter, Mrs. Lena Hayes, who was a former schoolmate of Mrs. Brown.

The grand jury adjourned at noon, and it is understood there will be a number of other witnesses before the body Monday, when an effort will be made to learn more of the affair.

OCKSREIDER GOES FREE.

GETS LICENSE TO WED.

The incident involving Nevin J. Ocksreider, charged with embezzling $2400 from Pease Brothers, furniture dealers, is closed. The motion made in behalf of the accused to set aside the complaint was sustained by Judge Willis; Ocksreider was released on his own recognizance; and then, to cap the climax, Ocksreider hied him to the clerk's office and took out a license authorizing him to wed Bertha K. Sonnenberg, the divorced young woman with whom he traveled previous to his arrest in Salt Lake.

To make it strong, and to show that her heart was still true to the young man, Mrs. Sonnenberg was in the courtroom when the order was made releasing Ocksreider, and they embraced affectionately. The marriage record shows that Ocksreider is 28, a native of Pennsylvania, and that his new wife is of the same age, and a native of Missouri, both giving their residence as Los Angeles.

It was contended on the part of Ocksreider's attorneys, that the facts as shown in the preliminary examination, were not sufficient to constitute the crime of embezzlement. The facts elicited were as follows: Nellie G. Oliver had purchased a bill of furniture from Pease Brothers, amounting to $4000. Byron T. Oliver, since deceased, was a brother of Miss Oliver, who desired to use the furniture to fix up a rooming-house, and a member of the firm.

In order not to embarrass either her or himself, the account, showing a balance due of $2400, was turned over to the Merchants' Discount Company, of which Ocksreider was about the whole thing. Ocksreider gave a note to Pease Brothers for the money, it being agreed that the Merchants' Discount Company was to receive a portion of the interest on the payments to be made by Miss Oliver, for services in collecting the money.

Later on, Ocksreider got Miss Oliver to give him three notes for the unpaid portion of the bill, and giving these on the three notes, claiming he had title to them, as they were made payable to the Merchants' Discount Company, and he was the Merchants' Discount Company. It being alleged that under the circumstances he could not embezzle for himself. It was contended on the part of the prosecution that Ocksreider was merely acting as the trustee or agent of the firm.

Deputy District Attorney Ford took exception to the ruling of the court dismissing the complaint, but in order to hold the case, Judge Willis allowed Ocksreider to go free on his own recognizance for a week, at which time it must be determined whether the prosecution will appeal from the decision of the court.

No sooner was Ocksreider free to go than he left the Hall of Justice in company with Mrs. Sonnenberg. They refused to say where they expected to go, or give their residence, and their attorneys were equally mute.

STILL OBDURATE.

WIFE REFUSES TO APPEAR.

Judge Moss heard the divorce action brought by Walter L. H. Geldert against Flora M. Geldert, partially, yesterday, and adjourned the matter until next week. There was not sufficient evidence to warrant the court in allowing a decree on the charge of desertion, as set forth in the complaint.

A feature of the case was the non-appearance of the defendant, who is now residing in San Francisco. Instead, she sent the following letter to a friend interested in the case:

"I have heard through my lawyer that it is your intention to serve me with a subpoena to attend the divorce case, February 4. Such a thing is absolutely useless. I will never live with Mr. Geldert again, divorce or no divorce. My health and my work here will not permit the ordeal or the publicity, be the results what they may."

The matrimonial troubles of the Gelderts have been in the Superior Court before. Some months ago, an action was heard by Judge Bordwell, brought by Mrs. Geldert against her husband, asking for a separation on the ground of cruelty. The husband filed a cross-complaint, alleging desertion. The court refused to grant either party the relief sought for.

The couple were married in San Francisco in 1899, and in the case heard yesterday, the husband alleged that his wife had deserted him September 19, last. Her cross-complaint set out extreme cruelty. Geldert is an insurance man in this city, and for some time he was assisted in his office by the wife, but he thought it better to have her at home, and purchased a home and fitted it up for her.

Then she became ill of spinal trouble and was sent to Santa Barbara for treatment. Afterward, the couple disagreed, a son of Geldert by a former marriage being the point about which friction appeared. The answer of Mrs. Geldert in the last action alleged fearful charges involving the moral actions of Geldert, but she did not appear to press them.

FRAUD IS ALLEGED.

SALE OF COFFEE ROUTE.

The difference between what might be considered an excellent route for the sale of coffee and tea from a wagon, and on that hardly paid expenses, was demonstrated in Judge Hervey's court yesterday in the trial of the suit brought by E. V. Coleman against H. E. Kissinger and W. A. Glasscock, operating as the Puritas Coffee and Tea Company, to recover $600 paid by Coleman, it is alleged, March 24 last, for a coffee and tea route.

The defendants advertised that they had something good in that line for sale, and Coleman began negotiations for the route. Coleman testified that it was represented to him that there were 350 customers on the route and that the clear profit after the payment of all expenses amounted to more than $25 a week. He put up his money, but now states that the representations made by the defendants were untrue and fraudulent; that the number of customers did not exceed twenty-five, and that in some weeks his profit was almost nothing.

The defendants alleged that no representationis were made as to what the route was worth or as to the number of customers, and that the doctrine of caveat emptor should govern. It was also shown that on June 7 Coleman demanded the return of his money, but he was given nothing but a smile.

PATHETIC PICTURE.

FRAMED IN COURTROOM.

A jury in Judge Bordwell's court is hearing the suit brought by Matilda B. Morley, widow of Francis A. Morley, to recover $50,000 from Joseph W. Owen and Eldie P. Wood, operating under the firm name of Owen & Wood, owners of a system of taxicabs in this city.

According to the complaint, the husband was knocked down by a taxicab, operated by an agent of the defendants, at Reid and West Pico streets, and as a result of his injuries Morley died June 1 last.

A feature of the case yesterday was the presence of Mrs. Morley on the stand. Accompanying her was her little girl, Ruth Morley, a bright, happy-faced child, who clung to her mother's skirts and looked with wonderment into her face as, with streaming eyes and choked utterance, she detailed the story of her husband's injuries and death.

Ruth was dressed in white, while her weeping mother wore a somber, black habit, that formed a contrast of colors. Some of the jurors, who no doubt had little ones at home of their own, took the greatest interest in the child, who did not seem to understand the purport of the testimony that detailed how she had been deprived of a father and protector, and laughed and romped around the witness stand.

CENTER OF STAGE.

SHOW GIRL AS WITNESS.

Miss Mamille Astor, the show girl, pirouetted, figuratively speaking, before a full house at both the morning and afternoon performances in Judge Houser's court yesterday during the hearing of the Spurlin divorce suit. The room was packed to see the farewell performance of Miss Astor, and if there were no Johnnies at the door it was no fault of hers.

An incident of the day was the "run-in" of Attorney H. H. Appel and Mrs. Spurlin, that caused so much excitement it was necessary for the curtain to be rung down until an explanation could be reached. Mrs. Spurlin was sitting by the side of her attorneys, and the opposing counsel imagined that she was making faces at him. So he let out a roar that could be heard at Bunker Hill.

"May it please the court," he fairly shouted, "I want that woman to stop making ugly faces at me; she is disconcerting me in the conduct of my case; I have tried to treat her fairly, but she must stop it."

The woman in the case fan on her feet instantly, and she said in a dramatic voice: "I did not make a face at him, Judge; but he is looking at me so funny all the time that I think I have gesting that perhaps both were mistaken.

The testimony of Miss Astor was in the one direction of denying that she had been guilty of misconduct with Spurlin, and trying to nullify the evidence of Mrs. Spurlin. She was quick with her answers, almost too quick. There was much evidence indicating a conspiracy on the part of Miss Astor and Mrs. Spurlin, having for its object the appearance of the show girl as a witness for the wife, the understanding being that she (Miss Astor) was to have one-half of whatever the wife was able to get out of Spurlin in the way of a settlement, but that was before the break between the women.

She also related how Mrs. Spurlin had been bitten by the theatrical bee, and studied for the stage in the hope of becoming a tragedienne, in time. She said she had gone to the office of Spurlin and accepted employment there at the request of the wife. There was a mass of testimony contradicting statements involving the witness with Spurlin, and it seemed to be the consensus of view that whether she told the truth or not, she was staging the production with all of the lavish prodigality of a Broadway production.

At the close of her cross-examination, when the witness became badly tangled on some of her statements, court adjourned, and Judge Houser announced that when the matter was resumed next Wednesday it must be closed that day.

LOVE'S YOUNG DREAM.

ENDS IN DIVORCE COURT.

An action for divorce instituted by Rose E. Kellerman against James M. Kellerman, a wealthy oil operator of No. 4198 Brighton avenue, and who has an office at No. 221 West Third street, indicates the withering of orange blossoms that shed their fragrance over a happy wedding party at San Diego last April.

Mrs. Kellerman was known as one of the handsomest young women in her set when she became the wife of Kellerman, who is much her senior in years. They lived happily for a while, but, according to the complaint filed by the wife, the husband began to neglect her, and she alleges that on the nights of last Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's he came home at a late hour, having evidently spent some time with the cup that not only cheers but also inebriates. On account of this conduct she alleges that she cannot sleep and has suffered much mental distress.

Kellerman has been cited to appear in Judge Houser's court Monday morning to show cause why he should not make a liberal allowance for the care and support of his wife pending the trial of the action. The wife in her petition says that Kellerman is in receipt of not less than $1400 a month by his operations in oil and as part proprietor of a well-known cafe in this city.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

ALLOWED TO MORTGAGE. The Third Church of Christ, Scientist, was granted leave yesterday by Judge Wilbur to mortgage its property for the purchase of Simpson Auditorium property, on Hope street, between Seventh and Eighth, for $125,000. Accompanying the petition was the contract between the church and the University of California, showing the terms of the sale of the property—$150,000; payable $5000 cash, $5000 in one year, and twelve equal payments of $10,000 each.

CHANGE OF NAME. Judge Wilbur yesterday allowed the Overholtzer Mills Company to change the name of the corporation to E. E. Overholtzer Sons Company.

WANTED MOTHER'S NAME. Thomas J. Dempsey will hereafter be known as Thomas J. Evans, under the judgment rendered by Judge Wilbur yesterday. The father and mother of the petitioner were divorced years ago, and the mother was restored by order of the court to her maiden name. The boy wanted to bear the name of the mother, and the court said he should be gratified to that extent.

HEIRS DROP OUT. An order was made in Judge Rives's court yesterday, showing that in the case of Augusta O. Hubbard et al., against the Southern Trust Company, involving the will of Carrie M. Jones, four of the proponents of the will, executed January 20, 1906 (the last will made by Mrs. Jones,) have authorized the court to drop them from the list of those who are opposing the probate of that instrument. They include Edwin W., Erstine F., James F. and Nelson M. Otis all beneficiaries under the will. This action indicates that the matter of withdrawing all opposition to the probate of the final will is being gradually worked out.

AFTER A DENTIST. An action was brought in the Superior Court against E. R. Parker, known as "Painless Parker," for $10,000 damages. It is alleged that the defendant, or one of his agents, administered hydrocaine to the plaintiff during an operation on her teeth, with the effect that paralysis of the nerves was brought about. Blood poisoning also set in, and the plaintiff alleges that she has lost more than forty pounds in weight.

INCORPORATIONS. Articles of incorporation were filed by the Yellow Aster Mining and Milling Company, capital stock $1,000,000, incorporators John M. Miller, G. A. Burcham, Rose L. Burcham, F. M. Moore and John Singleton; Broadway Syndicate of Pasadena, capital stock $50,000, incorporators B. F. Ball, James Clarke and O. O. Freeman, subscribed $3000; Square Deal Loan Office, capital stock $10,000, incorporators L. Joseph, O. M. Roth, Florrie Roth and Rachel Joseph, subscribed $40; Safe Vault and Protection Company, capital stock $500,000, incorporators J. H. Cosler, A. J. Kerchner, E. W. West, R. J. Park and W. E. Brock.

ASK LEAVE TO MORTGAGE. A petition was filed in the Superior Court yesterday on behalf of the First Presbyterian Church of Inglewood, asking for authority to mortgage the premises of the congregation for $1100.

ARE COMMITTED. The following persons were ordered committed to the State Hospital at Patton, by Judge Wilbur and the Lunacy Commission yesterday: Lucy R. Meylan, Milly Okell, Sophia Simonson and Leon Moore.

GIVEN PROBATION. In Judge Willis's court yesterday, F. C. Shoemaker, who some time ago pleaded guilty to passing a fictitious check, and who was given treatment for the liquor habit by order of the court, appeared as bright and chipper as possible, and declared that in his opinion he had been cured of the craving for liquor. The court allowed him to go on five years' probation.

MAY CHANGE PLEA. Hal Hardy, charged with the murder of William Moore, an old tamale man, on South Main street, December 5, pleaded not guilty in Judge Willis's court. His trial was set for March 24. It was understood that if at any time Hardy desired to change his plea, he would be allowed to do so. There is an impression abroad that Hardy will later change his mind, and throw himself pleaded not guilty, and his hearing was set for March 28.

WANTS PROBATION. W. L. Geissinger, who has pleaded guilty to the charge of passing a fictitious check of $150, January 12, 1908, the instrument being drawn on the National Bank of Burbank, was in Judge Willis's court, yesterday, giving a story of his life in the interest of a motion for his probation. He said he would not have committed the crime except that he had been gambling; leaving immediately for Texas. He admitted that he has used other bad checks. The matter will be disposed of by the court today.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

WIFE'S ANSWERS HOLD MAN TO THE SUPERIOR COURT.

Charged Husband With Keeping Her in Disorderly House, But, on Refusal to Testify Against Him Is Asked Only Regarding Their Marriage—Other Evidence at Hand.

Maurice Densmore, charged with keeping his wife in a disorderly house, was held for trial in the Superior Court yesterday, following a preliminary examination before Justice Chambers.

The case hinged about an attempt on the part of Deputy District Attorney Veitch to compel Mrs. Ida Densmore, the prosecuting witness, to testify. Mrs. Densmore had evidently been visited by some of her husband's friends or relatives, and, for that reason, seemed suddenly adverse to testifying against the man, and even went so far as to suggest that the complaint against him be dismissed.

Yesterday the woman made her appearance in court at the time of the examination, and, during the course of testimony, was called to the stand. The prosecutor was able to extract but little information from her. She had made up her mind to tell nothing about her husband's actions toward her. This was the attitude Veitch wanted her to assume, because, in so doing, she was willing to answer apparently harmless and frivolous questions, such as:

"You are the wife of this defendant?"

"I am, sir."

"When and where were you married?"

Mrs. Densmore regarded these questions as purely preliminary. She answered them readily, reserving her will power to combat other questions she expected would come later, and she replied: "We were married in Vancouver, in 1902."

"That will do, no more questions," remarked Veitch.

He had sufficient evidence along the lines of the actual crime charged, and needed only the sworn admission of the woman to wifehood to fill out the case, and Mrs. Densmore answered these questions readily.

Officers prosecuting the case showed that Mrs. Densmore was an inmate of the Arlington, a notorious cribhouse of the old days. They showed that her husband awaited her home-coming each evening, and helped her from the car.

Justice Chambers held that there was sufficient evidence of crime to warrant a further investigation, and Densmore was bound over, his bail being fixed at $2000, and, in default of this, he went to jail to await trial.

Attorney Veitch stated later that the woman had divulged her secret after a violent quarrel with her husband, during which he had kicked and beaten her.

"The real trouble grew out of a property row," said Veitch. "Mrs. Densmore told me the whole story, the first time she asked for a complaint. She said that Densmore met her in Reno and took her out of a disorderly house there, telling her he wanted to marry her. They were married in Vancouver, and came south He sent her to San Diego, and she learned that he was going with another woman, and came back to fight it out. They had invested quite a good deal of money in property, and they quarreled about this, and she wanted revenge."

Fined for Speeding.

Three speeders, tried before Justice Rose, yesterday morning, were fined $25 each. They were V. C. Kunde, W. W. Wirckham and A. A. Baroer. A suspended sentence of twenty-five days was given F. D. Requast.

NO DECISION YET.

No decision has been reached by the revenue agents in the case of Demateis Brothers, the distillers who are charged with selling brandy which had not paid any government tax. The officers may institute criminal procedure in the United States District Court or impose a heavy fine for the alleged violation of the law. The distillery will be under attachment until the case is disposed of.

Presentation to Veterans of Spanish War.

Stirring Scene Witnessed by Many Soldiers.

Cheering, the veterans of the charge of San Juan Hill, touched elbows with troopers who were with Sheridan in the whirlwind campaigns through the valley of the Shenandoah; grizzled old soldiers who stopped Pickett's charge at Gettysburg mingled their hurrahs with the boys who fought in the trenches before Manila; sailor yell met together veterans of the great war—members of the Grand Army of the Republic and members of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion of the United States; members of other and younger patriotic military organizations—the National Guard of California, veterans of the Spanish-American War and others who wear the uniform. It is this last-named organization which is responsible for this impressive gathering.

"No eulogy of mine, or of any man, however powerful, can add to the honor, the dignity or the fame of the Stars and Stripes.

"In my brief address I can say to you, compatriots and citizens, little more than what you know already.

"The resplendent banner which we here honor, and which we honor always and everywhere, is the flag, not of any State or group of States, but the flag of our whole country; it is the emblem of our nationality, the insignia of our power and greatness as a united people; the badge of supreme authority, the peerless diadem in the galaxy of all the nations.

"The flag of the Union floats in beauty and majesty from every fort and fortress of the republic, from every government building and from every warship of our puissant navy that parts the waves of all the seas. Borne aloft by brave hands, it has fluttered in the breeze above the empurpled decks of our warships fighting on many seas; it has flamed out from the smoke of battle on the fighting line and above the serried ranks of its armed defenders from Concord to Cuba, from Bunker Hill to Appomattox, from Lundy's Lane to San Juan Hill, from New Orleans to Porto Rico and the Philippines, and even to far-off China.

"It has been defended on land and sea in a thousand battles, and upon countless far-flung fields of carnage. It has been baptized in the blood of unnumbered heroes, and rendered yet more glorious by the sacrificial deaths which they died in order to preserve its honor untarnished.

"However sincere the affection of the citizen for his country's flag, no love for it is just like the soldier's love.

"Now, more than ever before in our progress as a nation, the Stars and Stripes command respect over all the civilized globe, among all the governments and peoples of the earth. Abroad, it salutes the nations and declares in majestic voice to all onlookers and to all listeners: 'Behold! I proclaim the Great Republic.' And the proclamation is now everywhere respected in the fullest degree. This pregnant fact is a proud tribute to Columbia's ever-increasing power, greatness and influence.

"In the great war for the Union, when the standards of the States—all of them entitled to their respective places of honor—were carried into battle by the volunteers of those States, they were never carried alone, but always beside and above them was borne the banner of the nation, representing the larger scope and greater power of the supreme authority. It was and is right that it should be so. The practice was a splendid example of the solidarity of our national system—a beautiful illustration of the sentiment E Pluribus Unum ('Many in One.') Our ardent volunteers loved and respected the State standards under which they marched, but they and the seasoned and steady regulars revered and worshiped the nations' emblem; and by their gallant deeds in battle they added fresh luster to its glorious folds and yet more splendor to its brilliant hues—hues wrested from the very arch of heaven. So that the inspired words of the poet became exquisitely appropriate:

"'Flag of the free heart's hope and home,
By angel hands to valor given,
Thy stars have lit the welkin dome,
And all thy hues were born in heaven.'

"It has become my high privilege to provide, and it will be my special pleasure to present to the Department of California, Spanish War Veterans, through its chosen commander, a stand of colors, consisting of the national flag and of a special departmental flag. Two interesting cere-

The guard came to the front of the stage, bearing the stand of colors, when the speaker, taking the national flag in his hands, delivered this superb invocation in the language of Capt. John Nichols Wilder of the old army:

"Stand by the flag! Its stars, like meteors gleaming,
Have lighted Arctic icebergs, southern seas,
And shone responsive to the stormy beaming
Of old Arcturus and the Pleiades.

"Stand by the flag! Its stripes have streamed in glory,
To foes a fear, to friends a festal robe,
And spread in rhythmic lines the sacred story
Of freedom's triumphs over all the globe.

"Stand by the flag! though death shots round it rattle,
And underneath its waving folds have met,
In all the dread array of sanguine battle,
The quivering lance and glitt'ring bayonet!

"Stand by the flag! all doubt and danger scorning;
Believe, with courage firm and faith sublime,
That it shall float until th' eternal morning
Pales in its glories all the lights of Time."

ARE WE TOO FASTIDIOUS?

A few days ago a lady fair, impressed with a sense of her mission in the world, projected her voice throughout the United States and nearly around the globe, with the demand that milk cows should have a bath every morning, followed by a rubbing with a bath towel.

Then comes another soft voice from a sister woman who preaches against the use of the old-fashioned roller towel by children in the schools. This guardian of the public health is intent upon Japanese paper napkins, to be purchased in wholesale quantities, one to be distributed to each child each time a pair of hands is to be washed or the grime taken off more or less of the face.

This incident not unnaturally raises the question whether we are not becoming a little bit too fastidious. Of course, one will sympathize with Lord Chesterfield and not with the waiter. This exponent of all politeness and elegance of life sat down to his dinner and found a plate set before him not overclean. The lord remonstrated with the serving man, and the latter retorted with a generally accepted dictum of his day that a man had to eat a peck of dirt during his lifetime anyhow. The noble lord replied that it was not generally received as doctrine that the whole peck must be partaken of at one meal.

In support of the campaign of the woman with her Japanese individual napkins we have the report of the Board of Education of the city of New York before us. The physicians of the Board of Health went through the public schools and examined 323,344 children, about half the total of those who attended the public schools of that city during the year 1909. The report showed that less than one-fourth of all had no physical defects. Three-fourths of the public school children examined in that city were afflicted in one way or another, and the showing was so startling that the School Commissioners gave instant attention to the matter. They assumed that the defective children not examined would show about the same proportion as those examined. Nearly one-fourth of a million of those subjected to the examination were in urgent need of medical or surgical treatment.

The extreme cases perhaps were numerous enough to produce a deep impression, but it appears to us that the surprise lies in the fact that one-fourth of so many children should be found without physical defect. Of course, everything depends upon the standard. It is quite generally assumed, not only by physicians but by lay persons who study this matter at all closely, that there is no such thing as physical perfection in the human race any more than there is moral perfection. The biblical expression, "There is none good, no, not one," might properly be extended to the statement that there is none sane, no not one, and still further that there is none physically perfect, no, not one. Yet the human race has struggled up through ages to a pretty satisfactorily high plane of development.

Modern medical science is inclined to question the contagious nature of diseases. The Chinese and other backward races have a horror of certain forms of illness not found among ourselves in our own day. Probably the truth lies midway between extremes. There is a certain amount of infectious nature about diseases. They undoubtedly can be communicated by close contact. The woman with the bath for the cow calls up the question of clean eating. A sacred poet of England of olden time, George Herbert, says in one of his verses, "He peeleth his apple who would eat clean." Here is one of the lines of progress in which human life moves at a geometrical ratio where the common difference is immense.

We are told by those who study sociological questions that the span of human life is expanding at the present time, and we are promised that the expansion will be greater in the immediate future than in the immediate past. Many of these students aver that it is an easy matter to prolong the average life of human beings to a round century. We think there is some foundation for this theory. It will come, perhaps not in the tepid bath with plenty of soap lather for the cow, nor in the use of individual towels, but in safeguarding more carefully the food of the people and in protecting each individual from the diseases of the others.

THE PARIS LOOTERS.

There is an element in Paris scarcely matched in the population of any other city nominally Christian. No newspapers in the world appear day by day with so many items of crime as are printed by those of the French capital. While the people in that city are for the most part about as they are elsewhere, there is a class in Paris not to be found in other places. The crimes are of the most revolting character. All traces of moral restraint are absent from the souls of those who perpetrate such offenses against their fellow-men. The floods have wrought much havoc where these people live. The rag-pickers' quarters are among the most wretched in Paris. The poverty of the people is great, their ignorance profound; morals they have not. On the higher ground around St. Denis is another quarter of squalid want and dense ignorance, where the people live more after the instincts of brutes than by the standards of human life. Into either of these quarters it would cost a well-dressed man his life to penetrate late at night. The police are powerless. When a crime is committed the rabble gathers in large numbers. The police are thwarted at every step, while a path is made for the malefactor to get away through the crowd.

These criminals are cunning in their devices beyond anything we know. It is not uncommon in case of a murder to cut the corpse into many pieces and scatter them all over the city in order to baffle the detectives and to prevent identification. Arrests may be made, but nothing can be proved.

The reason for the crimes is, at root, poverty. The cruelty manifested is the result of ignorance so dense that the tongue of conscience is put to silence. Paris is a great city of 2,600,000 people where it is impossible for many to make a living. For thousands more the earnings are so small that griping want is present all days of the year. Out of these conditions spring the crimes that fill the papers. The Paris of the Reign of Terror is always there. It broke forth in the distressful days after the war with Prussia and is always ready to flare at any opportunity.

SHIP SUSIDIES.

As might be expected, the proposed legislation to subsidize steamers carrying the mails between ports in the United States and foreign points will encounter opposition from many sides. It will have rough sledding in both Houses of Congress.

Nearly all Democratic members of the House and Senate will loudly argue against it; and it is probable that their natural allies, the insurgent Republicans, will vote with the Democrats. Many Republicans from the interior part of the country, where the benefits will not appear so plain in building up the lines plying between foreign points under our flag, will be opposed to it.

The first snag it strikes is between interests which would be friendly to the bill if framed according to their wishes. Their efforts will be to get a law which, while encouraging the operation of steamship lines between American ports and foreign places, will look first of all to the amount of encouragement such a bill will afford for American shipbuilding.

If the bill ever goes through Congress, during the present sitting...

THE SWAP.

...of "trading" done between the different interests. It is almost a brand-new idea with us. It is one which has been violently opposed until recently. It takes time, patience and reasonable argument to change people over from what is in the nature of a fixed idea.

We have now become a nation of importers of finished products as well as of foodstuffs. In agricultural products we had no very powerful rival until recently in the markets of the world. The buying nations came to our doors to secure our breadstuffs and meats. In finished products we have to fight our way every step in the outside markets. Our rivals are keen. They encourage steamship lines generally, and the routes on which these subsidies are paid cover pretty nearly the whole globe. Under these changed conditions there is just one choice for the American people. We must either be content to let foreign ships carry our merchandise, or do what our rivals do, help our steamships with mail subsidies in order that they may be able to compete with their rivals.

WAGES AND COST OF LIVING.

Congress is to make an inquiry into the question, Why is the cost of living so much greater than it was a few years ago?

It is to be hoped that the committee will be picked with intelligent care. Whether that brand not yet plucked from the burning who presides over the House of Representatives would select the right committee or not is not for us to say. Certainly it should not be left for the caucus which puts forward Mr. Rainey of Illinois and Ollie James to choose. There are many Congressmen whose names arise to mind who are about as competent for the task as they would be to separate the Jehovistic verses in Genesis from the Elohistic passages and explain why the dual text is in the Bible.

If the committee does the work thoroughly the report will make a big volume. Roughly speaking, it might be said that the reasons, while not so numerous as the stars in the sky or the sands on the shore, do not run up beyond the three digits which carry our system of notation to hundreds.

One particular line of investigation which should be gone into with thoroughness is that which would fix the relation of the cost of living to the ability of the average family to meet the cost. The relative increase in wages and in the days for which wages are regularly paid would be enlightening.

He will be a Congressman slow of intellect who thinks wages for farm work, wages in factories and mills, wages in the building trades can be advanced all around while the cost of what labor produces remains the same. Here we have 30,000 trainmen at Chicago demanding another increase in wages. Will the common carriers be able to perform the services they do for the people at as low a charge at high wages as at low? If mixing mortar is now skilled labor and paid $5 per day, can a house be built as cheaply as when the hod-carrier mixed the lime and sand and got $1.50 per day? If the carrying of stuff to market and the building of a house cost more, will not flour and rents be higher?

A BIG VISION.

Senator Heyburn must have been at the Senate bar when he got that vision of so much money going into the postal savings banks that it would enable the board of trustees to dictate the interest rates of money for all the country. He conceives that $700,000,000 will be placed on deposit with these banks.

Until the President let us know something of the plan under which these banks would be operated we had a good deal of misgiving as to the wisdom of trying them. As proposed, we are reconciled to them.

The rate of interest will be 2 per cent.; the funds gathered will be placed by the government with local banks at a slight increase which will pay the government the cost of conducting the business. This will keep the money where it belongs and keep it in circulation.

We do not expect to see much money intrusted to these new institutions. The people are too intelligent to give a bank money at 2 per cent. when the bank next door pays 4. If the new banks bring down the rate of interest it will be because of the bringing of money out of hiding places into hands that will put it to work.

Senator Heyburn gives expression to a general proposition, however, in which we heartily join. He deprecates the interference of the government with business in any way. We think the less the government does of this, the better it will be for all, for the government particularly.

The Seine is now rapidly falling. But it never was high enough to be known as the San Gabriel of France. When the San Gabriel is on a rampage the lines of Southey upon "How the Waters

BURDETTE'S COMMENTS.

XLV.

Sport and Butchery.

HONOLULU, January.

The Society For the Conservation of Human Game had assembled in the same place, about half an hour after breakfast, when the natural appetite is reminiscent rather than anticipatory. It had been ascertained, after several rather embarrassing experimental meetings, that this hour was conducive to debates and reports, none the less interesting because they were more theoretic, without immediate application. A young bear turned over a flat stone and larded his investigating tongue with an assorted variety of fat bugs which he should have divided with the bass, who was watching the process with the appetite of a farm hand at sundown. But he didn't. Instead he turned to the big buck and said:

"Say, Buck, isn't this some'r's about the place where you killed that old man with the long white beard, last summer?"

"No," replied Buck, "that was farther north, up on the Bitter Fork of Christian River. It was late in the season, about the middle of October. The old fellow came up and went into camp in a clump of pine woods, with his invalid daughter. I soon smelled them out, found where they were, and kept an eye out for them. A couple of weeks after they got fairly settled their guide had to go back to the town after something, and one day the old man wandered away from camp with a trout rod in his hand. I had a couple of gray wolves with me that summer, about the last ones left in the State, I reckon. I'd hunted them a couple of seasons before and knew what they could do. I called them out when the old fellow was about a mile from camp, and set them on his trail. It was fresh and warm and they caught it in a second.

"When they first gave cry, I could see the old man standing on a rock in a clump of alders, making casts into the brook. The minute he heard the wolves he dropped his rod and made a bee line for his camp, fast as his old legs could toddle, and he was mighty spry for his years, let me tell you. Well, sir, it was more fun than a box of monkeys to see the old chap beat and double and dodge. He thought he was doing great work, when the wolves were only playing with him. We headed him this way and that. Just as he thought he was on a safe stretch for the camp and his gun, we'd have him down a glade leading straight away from his goal. What he didn't know about the woods was worth going hungry to see. Two or three times he shouted to warn his daughter or call for help, but we soon let him understand he'd need all his breath for running, without wasting a gasp of it in yelling. Once he started up a tree, but he wasn't quick enough, and the wolves came so close that he could fairly feel their hot breath on his legs, and he dropped to the ground and scrambled off again, thinking that it was his wonderful burst of speed that saved him. I laughed 'till I could hardly see the chase.

"Once we let him get pretty close to his camp, just for the fun of it, and he yelled for his daughter like a maniac. That came pretty near spoiling the hunt, for she came out of their little cabin and one of the wolves caught a glimpse of her and started to get between her and the door. But I knew we could get her any time, and I didn't know but the old man might have a gun somewhere among the trees, and I didn't care to let him get his hands on it. I believe in the man's way of hunting—chances a hundred to one on my side, and no favors.

"Finally we headed him into a little opening about a quarter of a mile across, and closed in on him. Run? You should have seen him. Eyes bloodshot and staring; heart pounding against his old ribs like a trip hammer; breath panting in thick, sobbing bursts; his whole frame trembling from weakness and excitement and fear. He gave a great choking cry as one of the wolves jumped for his throat. He tried to make a fight with his bare hands, but he went down at once, his shrieks smothered under the closing jaws. He turned his great pleading eyes on me while the wolves were worrying him, and I declare, they looked so like a deer's that they haunted me all day. I like to see a man killed, and to help kill him, once in a while, just for sport, and only for sport, mind you. I'm no butcher. But I'm not a tiger, and just to kill a man for the sake of killing, is revolting to me. I call that little better than murder.

"But to go out occasionally and kill a man just for the exercise, and the fun of it; to breathe the balm of the woods and match my speed and strength against the man, when I can catch the cowardly thing without his gun—well, I don't know how some water-blooded, hypocritical smug-faced animals may regard it, but I call it sport. I find it ennobling, myself. To me there is a generous exhilaration about running a man down and killing him in the open, after a fair chase, say one full antlered buck and a dozen wolves to one man—that is akin to religious exaltation. I feel stronger, and I feel the uplift of nobler aspirations and purer purposes after a morning spent in a man-hunt in the fragrant woods, with the psalm of the view-halloo of two or three fair...

USE OATHS TO TRIM PHRASES.

WOMAN AND MAID ACCUSED BY INDIGNANT NEIGHBORS.

Charge Is That Fiery Language Has Been Mostly Directed Against Inoffensive Mother—"Peace Disturbance" Warrant Is Issued—Night Is Spent in the City Jail.

The "Army of Flanders," celebrated in history as a "cussing" aggregation, would have to surrender its laurels to Mrs. Esther Marks and her maid, Mrs. Rilla Taylor, who live at No. 1248 West Twentieth street, according to the statements made by an indignant deputation which entered Judge Rose's court yesterday.

Led by Mrs. Alice May Van Blewett, several women swore to a complaint, which charges Mrs. Marks and her colored maid with "disturbing the peace."

The neighbors assert that the two women named in the complaint used sulphurous language and ripped out oaths that would do credit to pirates. Oaths interspersed with dainty, little swear words are said to have been used with telling effect. The complaining witnesses say that the language which called forth their wrath has been chiefly directed against the mother of Mrs. Marks, who lives with her daughter. The colored maid, they say, joined in as a sort of accompanist.

The possessor of the alleged fiery vocabulary and the colored maid was recently before the police department and in the office of the District Attorney to tell of an attempt to poison her. She produced some peculiar compound in a glass bottle which was exhibited as proof of the attempted crime. When the mixture was examined by the City Chemist, it was found that it contained strychnine and ground glass.

The would-be poisoner evidently did not value very highly the life of Mrs. Marks. The latter woman assured the police that the "poisoner" had offered her maid $1 to do the trick. Careful questioning elicited the information that a relative was suspected. Later it was shown that the suspected person was a near relative—no other than the mother of Mrs. Marks. After a thorough investigation the District Attorney's office refused to issue a complaint.

The warrant for the arrest of the two women on the disturbance charge was served last night, and in default of bail, they occupied quarters in the City Jail.

ONE OUTSIDE BID.

Contract Awarded for Twenty Thousand Feet of Pipe for Use on the Aqueduct.

Bids were opened for 20,000 feet of two-inch water pipe, for use on the aqueduct, by the Board of Public Works yesterday, and it was found that all the bids of members of the Southern California Supply Association of plumbing material jobbers, known locally as the "trust," had made the same bid of $7.01 per 100 feet of pipe, with the exception of R. H. Herron, who bid $7.20.

Two other bids were received, both from firms outside the alleged "trust," one from Anderson, Lore & Co., for $7 per 100 feet, which was thrown out because it was not properly signed, and one from the Adams Pipe Company at $6.94 per 100 feet, which was awarded the contract.

On November 29, last, bids for 30,000 feet of pipe were opened, and it was found that all the minimum bids were at the rate of $7 per 100 feet, and

From Chosen Plantations

The best cocoa beans that the markets of the world afford are bought by us for making our celebrated Ground Chocolate.

We even go so far as to confine our selection to the products of certain plantations, which are noted for extra quality cocoa beans, the boast of the tropics.

These beans, carefully selected, cost us considerably more than the ordinary unselected kind would cost.

The consumer gets the benefit of this as Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate is thereby made the most economical of all such preparations on account of the extra quality of the raw materials used.

But to get these extraordinary qualities you must be careful to see that you get "Ghirardelli's" the original and genuine "Ground Chocolate."

MISGUIDED.

GENEROUS WITH DREAM WEALTH.

WOMAN IS AFFLICTED WITH A STRANGE HALLUCINATION.

Gives Orders on Government—Offers to Pay Hotel Bill in Similar Manner—Believes She Has Large Estate—In County Hospital Awaiting Examination as to Sanity.

Mrs. John L. Beacom, wife of a Los Alamitos business man, was sent to the County Hospital yesterday by the police to await an examination as to her sanity. The unfortunate woman was taken from the Hollenbeck, where she seemed determined to remain as a guest. She informed Manager Mitchell that she would give him a draft on the government in payment of her bill. He perceived she was laboring under some mental stress and communicated with the police.

Mrs. Beacom has been boarding at a little hotel at Compton for several days, but apparently her condition awakened no suspicion in the minds of the few persons she met.

Yesterday morning she asked Mrs. S. M. Bise, wife of a Compton merchant, to accompany her to Los Angeles. She said she wanted to recompense her for her trouble. She gave Mrs. Bise what purported to be an order on the government to pay the bearer $100. After reaching the Pacific Electric station she also gave Fred Thompson of Compton a similar order. The order read as follows:

"Compton, Cal., U. S. Government: Kindly pay to Mrs. S. M. Bise or order $100. Decision of Supreme Court rendered January 15, 1906. Residuary legatee. [Signed] Mrs. John Wesly Beacom, nee Lizzie Palmer Burt. Feb. 3, 1910."

While Mrs. Bise was profuse in her thanks, she did not place much confidence in the value of the document. When she reached the city she consulted Deputy District-Attorney McCartney, who asked Detective Browne to make an investigation. The detective started for the hotel, only to find that the police had taken Mrs. Beacom into custody.

The woman is said to be sane on all subjects except that relating to her supposed immense estate. She told Mrs. Bise that she had just secured a favorable decision in the United State Supreme Court after years of litigation. She talked so plausibly that the Compton woman thought there might be something to the other's story.

Thompson, who is connected with a livery stable in Compton, thought it strange that the lady he drove to the station was giving away such large sums of money. But, as she told him she was worth millions, he was willing to accept of her generosity. He was much disappointed when told that the order was worthless and that Mrs. Beacom was evidently insane.

The unfortunate woman is refined in appearance and manner.

LOWER COURTS SUSTAINED.

Judgment in the case of J. T. Saunders against John E. Yoakum, which was decided in favor of the plaintiff in the Superior Court, has been affirmed by the Appellate Court. It was an action to recover commission on a sale of real estate, alleged to be due the plaintiff. The same court also affirmed the judgment of the Superior Court in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Charles F. Earle against John S. Bryant, an action to quiet title.

SELLS LIQUOR TO INDIANS.

Hom Dack, a Chinese restaurant man in San Jacinto, was found guilty of selling liquor to Indians by a jury in the United States District Court, yesterday. He was sentenced to serve three months in the County Jail and pay a fine of $100.

BRIEF, PRACTICAL AND VALUABLE COMMENTS ON THE INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY-SCHOOL LESSONS.

By G. Campbell Morgan, D.D.

ALMSGIVING AND PRAYER.

Golden Text, Matthew vi, 1.

"Take heed that ye do not your righteousness before men, to be seen of them."

The Lesson:

Matthew vi, 1-15.

(1.) Take heed that ye do not your righteousness before men, to be seen of them; else ye have no reward with your Father which is in heaven.

(2.) When therefore thou doest alms, sound not a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward.

(3.) But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth.

(4.) That thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee.

(5.) And when ye pray ye shall not be as the hypocrites; for they love to stand and pray in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have received their reward.

(6.) But thou, when thou prayest, enter into thine inner chamber, and having shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall recompense thee.

(7.) And in praying use not vain repetitions, as the Gentiles do; for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

(8.) Be not therefore like unto them; for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.

(10.) Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so on earth.

(12.) And forgive us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors.

(14.) For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you.

(15.) But if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

As our last subject had to do with the outward expression of righteousness, this has to do with its motive. When about to deal with the Mosaic Law, Jesus said to his disciples: "I say unto you that except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no wise enter the kingdom of heaven." He then, as we have seen, proceeded to deal with law as they had known it in the Mosaic economy, interpreting its deeper values by His own teaching. That which was faulty in the righteousness of Scribes and Pharisees was its motive. In the words of our present study our Lord reveals the true motive of the righteousness, and the Golden Text would be more perfect if the whole verse were taken. "Take heed that ye do not your righteousness before, to be seen of them; else ye have reward with your Father which is in heaven." The verse in its entirety thus reveals the fact that the motive of righteousness is that of pleasing God rather than that of securing the approbation of men.

We only find how searching a word this is when we honestly bring our own lives to its light; and also the prevalent activities of men. The ultimate perfection of much real attainment is prevented because we so constantly forget this matter of supreme moment. In our lives the vulgarities are abandoned, the higher things are chosen, and with earnestness we seek after them, while yet the insidious poison of self persists and the praise of men is counted as reward. Wherever this is so, it is a destructive agent in the fruit. The bud may be full of promise, and the blossom of beauty; but sooner or later this destructive agent at the heart of things manifests itself, and the result is ugliness, even in the eyes of men. Truth which draws attention to its trustworthiness, love which vaunteth itself, these are always the outcome of a desire to seek the approbation of men, and in the inexorable working of the laws of God the ultimate issue is that men cease to admire. The true motive is that of the approbation and reward of God. Where this is so the one inspiration of the life is that it should be well pleasing to Him. Then the passion of perfection consists in an overwhelming desire to be what He would have us be, by becoming what He Himself is. The ultimate explanation of the motive for righteousness is that of seeking, not the approbation of men, but the reward of the Father, as found in our previous study; and it is well that we should remember that the Golden Text of last week and that of this are not divided by a word in the actual Scriptures.

Immediately following the enunciation of the principle of motive we have three illustrations. Once again the International Lessons omits the third. We shall include it. These illustrations are the more interesting and remarkable because for some reason that they touch matters with which men do not usually associate the idea of righteousness. They are those, namely, of almsgiving, prayer and fasting. I do not mean to say that men think of these things as being unrighteous, or divorced from righteousness; but the insistence upon righteousness is usually made with regard to those activities of man with man, wherein it is possible to defraud. This is the result of the wrong motive, that, namely, of seeking the praise of man. Christ's illustrations are taken from matters in which, according to the economy of man, there can be no defrauding of man, and He makes these illustrate the principle of righteousness, which consists in a desire to please God.

The first illustration has to do with almsgiving. This in the economy of Jesus is activity toward men in fellowship with God. There is a fine sarcasm in His recognition of the fact that men who give alms in order to obtain the rewards of men are successful; "they have their reward." Where the approval of God is the motive, the giving of alms is an activity in fellowship with Him, and is therefore secret in action, and secret in reward. It is conception utterly foreign to those who do not know the profounder life of sonship. There is no greater satisfaction than that of having a secret with God about how we help another. This is righteousness according to the highest motive, and it is therefore joy and peace.

The second illustration has to do with prayer, which is activity toward God in fellowship with men. Here again is teaching most searching and to which we are very reluctant to submit it. It affirms that the highest exercise of prayer is an exercise of secret. Of course there are other declarations in the teaching of Jesus which admit of, and indeed ordain, fellowships in prayer as between the children of God. But prayer in its profoundest operations is a secret matter. I repeat, the teaching is full of searching power and we ought at least to remember that we have no right to pass any judgment upon others in the matter of prayer. It is more than probable that there is much praying today in order to be heard of men. Moreover, prayer is to be characterised by brevity, includes definiteness. How often prayers are long because they ask nothing, and ask most when they say least. Then prayer is preeminently social. A study of the great pattern reveals the fact that as the child of God prays in secret he brings with him all those whom he has left outside. There is no pronoun in this prayer in the singular number. The order of prayer is also true to the motive of righteousness, its first passion is for the coming of the Divine Kingdom, the victory of God in the world; and its second, following upon the first, and being contingent upon it, is for the supply of the needs of all men in matters material and spiritual.

The third illustration has to do with fasting, which is activity in fellowship with God in the profoundest matter of sacrificial self-denial in its manifestations toward the world. Fellowship in suffering is the profoundest fact in our present coöperation with God. When that is paraded by a sadness of countenance which seeks to impress men, it is, in the forceful word of Jesus, hypocrisy. Our fasting is to be before God, and to the world we are to give the vision of our joy and of our gladness.

Christian Endeavor.

THE MODEL ENDEAVORER.

Terse Comments Upon the Christian Endeavor Topic for February 6: "The Model Christian Endeavorer."—[John xv, 1-8.

By William T. Ellis.

Once a year the Christian Endeavor societies ask the church and the world to inspect them. The basic idea of the young people's movement comes up for renewed consideration upon the first Sunday of February, the anniversary of the founding of the Willliston Society in Portland, Me., on February 2, 1881, by Rev. Francis E. Clark. There is an educational and propaganda value in this annual reconsideration of what is involved in Christian Endeavor. It helps the churches and the young people to face the fundamental verities. The why and how of young people's work engage general attention.

That this old world wags along in thirty years of Christian Endeavor, which was prophesied to revolutionize society, is the first superficial impression of one whose attention is called to this Christian Endeavor anniversary. Stay; let us look a little deeper. Remembering that no spiritual force is ever lost, cannot we trace some of the holy impulses and high resolutions generated in these countless meetings of young people? Investigation has shown, specifically, that a great number of leaders in the religious work, philanthropic reform, and political activities of our time, both at home and abroad, have had a Christian Endeavor training. The new spirit of militant temperance, and of aggressive missions are surely traceable, in part, to the influence of the same young people's meetings. Leading public men have repeatedly avowed that what may broadly be termed the civic revival of our time is in large part due to the ideals of Christian citizenship which Christian Endeavor has so vigorously stressed. In the Federal Council of the churches of Christ in America, and in the other general movements toward Christianity, may be discerned the flowering and fruitage of the Christian Endeavor fellowship idea. The complaint once made of the over-practical character of "Endeavor" is no longer heard, because it may fairly be claimed that the modern socialization of the gospel is, to some degree, an outgrowth of the young people's training in translating faith into works. So, while the effect of Christian Endeavor has not been so conspicuous and visual and spectacular as some ardent prophets expected, it has done a mighty work in the way that God's work is always wrought when successful.

Back of the organization stands the member. The only model Christian Endeavor society is that which is composed of devoted Endeavorers.

The lifting and sustaining power of a great ideal is illustrated by Christian Endeavor. It brings the highest motive to bear upon the most commonplace tasks. In its meetings and by its literature it keeps the thought of youth fixed upon allegiance to Jesus Christ. The impulse of all its activities springs from that potent phrase, "Trusting in the Lord Jesus Christ for strength, I promise Him that I will strive to do whatever he would like to have me do." That is a sublime platform for life and labor.

Christian Endeavor has three dimensions; it reaches up for Divine help; down for human service, and out for fraternal fellowship.

There are no model Endeavorers, but there is one model for Edeavorers, even Jesus the Master.

"Get busy" is the colloquial interpretation of Christian Endeavor's spirit. The principle of learning by doing we now know to have highest scientific warrant. Just to do things is in its way just as effective a preparation for life as a college course.

The core of Henry Drummond's great address—some say his greatest—is the exhortation: "Make Christ your most constant companion. Be more under His influence than under any other influence. Ten minutes spent in His society every day, aye, two minutes, if it be face to face, and heart to heart, will make the whole day different. Every character has an inward spring—let Christ be it. Every action has a keynote—let Christ set it."

Character is a by-product of service. The person who is forever worrying about how to be good, is like the woman who is constantly thinking about her looks; both defeat the object of their solicitude. Character comes as a consequence of service and love and ideals. Serve Christ devotedly, and character will take care of itself.

Anybody who sets out to be a "model Endeavorer" will probably succeed only in becoming a model prig.

Christian Endeavor dares. It has the high courage of youth. So it has imbibed the spirit of William Carey, who said: "Attempt great things for God; expect great things from God;" and the greater motto of Paul, who declared: "I can do all things in Him who strengtheneth me."

In the Galleria des Beaux Arts in Paris, there stands a famous statue. It was the last work of a great genius, who, like many a genius, was very poor, and lived in a garret, which served as a studio and sleeping-room alike. When the statue was all but finished one midnight a sudden frost fell upon Paris. The sculptor lay awake in the fireless room and thought of the still moist clay, thought how the water would freeze in the pores and destroy in an hour the dream of his life. So the old man rose from his couch and heaped the bedclothes reverently around his work. In the morning when the neighbors entered the room the sculptor was dead, but the statue was saved. The image of Christ that is forming within us—that is life's one charge. Let every project stand aside for that. The spirit of God who brooded upon the waters thousands of years ago is busy now creating men, within these commonplace lives of ours, in the image of God. "Till Christ be formed," no man's work is finished, no religion crowned, no life has fulfilled its end.—[Henry Drummond.

The Cost of Carelessness.

Neglect of a "common" cold is so often the direct cause of dangerous disease that medical men cannot understand why so many people allow a cold, with its attendant cough, to run its course unchecked. Aside from the unpleasantness and annoyance, the resulting irritation of the mucous membrane in the throat, lungs and bronchial organs leaves them sore and very susceptible to attack.

With the first indication of a cold, take steps to check it at once. A simple, inexpensive remedy can be prepared at home by mixing two ozs. of glycerine, a ½ oz. of Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure and eight ozs. of pure whiskey. You can buy these in any good drug store and easily mix them in a large bottle. It is claimed by the Leach Chemical Co. of Cincinnati, who prepare the genuine Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure, that a teaspoonful of this mixture, four times a day, will break a cold in twenty-four hours and cure any cough that is curable.

such a thing would never happen in the United States—not for many years to come, at any rate.

"The government has about all it can conveniently handle in the way of transportation problems at the present time," said the railroad man. "With the enormous mail service question confronting it and other matters equally important the government does not want to saddle any more labor upon itself and it is a question in my mind if government ownership would improve transportation facilities."

CLUB MEMBERS OF SAME NAME.

BUT FEDERATION CLUB IS NOT INVOLVED IN SUIT.

Statement Regarding Its Relation to Coffee Club Association and How It Bought Latter's Furniture at Three Times Its Value and Received Release of "Obligations."

Not as members of the Federation Club, but as individuals and members of the Los Angeles Coffee Club are the 200 defendants in the suit of J. F. Spaulding billed in the Township Court of Justice Stephens, and who are filing answers every day denying liability for the debts of the organization.

The Federation Club and the Los Angeles Coffee Club, before the latter became defunct, had the same quarters in the basement of the Citizens' National Bank building, Third and Main streets. Many members of the Federation Club were contributors to the Coffee Club and a number of the present members of the Federation Club, including President Nathan Newby, are made defendants.

The facts of the case are that while the same men were interested in both clubs, and both clubs had the same headquarters, there was a difference. One was the landlord to the other at $200 a month. In the Township Court the suit is generally spoken of as against members of the Federation Club. This is true, but it is because of their alleged connection with the Los Angeles Coffee Club.

In a statement issued yesterday by the Federation Club and signed by Nathan Newby, president; John A. Merrill, vice-president; Wilson G. Tanner, treasurer; Charles A. Baskerville, secretary, and W. H. Frost, H. M. Patterson, T. R. Gabel, A. E. Pomeroy and L. M. Anderson, directors, an unusual transaction between the two clubs is disclosed. The part of the statement regarding the elimination of "obligations" is as follows:

"When the Federation Club moved to its quarters on the Top floor of the Wright & Callender building, it purchased from the Los Angeles Coffee Club Association such of the furniture as it could use, and in order to help out the association paid for it $3000, which amount was about three times its value. The Federation Club at the same time received a written receipt absolving it not only from any legal obligations (which never existed) but also from all moral obligations for the debts of the Los Angeles Coffee Club Association. The name of the Federation Club is not mentioned in the suit referred to in The Times and the reference to it in that connection was, and is, wholly unwarranted."

What some of the creditors now would like to know is why, if the Federation Club and Coffee Club were so very separate, it was necessary to get a written absolution by one of the others debts.

Also why, if it was just a case of business between the two clubs, the Federation Club should pay "three times" the value for furniture—the receipt for which gave legal and moral absolution for any obligation.

Meanwhile the alleged members of the Coffee Club are denouncing The Times as members of the Federation Club.

IN TIMID MOOD.

Little Railroad Capital Will Be Expended for Building New Lines Is Prophesy.

There will be no great amount of railroad building in the country during the next year, at least this is the prophecy of Bernard Corrigan, capitalist, railroad magnate and man of affairs of Kansas City, now at the Hotel Alexandria.

"Capital seems to be in a timid mood in the country at this time," said Mr. Corrigan, "particularly railroad capital. It is upon this that I base my statement that there will be no great amount of building of lines in any part of the country."

Pressed for a reason for the fear of capital at this time, Mr. Corrigan intimated that the present administration might have something to do with it, although he did not make a plain statement to that effect.

Mr. Corrigan emphatically denied, however, that Kansas City capitalists were planning for another overland line to tap portions of the Southwest not penetrated by railroads.

"What may be done in two or three years from now, of course, cannot be said at this time," continued the speaker, "but at the present time you may feel assured that neither Kansas City capitalists nor those from any place are going into heavy railroad construction."

In response to a question about government ownership of American railroads, Mr. Corrigan declared that

Look Into This

Have you compared the agencies carried by the different Los Angeles houses?

We honestly believe no other house has, or could control, a line equal to the following:

This is our Choice of the World's Market: KNABE, seventy-five years of experience behind it; MASON & HAMLIN, the artists' favorite; HARDMAN, the most durable piano made; PACKARD, with its beautiful finish in tone and case; CONOVER, with art cases and clever patented action; LUDWIG, the most popular and easiest sold piano in Los Angeles; KINGSBURY, better now than ever before—a fine grade at a low price; then we have WELLINGTONS and many others; not to overlook our favorite $195 PIANO, new, now quite famous all along the coast in our different stores.

The ANGELUS, in the Knabe and Emerson; INNER PLAYERS, in the Conover and Kingsbury; AUTOTONE, in Hardman and Harrington Pianos. Do we need to say more? You will find more variety here than most of the other stores combined. Look around and see.

OUR TERMS—They are liberal—not so high you have to go to a house of inferior standing—not so low that you are handled roughly by collection department if you lapse for unavoidable reasons.

OUR PRICES—Come in and see the tags—they sound like wholesale prices of the smaller dealers.

OUR COMPANY—Ask your banker for our rating. Compare it with other houses. It is too bad to use this argument, but we deserve your business, and want it. We have stores from Canada to Mexico.

OUR POLICY—The same as for the past thirty-three years. Out in the open—clean cut—straightforward.

Do You Need to Stop Around, After This?

Our Second-Hand Bargain Department has some unusual makes and prices this week: Two Steinways—Weber—Steck—Fischer—Bord—and others—from $75. Come while they last.

TERRIBLE CASE OF ECZEMA CURED

Body and Face Covered with Itching, Painful Eruption—5 Years of Suffering Beyond Description—Thought Death was Near.

WANTS WORLD TO KNOW OF CURE BY CUTICURA

"No tongue can tell how I suffered for five years with itching and bleeding eczema, until I was cured by the Cuticura Remedies, and I am so grateful I want the world to know, for what helped me will help others. My body and face were covered with sores. One day it would seem to be better, and then break out again with the most terrible pain and itching. I have been sick several times, but never in my life did I experience such awful suffering as with this eczema. I had made up my mind that death was near at hand, and I longed for that time when I would be at rest. I had tried many different doctors and medicines without success, and my mother brought me the Cuticura Remedies, insisting that I try them. I began to feel better after the first bath with Cuticura Soap, and one application of Cuticura Ointment.

"I continued with the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and have taken four bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and consider myself well. This was nine years ago and I have had no return of the trouble since. Any person having any doubt about this wonderful cure by the Cuticura Remedies can write to my address. Mrs. Altie Etson, 93 Inn Road, Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 18, 1909."

The suffering which Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have alleviated among skin-tortured, disfigured infants and children, and the comfort they have afforded worn-out and worried parents have led to their adoption in countless homes as a priceless treatment for the skin. Eczema, rashes, and every form of itching, burning, scaly humor are speedily cured by Cuticura, in the majority of cases, when all else fails.

Cuticura Soap (25c.), Ointment (50c.), Resolvent (50c.) and Chocolate Coated Pills (25c.), are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., 137 Columbus Ave., Boston.

WITH SEVERAL HUNDRED DELEGATES IT STARTS.

Los Angeles County Christian Endeavorers Gather—Mayor and Local Ministers Welcome 'Em—President of Occidental College Is the Chief Speaker.

POMONA, Feb. 4.—The Los Angeles county Christian Endeavor convention opened tonight at the First Presbyterian Church with several hundred delegates in attendance. The devotionals were led by Rev. M. D. Clubb of this city. Mayor Firey and Rev. T. T. Cresswell welcomed the delegates, and the response was given by Rev. Dr. F. M. Dowling of Fullerton. J. P. Welles, general State secretary, spoke on "1911," and Dr. John Willis Baer of Occidental College delivered the address of the evening, on "A Modern Citizen."

JOINT BAND CONCERT.

A concert programme was given at the First Methodist Church last night by the Church Cornet Band, the Pomona College Band, Miss Leona Warren, contralto, and Miss Elizabeth Lee, pianist. The director was Eber N. Street, and the musicians were Morse, piccolo; Long, flute; Flinpach, Queen, Brest, Stahl, Mosher, clarinets; Liebler, Bisbee, Hudson, Mosher, Van Arman, Phil Van Arman, cornets; Perrin, Zander, C. Van Arnam, altos; J. Mosher, O'Hara, trombones; Case, H. Brest, baritones; Garrison, Elsasser, Marston, basses; Thomas, drums and traps.

Surveyors for the Pacific Electric Company are now in the field laying out the work for the extension of the electric railway tracks on West Second street toward the city limits. The tracks must be laid by March 6.

The Pomona Manufacturing Company has established a branch office at Bakersfield, with George W. Ogle, vice-president, in charge. Orders for large pumping plants are being received.

REDONDO BEACH.

REDONDO BEACH, Feb. 4.—The Los Angeles and Redondo Railway Company is rushing work on ten new multiple unit cars to be completed before the opening of the summer season. Four are now in the paint shop ready

LONG BEACH.

SIMPLE LIFE EXPONENT DIES.

ACCIDENT TO PHYSICIAN IS FINALLY FATAL.

Heavy Patient Falls During Operation, Causing Doctor to Sustain Rupture of Blood Vessel in Lung. Four Specialists Labor in Vain to Save Him.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 4.—Dr. William Lawrence Woodruff, widely known throughout the State for his pronounced views on raising children by the simple life, and as specialist on electrical and vibration treatment, died here suddenly this morning as the result of an accident a week ago Sunday.

Dr. Woodruff operated a sanatorium on Cedar avenue, and a corpulent patient weighing over two hundred pounds was being operated upon. In some way the patient slipped, and in an effort to save him his entire weight was thrown upon Dr. Woodruff, causing him to slip down. The strain ruptured a blood vessel in one of the lungs and pulmonary hemorrhage caused death. For a week Dr. Woodruff was under the care of four physicians, including two Los Angeles specialists.

Dr. Woodruff was a native of Camden, and came to Long Beach five years ago from Phoenix, Ariz. He was the author of a medical book called "Sunlight," in which his medical views were treated strongly. His theory regarding children was carried into practice with his own infant daughter and an adopted son. They were clad only in one garment during the coldest weather, and at times given outings absolutely nude. Today both are sturdy, well-developed and active.

Dr. Woodruff was a strong opponent of vaccination and two years ago led the fight waged against it in this city. He leaves a widow and two children. Funeral services will be held Monday.

HURT IN PANAMA.

News was received here today of the serious injury in Panama of E. H. Van Sittert, formerly of this city and a well-known clubman. Van Sittert, who is paymaster in a quarry, was paying off the workmen when he was struck by a flying rock and his skull fractured.

PIER IMPROVEMENTS.

Acting on the report of the City Engineer, who submitted a dozen estimates of costs for different methods of permanent pier improvements, the City Council this morning instructed the City Attorney to prepare an ordinance of intention to call an election for the purpose of voting a bond issue of $100,000 to make whatever repairs are decided upon. It was thought best to start the bond movement to save time.

The Raymond Pile Company, an eastern firm, whose representative has examined the conditions, has authorized an offer of $75,000 to rebuild the pier from the bluff to the outer wharf, using the steel-jacketed concrete reinforced pile manufactured by them, and which is in use in the East.

SCHOOL ELECTION.

At a mass meeting of citizens at the Auditorium last night the Board of Education of the Long Beach School District was instructed to call an election for the purpose of voting a bond issue of $240,000 for the purpose of building and equipping a polytechnic high school which shall comprise both classic and technical courses of study and be large enough to accommodate 1500 pupils. Of this amount $20,000 is for a site of twelve acres, $100,000 for the main building and $27,500 for equipment. The election will be held about March 1.

CLIPPING EXPENSES.

The independent majority in Council this morning took the first step toward making a material slash in the running expenses of the city, by introducing ordinances cutting out the offices of the Chief of Police, Assistant Chief of the Fire Department and Assistant City Attorney. These eliminations will be followed by others, say the leaders, until the working force is cut down to respectable proportions for a city the size of Long Beach.

ANNUAL PICNIC.

The Illinois Society of Southern California held its sixth annual picnic at Odd Fellows' Hall today, members coming in from all the surrounding towns. A good dinner was enjoyed and the afternoon passed in reminiscences of the old times. Officers elected for the coming year are E. M. Lyman, president; A. M. Peck, secretary, and Eugene Lockwood, treasurer.

HELD ON SUSPICION.

James McCowen and Henry Stewart are under arrest, charged with being the burglars who have been at work in this city for some time. Their arrest was made by Chief Williams following a reported burglary on West Seventh street. Williams found them in Pacific Park and arrested them on suspicion. The prisoners say they are from San Francisco and only met yesterday, coming over from San Pedro.

WATER RATES.

The Long Beach Water Company today submitted to the Council its annual report, showing receipts for the year of $82,434.06 and expenses of $38,-$39.37. Of the expense $22,000 is allowed for interest on bonds and $24,000 for depreciation. New water rates are to be fixed by the Council this month.

DEATH IN HOSPITAL.

Mrs. Gladys L. Smith, wife of W. Clifford Smith, died this morning at a local hospital of a brain trouble which caused paralysis. Mrs. Smith was a native of Kansas and 30 years of age. She leaves a widower and two small children.

ANNOYED AT DELAY.

Wilmington Chamber of Commerce Passes Resolution of Protest Concerning Improvements.

WILMINGTON, Feb. 4.—The Chamber of Commerce last night adopted a resolution protesting against the delay in making municipal improvements promised by the commercial bodies of Los Angeles prior to consolidation.

President F. S. Cary, one of the foremost consolidationists, today drafted a series of specifications of grievances. These recite that Los Angeles has not made good in improving the water frontage as expeditiously as possible and that $25,-000 of the former harbor fund issue is lying idle; that the streets have not been improved as per agreement; that the election for voting $1,000,000 in bonds for improving the inner harbor has been delayed in follows the use of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, as it acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, when constipated, or bilious, and dispels colds and headaches.

To get its beneficial effects, always buy the genuine, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

minal rates for Wilmington and San Pedro, are opposing the move; that no municipally owned ferry between Wilmington and Terminal Island and San Pedro at a 2-cent fare has gone into operation; that no fire station has been established here and the old fire apparatus and chemical engine left over from the old city, are very much dilapidated; that no police station has been established here, but the city is compelled to do with only one policeman sent out from San Pedro to do duty during a part of a day; that the pupils of the schools are compelled to go to San Pedro for a part of their studies and that no provision has yet been made for a public park. All these things were promised by the greater city as an inducement to consolidate. Now the people are clamoring to have them carried out.

IN THE FACTORY DISTRICT.

The busy place in Wilmington is the factory district. Here is bustle and noise and smoke that would do credit to a much larger place.

The Consolidated Lumber Mill is running a full force of men. The company is erecting a large store building on the mill grounds and will stock it with general merchandise for the accommodation of its employés.

The Pacific Lumber Mill steamed up on Tuesday and now has its machinery in good working order. It will soon put on its full force of men. It is one of the largest and most complete mills on the Coast. Its drying shed is said to be the largest in the world, capable of storing many million feet of lumber.

The Brennan shoe factory has greatly enlarged its plant and is having a rush of orders. Mrs. Brennan, who has coöperated with her husband in the management of the business, has been compelled to retire from the work, and Mr. Brennan has secured a first-class shoe man from the East to superintend the mechanical part of the business.

The new pole yard, recently located near Thenard, north of the lumber mills, has stacked up with an immense number of poles, where they are chemically prepared for the telegraph, telephone and electric companies. These poles are rafted from the pine woods of Washington to San Diego and from there are shipped to Wilmington. When this harbor has been constructed, these rafts of poles and logs for lumber may be rafted direct to this port.

CIVIC LEAGUE ORGANIZED.

Measles Reported in South Pasadena School—Old Resident Dies in Oxnard.

SOUTH PASADENA, Feb. 4.—A meeting of the property owners in the Oneonta Park district was held last evening at the home of William Fogg, No. 1809 Milan avenue, to organize an improvement club. John R. Gentie was appointed chairman of a committee to draft a constitution, and the name given was the Civic League of Oneonta Park.

Health Officer Whiting reports a number of cases of measles. About thirty pupils of El Centro-street school have the disease.

Assessments for the lighting district recently created on Fletcher, Bushnell and Electric avenues are now due and payable at the Tax Collector's office at the City Hall. They will become delinquent on the 11th inst. after which a penalty of 10 per cent. will be added.

Harvey Bartlett, for many years a resident of this city, died in Oxnard yesterday morning, and the funeral services were held in the Methodist Church of this city at 2 o'clock this afternoon. For many years he was janitor of the city schools and sexton of the Methodist Church. About one year ago his wife died, and he moved to Oxnard to make his home with two sons.

The Young Women's Missionary Society of the Baptist Church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with Miss Bertha Hunter, No. 1108 Diamond avenue.

WHITTIER.

WHITTIER, Feb. 4.—The installation of officers of the F. and A. M. last evening was participated in by not only the local members, but by a large number of invited guests. A literary programme and a banquet followed.

This city will have a good balance left when the sewer system is completed. Based on the estimated cost, bonds for $110,000 were voted. After spending $8000 more for the sewer farm than was estimated and doing $4000 worth of additions to the sewer system not at first planned, the Trustees will still have a surplus estimated at not less than $13,000. It may be used toward a City Hall.

TODAY

February 5th

This is the final opportunity to buy Crown Oil Stock at 7c per share. After this date, unless you mail your cash or reserve order before midnight, you must pay the advanced price.

Look!

From an oil publication we take the following figures:

$250 bought 2500 shares of Lucile Oil Co. stock. It is today worth $25,000.

$250 invested in Home Oil Company has since had a value of $100,000.

$250 invested in stock of the Central Oil Company grew to be worth $45,000.

We believe that every resident of this fair State who studies the oil industry carefully and invests their money WISELY in California oil stocks will receive large returns upon their investment. We are advising our relatives and friends to invest their money in oil stocks because we REALIZE and KNOW that gigantic fortunes have been built up in the past and greater fortunes can be accumulated in the immediate future.

We are glad to know that the investing public recognizes the oil industry a large profit-maker. They are studying the situation as never before, and are confronted with the evidence of the gigantic fortunes made in the past. The volume of business transacted on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange for the month of January, just past, will supply additional proof for the statements made above.

The total amount of stock that changed hands during the month amounted to $520,728.28. The sale of oil stocks amounted $506,836.61 of this amount. This is conclusive evidence that California oil is a money-maker, and furnishes substantial reasons why the investing public should buy oil stock of a well-managed oil company owning or controlling valuable oil lands.

CROWN OIL HAS GOOD NEIGHBORS.

The success of an oil proposition is measured by the character of the wells surrounding property and the condition under which the company is able to operate. Now let us see how we have: We have for immediate neighbor the Brownstone, Los Angeles, Kentuck and other wells. These wells have been producing for many years a high quality of oil which commands in the open market a higher price than fuel and road oils.

CROWN OIL HAS 320 ACRES OF OIL LAND.

The conditions under which we operate are absolutely the best: We have 320 acres of geologically proved oil land within 3½ miles of the Southern Pacific railroad. Four transportation pipe lines pass the property, with an abundance of flowing water for camp and drilling purposes. Oil is found at the surface, and we know WE WILL GET THE OIL in paying quantities.

CONTRACT LET FOR DRILLING OUR FIRST WELL AND ORDER PLACED FOR MACHINERY.

Today the Crown Oil Company placed an order with the Oil Well Supply Company of Los Angeles for a carload of oil drilling machinery. We are to have a complete up-to-date standard rig and equipment, the best that money can buy.

Tuesday of this week, the Crown Oil Company let a contract to Mr. Ed. C. Miller of Los Angeles for building our derrick and drilling Well No. 1. Mr. Miller is now at the property and has assumed complete charge of the work. We will be drilling Well No. 1 within 30 days. Our road work is finished, our new buildings are occupied by the workmen, and a portion of rig material is upon the ground.

7c TODAY ONLY 7c

YOU MAY BUY CROWN OIL STOCK TODAY ONLY AT 7c PER SHARE. TOMORROW AND THEREAFTER YOU MUST PAY THE ADVANCED PRICE.

We are convinced that if you will examine our management and property, you will become one of our large stockholders. We have an unusual oil proposition, and are able to develop same at small expense. We do not believe that there is another oil proposition in the State of California offering greater possibilities for success than the Crown Oil Company.

We will be pleased to conduct you and your friends to a visit of our property at any time. Arrange to go with us and satisfy yourself that we are spending our stockholders' money for actual development of our property and in an economical way.

When you become a stockholder in the Crown Oil Company you at once become a partner with us in the property, and as a partner you are entitled to know the facts concerning the ownership, and we will cheerfully inform you of our development work and show you how your partnership money is being expended for the success of the company.

If you are a stockholder in a good California oil company, buy more stock. If you are not a stockholder, BECOME ONE and prepare to share in the profits from the BIGGEST MONEY-MAKING INDUSTRY IN CALIFORNIA.

RETRENCHMENT NECESSARY.

Santa Barbara Council Uses the Pruning Knife—Opposition to Long-Term Franchise.

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 4.—Opposition developed in the City Council last night to the petition of the Santa Barbara Consolidated Railway Company for a fifty years' franchise. The company desires to spend about $150,000 on improving its road here, but wishes to safeguard itself by a long franchise. The matter was referred to a committee of the whole to meet next Thursday. Owing to the city's finances, drastic economy is necessary till July, and it was decided last night to eliminate forty street lights. The street cleaning force has been cut down and there may be further curtailments. It was also decided that the city should for the time being discontinue its custom of paying for the work at street intersections.

AUTHOR'S BACCY STOLEN.

Stewart Edward White's seaside bungalow at Carpinteria was entered by a man named J. H. Lane yesterday. He was caught and awaits examination on the 11th. He stole about $10 worth of food and trinkets and swiped a pouch of the author's favorite tobacco.

WIDOW WEDS DRUMMER.

Mrs. Mary Lee Harpold, a widow of 37, became enamored of Avilino Garcia, a one-legged drummer, aged 23, in the orchestra of La Petite Theater, a moving-picture house, and the couple were married yesterday. They left for Los Angeles. It seems that Mrs. Harpold attended the theater, gained acquaintance with the orchestra, which consisted of Garcia and two girls, and invited them to her house to dinner. Upon refusing another invitation to dine, the two girl musicians, on being questioned by Mrs. Harpold, showed plainly that the reason was that they were ashamed of the drummer and didn't like to bring him to her house. "Is that so?" said Mrs. Harpold. "Well, he is the one I was giving the dinner for," and promptly she made the feast a two-part affair. Garcia was what is vulgarly called "broke," or at least badly bent, and Mrs. Harpold is said to have paid his debts recently, bought him a Tuxedo and other clothes, and squared him financially with the Musicians' Union. All hurs to matrimony having been removed, Mrs. Harpold and Garcia were married yesterday at the bride's home, No. 1217 Castillo street. The bride has a little son, and a daughter who works in the Home Telephone Company.

GUADELUPE CLOSED UP.

Sheriff Stewart returned yesterday from Santa Maria and Guadelupe and reported that the raids made by him on the red-light districts of those places are bearing fruit. Acting on instructions from the District Attorney, the Sheriff notified the keepers of disreputable resorts in Guadelupe to close up and leave the vicinity not later than Sunday. None of the women were arrested, but Edward Foresca, found living in one of the houses, was taken into custody on a charge of vagrancy and brought here for arraignment. Several of the women arrested in last week's raid at Santa Maria have already left, and the remainder promise to be out of the county by Sunday.

CONTRACT IS RENEWED.

Vegetable Union Will Continue to Market Celery for Orange County Growers' Association.

SANTA ANA, Feb. 4.—The Orange County Celery Growers' Association will have 80 per cent. of the county's crop in the association next year, according to a statement made today by Manager G. W. Moore. There will probably be about 2000 acres planted. At present the product is moving East at the rate of eight carloads a day. The price received is 25 cents per dozen bunches, which is about medium.

The association has recently signed a contract with the California Vegetable Union continuing it as selling agent. The contract is for three years, and differs from the former one only in that the union pays for the strips and nails for packing the cars, which amounts to about $1.50 per car, a saving of about $2250 per year to the growers.

DEFIANT, PERHAPS CRAZY.

Superior Judge West had a defiant prisoner before him today in James Toland, charged with burglarizing the house of Bert Ryssman at Anaheim of a watch and a suit of clothes. Toland had pleaded not guilty.

"At what time will you be ready for the trial of this case?" asked the judge.

"You ain't got no case against me," declared Toland. "I ain't got no use for your laws and system, and I won't have a thing to do with them. You can do as you like with me by brute force, but your laws don't touch me."

The judge offered to appoint an attorney to defend him.

"Nothing doing," said Toland. "You have pumped milk down me at Patton and you dragged me around San Diego, and all these places, but you can't convert me."

Sheriff Lacy stated to the court that he believed Toland crazy. Toland told him he had been in the asylum. The judge and Sheriff will look the matter up. In the meantime the case is set down for trial on the 15th inst.

WELL STOCKED.

Burglars who broke into C. M. Lewis's grocery store at No. 2221 North Main street, last night, carried away several sacks filled with groceries, about $25 worth in all. Hams, bacon, pork, bread, tobacco and macaroni were among the staples stolen.

W. H. Skillman, charged with disturbing the peace of a West Orange Japanese teameter by frightening his mule, pleaded not guilty before Justice Smithwick today, and his trial was set for the 15th inst.

An interlocutory decree of divorce has been granted Lydia C. Wolbach from Edgar D. Wolbach, she to have the custody of their child. Mrs. Henrietta Beard has withdrawn the contest of the will of her father, Capt. J. E. Dierker, who left his estate, worth $5000, to two other daughters.

VENTURA.

VENTURA, Feb. 4.—Santa Paula boosters came to this city yesterday to ask the Supervisors to build a bridge across Santa Paula Creek to the east of that city. The old wooden span was washed out a few months ago. The board agreed to the request and also decided to build over Piru Creek, further to the east.

M. W. Phillips left this morning for Long Beach, called there by the death of his sister, Mrs. Clifford Smith.

L. J. Merritt of Pasadena was here this morning getting figures on the cost of petrolithic paving. He expressed surprise when told that it was not over $6000 per mile, and stated that in Los Angeles it was costing the people over $11,000 per mile and that unless a contractor was in the ring he could get nothing to do at any figure.

The local Supervisors will be entertained on Monday by the Santa Barbara board, when they will inspect the roads.

An oil refinery is shortly to be established at Brownstone in this county

GARDEN HOSE SAVES MINERS.

AIR CONVEYED THROUGH IT TO ENTOMBED MEN.

Several Tons of Earth Cave In in Tunnel in Their Claim—For Seven Hours They Dig Through Debris. San Bernardino Woman to Fight for Suffrage.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 4.—Robert Wade, George Phillips and Henry Cummings had a narrow escape from death in a mine disaster near Dobie Saturday, news of which has just reached here. They owe their lives to the use of a garden hose, through which air was conveyed through several tons of earth which suddenly blocked a tunnel in the Rhyolite mining claim.

While the men were retimbering, their escape was cut off. The hose had been used in syphoning water from a pit in the tunnel, and through this sufficient air was obtained to permit the miners to dig through the debris. Seven hours were consumed in the escape. The men suffered no injury.

MRS. SLOCUM'S WANT.

Mrs. J. H. Slocum, an energetic clubwoman, wants a clause inserted in the city charter for the franchisement of women.

FIGHT OVER DOG FIGHT.

Dr. A. W. McDavit, Ben Emerson, Jack Leffin and Charles Hayes are charged by Joseph Fairholm with stealing his bulldog. The animal was taken last night and set against a dog belonging to McDavit. Fairholm's bull was so badly mangled it will probably die. The case will be heard in the Justice Court. McDavit and Hayes were arrested on a complaint alleging peace disturbance. They entered pleas of not guilty, and are at liberty under $20 bail each.

FAMILY SQUABBLE.

J. W. Illingsworth this morning secured a warrant for the arrest of Robert Kershaw, an uncle, charging him with disturbing the peace. The two men have had a number of serious tiffs over family matters. Illingsworth says that Kershaw this morning commenced to knock down a wall between their property.

WILL SPEAK AT REDLANDS.

Founder of the Christian Endeavor Society Will Deliver Address Tomorrow Evening.

REDLANDS, Feb. 4.—Dr. Francis E. Clark, founder of the Christian Endeavor, will address a meeting in the First M. E. Church Sunday evening. In the afternoon the intermediate societies will gather in the Presbyterian Church, and be addressed by Paul Brown, field secretary, who will come up from Los Angeles for the day.

Arrivals at La Casa Loma: Mrs. E. A. Valune, M. C. Underhill, New York; L. Strause, Philadelphia; Mrs. A. M. Bonlay, Chicago; J. K. Ames, Mr. and Mrs. H. Tevens, Miss Feldmann, Elmer Holben, Seattle; Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Tobey, Palo Alto; Mrs. F. B. Whittmore, Toronto, Can.; F. W. Little, William McKendry, Brooklyn.

At the annual meeting of the Redlands, Lugonia and Crafton Domestic Water Company, these officers were elected: President, George A. Cook; vice-president, A. L. Parks; secretary and treasurer, Silas Williams; superintendent, William Mediand; directors, F. P. Morrison, B. M. Lyon and Theodore Clark. The company is building a new steel pipe line on East Colton avenue.

The Local Lincoln-Roosevelt League has elected Dr. W. P. Burke, president; T. T. Smith, first vice-president; Dr. W. M. Hill, second vice-president; N. Leo Lelean, third vice-president; C. L. Hayes, secretary; H. W. Seager, treasurer.

SUGAR BEET ACREAGE.

Ventura Farmers Are Busy Planting. Interest in Proposed Sea-Level Highway.

OXNARD, Feb. 4.—Carl Leonardt of Los Angeles has been awarded a contract by the American Beet Sugar Company for the erection of a fine brick and concrete supply warehouse, 200x60 feet.

Beet farmers have already planted 9100 acres, and the seed is being drilled in at the rate of 2600 acres a week.

One of the sugar beet company's caterpillar plows is at work on the Broome ranch, where about 1600 acres will be devoted to beets. The total acreage will be larger than last season.

The proposed sea-level highway from Santa Monica is receiving considerable attention in this city. Now that the matter is an issue before the Los Angeles Supervisors, the question is being agitated here to have the Oxnard Board of Trade appoint a committee to go to Los Angeles and confer with the southern bodies in regard to the same. A main coast road for automobiles along this proposed route would put Oxnard on the direct line of travel from Los Angeles to Santa Barbara and other northern cities.

KICKED BY HORSE.

GARDEN GROVE, Feb. 4.—Miss Mary Thompson was severely injured by a kick from a horse yesterday. She was watering one animal in a corral in which others ran free. One kicked at the horse at the trough and struck Miss Thompson. It is feared she is injured internally.

WHAT CONTESTANTS MUST DO.

Write Us Your Answer to the Following Question:

What, in your opinion, is responsible for the phenomenal growth of the Von Stein Academy of Music, which was established less than five years ago and which today supersedes all other musical schools in the Southwest in number of students, efficiency and educational influence? What, in your opinion, is the secret of such wonderful success?

Your answer must not contain more than 40 words. Write as neatly and skillfully as you can; be as brief as correct grammar will permit and let your answer be comprehensive.

Be sure to fill in the coupon at the lower right-hand corner of the advertisement and enclose with your answer.

In order that each contestant's answer shall receive an impartial examination, the entire faculty of the Von Stein Academy of Music will act as the Committee of Awards, thereby assuring to each and every one who takes part in this Contest a fair and impartial examination of their answer. The decision of the Committee will be final. All winners will be notified.

The sphere of influence of the Von Stein Academy of Music extends over the entire Southwest, and, in order to increase that influence, it is particularly desired that answers be received from Arizona, New Mexico, as well as California.

OUR REASONS FOR CONDUCTING THIS CONTEST

We want everyone in the great South-west to know that in the Von Stein Academy of Music, the City of Los Angeles possesses an institution second to none. That the musical courses taught are thorough, that each and every pupil is given the utmost degree of care; that all members of the faculty have been carefully chosen, not alone because of their ability as musicians, but because of their ability to teach—to impart to others the knowledge which they possess.

We expect to move into our new building not later than the 20th of June, and will then be equipped to take care of two thousand students.

This advertising campaign is in our judgment the quickest and least expensive way to demonstrate not only our sincerity, but our institution's educational importance, thoroughness, methods and financial strength.

By presenting each contestant with a series of free lessons, we hope to show in a practical way our confidence in our own organization. We are thoroughly satisfied that these trial lessons will make a lasting impression upon those who grasp the opportunity and will be the means of making permanent pupils of a large percentage of the contestants. We know that we are using modern methods in the conduct of our school and also excel in giving to students the practical knowledge of music which will assure for them a substantial income and professional recognition.

This Scholarship Contest and Free Piano-Giving must certainly set hundreds of people thinking about the success of the Von Stein Academy of Music.

Each contestant's answer constitutes a direct approval of our progressive policy—an indorsement well worth the cost of this campaign.

Finally, we want the names and addresses of as many musical people in the Southwest as we can get, to whom we can send our catalogues and detailed description of our various courses of musical study and the conveniences offered by the new home of the Von Stein Academy of Music and expect each contestant to send us at least two or three addresses of musical friends.

They Grow Hair

Certain Ingredients if Properly Combined Stimulate Human Hair Growth.

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered. Beta-naphthol is a most powerful, yet absolutely safe germicide and antiseptic, which prevents development of germ matter, and creates a clean, healthy condition.

Pilocarpine, although not a coloring matter or dye, is an ingredient well established for its power to restore natural color to human hair.

Borax, because of its well-defined softening and cleansing properties, is most useful in the treatment of scalp and hair diseases. Glycerine acts as a stimulant to the hair bulbs, and has a soothing, healing and nourishing influence. Alcohol is indispensable in medicine because of its antiseptic, stimulating and preservative qualities.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is chiefly composed of these ingredients, which are compounded in a peculiar form, and we believe it is the most effective remedy known to medical science for scalp and hair troubles generally. We personally guarantee it to eradicate dandruff and scalp irritations and to grow hair, even though the scalp is spots is bare of hair, providing, of course, there is life and vitality remaining in the hair roots.

We want every one troubled with scalp disease, dandruff or loss of hair to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. If it does not remove dandruff and promote a growth of hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. This guarantee is printed on every package. It has effected most satisfactory results in 93 out of 100 cases where put to a practical test.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike and in every particular different from anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is recommended. We urge you to try it at our entire risk. Certainly we could offer no better guarantee. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Sold in Los Angeles only at our stores—The Rexall Stores. WESTERN CANADA
Senator Dolliver, of Iowa, says
"The stream of colonists from the United States to Canada will continue."
Senator Dolliver recently paid a visit to Western Canada, and as the result of his observations declared that Canada offers the greatest opportunities for the homeseeker of any country in the world. Senator Dolliver's statement is but one of many that could be quoted from prominent men who have visited Canada and who are all pleased with what they saw.
Canada's fertile lands are still to be had free to the homeseeker, or at a very low price, within easy reach of railways, schools, churches, markets, etc. Canada's crops are unexcelled, and the prices realized are high.

Saturday Is Children's Day Here

FEBRUARY TRADE SALES

SATURDAY IS THE LOGICAL DAY FOR CHILDREN'S OUTFITTING

HAMBURGER'S ALWAYS OFFER THE RIGHT BARGAINS AT THE RIGHT TIME. You'll always find special attractions in all Children's Outfitting Departments here on Saturdays. This week especially, there is a complete line of Children's Undermuslins. You'll find it marked away below the regular prices (and our regular prices are the lowest on the coast). Then there are Boys' Suits and Girls' Dresses, that are wonderful values at the little prices we're asking. Saturday is always Children's day in Stockings and Shoes too. In fact, Saturday is the child at Hamburger's—and do it Saturday.
